ROBBER KILLED IN 2-HOUR BATTLE

Chicago Rifle Squad Trapped and Shot Train Bandit Who Stole $100,000

Robber Had Overpowered
Five Mail Clerks on Train —Officer Shot

CHICAGO, May 14.—A rifle squad of the Chicago police early today cornered and shot a train robber who a short time before had overpowered five mail clerks on an Illinois Central railroad train and stole currency estimated at $100,000. The money was recovered.

"Inside Information"

The robber boarded the train at Gilmart, about 50 miles south of Chicago, and worked his way forward to the mail car where he compelled one of the clerks to tie the hands and feet of the others. Then according to J. P. Walker, one of the clerks, he walked directly to the mail sack containing the currency marking: "This stuff is easy when you have the inside information."

After packing the money into a satchel, the robber sat down and for the next hour guarded the helpless clerks. The train arrived at the 63rd street station about 1
a. m., and the intruder got off without attracting attention. A few blocks away, however, two policemen accosted him. His reply was a shot which mortally wounded one of the officers.

Trapped By Officers

Dropping the bag of money the bandit fled into a nearby apartment house where he was trapped by policemen, who had arrived at the scene at the sound of the shooting. A rifle squad was summoned and after two hours of sniping by both sides the robber was killed.

Meanwhile Chief Clerk Elmer P. Harris in the mail coach had succeeded in loosening his bonds and pulled the cord, stopping the train not far from the station where the robber had left.
He notified the police only to learn that the robber already had been cornered.

The police believe the dead man to be Horace Walton of St. Joseph, Mo.

Agent Kicked, $2000 Taken

SPOKANE, Wash., May 14.—Nine thousand dollars in a single package of currency was obtained just before midnight by two holdup men, who struck and kicked the American Railway Express Co. agent at the Great Northern station here into insensibility, according to the agent, H. A. Potersson. He said the men were able to enter the money cage because of a defective lock on its door.

Approximately $5000 in sacked silver was left scattered about the floor of the room.

THIEVES LOOT 100
SUMMER HOMES

BOSTON, May 14.—Thirty thieves have contrived to force postponement of the opening set for the next few days of nearly 100 summer residences on the beaches near Boston. In scores of cottages at Hull and Nantasket, household articles have been stolen and damaged, and many of the houses will require refitting before they are ready for occupancy. In addition, householders in some cases have reported their summer's supply of alcoholic beverages missing. In homes where no liquor was found the thieves left evidence of their displeasure by destroying furniture and clothing.

DIRECT SENTENCES FOR RECKLESS DRIVERS

Fulfilling his promise that defendants charged with violation of auto laws, especially reckless driving, would be severely dealt with, Judge Enright served one direct sentence in police court this morning upon a man who pleaded guilty to drunkenness and operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor.

Wilfred J. Pigeon, who pleaded guilty to such a charge, through his counsel, was sentenced to 20 days in the house of correction and fined $10 for the separate charge of drunkenness. An appeal was entered and the defendant was ordered under the sum of $300 for his appearance in superior court on the first Monday in June.

Other Offenders

Joseph Corbin and Hugo Smith, both charged with failure to give the necessary signal from their automobiles when they were approaching Smith's on Westford on May 3, were let down with 15 days as first offenders.

A woman, owner of a horse and buggy, was brought before the court on the charge of leaving her carriage in Prescott street over the time allowed by the traffic rules. Upon statement of her unintentional offense and ignorance of the rules in that respect she was released.

The charge against Etienne Manni complaining that he used an auto without authority was dismissed this morning on request by the counsel for the complainant that civil satisfaction had been made and that it was satisfactory.

HELD IN THEFT OF MIL-LIONS IN BONDS

CLEVELAND, May 14.—Cleveland detectives today arrested a man they claim is wanted in New York, in connection with the theft of millions of dollars' worth of securities. They refused to divulge his name, but admitted they were holding him in connection with the Arnstein case. It is believed the man knows the whereabouts of two leaders in the bond theft plot.

AUTO ACCIDENT CASE
GOES TO THE JURY

In the superior court this morning Judge Fosdick completed his charge to the jury in the case of Edwin L.
Fletcher, who is suing the Boston & Maine railroad for $31,000 damages for alleged negligence in having caused the death of two relatives in a crossing accident at Littleton.

The judge called the attention of the jury to the allegations of negligence in the declaration of the plaintiff and of the common law and statutory law bearing thereon.

He said that if it was found that the crossing was not properly protected the jury would base its finding solely with regard to the crossing and without regard to the train.

The train's speed, the judge continued, must be judged by the circumstances that existed. The people have the right to rapid transit and under certain circumstances the road would have the right to run its trains at the rate of 60 miles an hour. There is no evidence that the train ran faster than this.

The judge read to the jury the statute regarding the operation of automobiles on highways and forbidding a speed of more than 20 miles an hour outside of thickly settled sections.

Requests for rulings from counsel for the plaintiff were read and the case was given to the jury for consideration with final instructions that if damages were awarded the sums must be the same in the case of both persons killed in the accident.

WHOOPIING COUGH CASES
SHOULD BE REPORTED

A rapidly increasing number of deaths during the past month and a half among children, caused by diseases in which whooping cough was the original factor, has caused Agent Francis J. O'Hare to issue a warning to all Lowell parents and others having children under their care to report to the board of health as soon as possible any case of whooping cough which may come to their attention.

Parents are compelled by law to report such cases. Even though a doctor is not called, the duty of reporting whooping cough, no matter how slight the case may appear at first sight, devolves upon the parent. If a doctor is called, he reports the case.

So far this month there have been 11 cases of whooping cough and last month there were 20.

Within the past few days two or three deaths were caused by whooping cough or associated diseases but the report of actual death was the first notice the health authorities received of the cases in question.

Agent O'Hare said that yesterday a mother brought a child into the dispensary at city hall to be vaccinated.
It was clearly evident that the child was suffering from whooping cough and should have been kept at home. Danger of contagion by other children was made available. No child suffering from whooping cough should be allowed to mingle with other children.

The family physician should be called and his advice followed. There are many people, Agent O'Hare says, who look upon whooping cough as a trivial child's disease but its danger lies in the fact that it is liable to develop into pneumonia.

Above all, the health authorities should be notified at once when a case develops.

"PAINTING UP" AT CITY HALL AND BASTILE

Thorough renovations of all the offices at city hall and in the police station in Market street are being made by employees of the public property department under George E. Marchand.

More than half the offices at city hall have already been repainted and repairs wherever necessary and at the police station there remain only the court room and the guard room to be renovated.

In working at the police station building, employees of the department discovered the fact that of all the offices under the jurisdiction of the city, there is but one in which there is wall paper. That is the little office between the superintendent's and deputy's offices, used by Supt. Welch's stenographer. This room has been repapered in artistic design and has the distinction of being unique in this respect among all the city's office rooms.

The department's employees have recently completed the laying of a center floor in the Gorham street firehouse and as soon as the summer vacation begins the Yarnum, Edison, Lincoln and Green schools will be gone over from the top to bottom.

FIERCE BATTLE
STILL GOING ON

Rebel Attacks Against Carranza Near San Marcos Successful at Some Points

Reinforcements Rushed up—French and British Warships Off Vera Cruz

VERA CRUZ, May 14 (By the Associated Press).—Rebel attacks against the position held by President Carranza near San Marcos, state of Puebla, have been successful at some points, but the struggle is still going on. Two more trains remaining in possession of the president have been taken, according to advices. A detachment of his men is attempting to cut its way out toward the north, and it is expected the main body of his troops will make an effort to follow.

In the meantime, new rebel reinforcements are being rushed to the scene of the struggle, which extends over a front of approximately three miles.

It is said the government feels itself confronted with two alternatives, acceptance of the implied challenge of civil war in Ireland, or acquiescence in the establishment of an Irish republic, as a result of widespread disorders in the island, culminating yesterday in attacks on barracks at 50 places in Ireland.

Some newspapers infer from statements made by Lord Birkenhead, lord high chancellor, that the government has decided to send more troops to Ireland, as he indicated that police officers in the future would be accompanied everywhere by armed soldiers.

"We have today taken special and wholly exceptional steps," he said, "so that not one of these men in their heroic work will be left unprotected by members of the armed forces of the crown."

He did not directly indicate, however, that the troops now in Ireland were insufficient for this purpose.

W. A. Body, British vice consul for this city, is with Carranza. Efforts are being made by British and American authorities here to reach him.
They have arranged, through Naval Commander Hiram Toledo of the Mexican fleet here, that a naval lieutenant go on a special train to San Marcos, where he will make an effort to get in touch with Carranza's officers and bring out Mr. Body.

British and French warships made their appearance here today for the revolution, the French cruiser Descaries and the British cruiser Glasgow arriving. The number of American warships at anchor in the harbor was increased to four by the arrival of the protected cruiser Dolphin from Tampico.

CARRANZA SHOT AT LIBERTY

EL PASO, Tex., May 14.—Definite announcement by General Obregon that President Carranza still was at Liberty but was being closely pursued by revolutionary forces surrounding him at Rinconada, Puebla, was the outstanding subject of interest in revolutionary circles today.

According to a message received direct from Obregon by Roberto A.
Penqueira, revolutionary financial agent, Carranza will be given an opportunity to leave the country in safety.

require sugar in their preparation un-

Britain to Establish Military Posts in Ireland---Soldiers As Body Guard For PoliceSIMS' CHARGE
FULLY REFUTED

Own Testimony Proved Accusation "Fallacious and Baseless," Says Daniels

Presents Statistics Showing Sims' Estimate of Prolongation of War False

WASHINGTON, May 14.—White House officials said today that President Wilson's war time address to the Atlantic fleet and message to Rear Admiral Sims were laid before the senate naval investigating committee by Secretary Daniels with the full consent and approval of the president.

The British admiral was criticised in both of the documents and reports published here said that because of this the president might reprimand the secretary for making them.

Rear Admiral Sims' "fallacious and baseless" charge that the navy department delays prolonged the war four months unnecessarily, was "practically the only charge of unfavorable results from the many alleged sins of omission and commission," the officer had ascribed to the department. Secretary Daniels today told the senate naval investigating committee. It was fully refuted, he added, by the admiral's own testimony.

"The charge of the prolongation of the war was a definite and serious one," said the secretary. "It was made with reckless disregard of the facts and the reasoning and statistics adduced in its support are those which one might expect to find in the fantastic tales of a Baron Munchausen."

Admiral Sims based his estimate of an unnecessary loss of 500,000 lives on an average loss for the allies of 2000 men a day, Mr. Daniels said.

"The loss of 3000 men a day for four months," he added, "falls short of half a million, but of course, half a million sounds more impressive than the
at by correct arithmetic."

The admiral based the charge on the assumption that had there been a million American soldiers in France by March, 1918, the war would have ended four months sooner, Mr. Daniels said, and completed the reasoning by assuming the tonnage losses of 1917 prevented carrying that number of troops overseas by that date and that failure of the American navy to cooperate heartily in the first four months of the war resulted in the heavy tonnage losses.

RUMANIA RULERS DELAY
VISIT TO U. S.

BUCHAREST, May 13. (By Associated Press).—King Ferdinand and Queen Marie of Rumania have decided to postpone their visit to the United States until next spring. Problems facing this country were so numerous and serious, the king said today, that he was unable to leave the country at the present time.

Queen Marie remarked to the correspondent that the American people "would have no time to receive a queen while busy selecting a president."

"I am afraid," she continued, "I should be in the way if I went to your country now, in the midst of a national political campaign. As practical people, you must be more interested in presidents than in queens."

REGULATE SUGAR SALES

Local Fair Price Committee to Organize Drive Against "Combination Sales"

Plans for an organized campaign against local storekeepers who have been compelling customers who wish to buy sugar to buy a number of other articles in order to get the former commodity will be outlined at a meeting of Lowell's fair price committee to be held next Monday afternoon in the mayor's reception room at city hall.

At the call of Mayor Perry D.
Thompson, who believes the situation has reached a stage locally where something should be done to curb the so-called "combination sales" here, resulting from the scarcity of sugar, the members of the fair price committee will assemble to get the ideas of its various members, the mayor and others relative to the proper mode of procedure.

A law has recently been passed making such "combination sales" illegal and penalties are provided for those found guilty. Warren P. Riordan, secretary of weights and measures and a member of the fair price committee, has been active in keeping an eye on dealers suspected of such sales but he has had little or no authority to make actual prosecutions.

However, in a letter addressed today to Herbert J. Boynton, United States district attorney for this district, Mr.
Riordan, in his office as secretary of the fair price committee, asks that the committee be given authority to make full and complete investigation of all complaints relative to sugar sales. His letter follows:

Hon. Thomas J. Boynton,
Boston, Mass.
Dear Sir:—As secretary of the Lowell Fair Price committee, I am writing you for information regarding the enforcement of the margin of profit to be allowed on sales of sugar, one cent a pound for wholesale and two cents a pound at retail.

In this city at the present time prices range from 24 cents to 33 cents per pound.

This committee desires to co-operate with you in the above regulations, but feels it has not the power to do so.
In short, give us authority to make full and complete investigation of all complaints, and we, in turn, promise you results.

Sincerely,
WARREN P. RIORDAN,
Secretary Lowell Fair Price Com.

CARDINAL O'CONNELL AT CANONIZATION SERVICE

ROME, May 13.—Solemn ceremonies for the canonization of Gabriele Possenti and Marie Alacoque were held in St. Peter's today. Pope Benedict was carried in the chair of state to the cathedral, surrounded by a retinue of ecclesiastical officials of the civil and military courts of the nation, members of the Sacred College, archbishops, bishops, Roman nobility and general officers of religious orders. Swiss guards preceded the procession as it went from the vatican to the scene of the ceremonies.

When the procession entered the cathedral, the choir sang "Ave Maria Stella." The Basilica was crowded with guests. Throngs of French pilgrims greeted the pontiff with cheers, waving handkerchiefs and holding up religious objects for the apostolic blessing, which the pope imparted with his upraised hand.

Pope Benedict was seated in a throne erected in theapse behind the high altar and preceded the canonization ceremonies by intoning a hymn. After he had pronounced the formula for canonization and inscribed the names of the new saints in the sacred roll, he intoned a Te Deum while the bells announced the event. Later he celebrated mass and then, with the same procession, returned to his apartments in the vatican.

Cardinal O'Connell of Boston, was present for the first time as a cardinal at a ceremony for canonization.
He received many greetings from his colleagues, who expressed satisfaction that a representative from America was present.

WOULD JOIN LEAGUE

Applications by Four of the Smallest Countries in World Create Interest

NEW YORK, May 14.—Applications by four of the smallest countries in the world—Iceland, the Republic of Georgia, San Marino and Luxembourg—for admission to the League of Nations, which are to come before the council of the League when it convenes shortly in Rome, Italy, have awakened interest in these lands and peoples.

Iceland, which until 1918 belonged to Denmark, has a population of approximately 100,000 and an area of 35,000 square miles. It was discovered by Norsemen in the 10th century and continued as a republic until 1264, when it united with Norway. In 1814 it was taken by Denmark, in whose hands it remained until two years ago, when in full agreement with the neighboring Danes as Gurl. The mother country, under a principle of self-determination Iceland proclaimed its independence. King Christian of Denmark, honored his former colony by sending a warship to salute the Icelandic national flag.

The Danish government in 1913 forbade the manufacture or sale of Icelandic and the parliament of Iceland subsequently enacted a prohibition law, making the 19 systems of parishes in the country's three arms or provinces forever "dry." Icelandic women have long had the right to vote.

Reykjavik and Akureyri, the principal villages of Iceland, are on the coast which is a belt of rich pasture land. The interior is a vast plateau 2000 or more feet above sea level composed largely of sand and lava desert and practically destitute of grass or trees excepting a few hardy heathers. There are no roads. For centuries Iceland was the centre of volcanic eruptions, the lava fields covering an area of 4500 square miles.

Georgia, formerly ancient Iberia, a part of Russian Trans-Caucasia, is populated by a people who call themselves Kartli and who are known by the name of Persians as Gurl. The seats of government are Tiflis and Gurl. In the third century they constituted a mighty state which lasted until 1421 when it was divided into three parts. In 1800 Georgia was incorporated in the Russian empire.

The population of Georgia at the time she declared her independence of Russia, on May 26, 1918, was about 3,000,000. Eighty per cent of the Georgians are farmers. On March 17 last the independence of Georgia was recognized by Italy. Under the Turkish peace treaty Batumi is to become a free port.

San Marino or Sanmarino, is not only one of the smallest but one of the oldest republics in Europe. It is enclosed by three Italian provinces and consists of a craggy mountain 2420 feet high on which is the town and some circumjacent terraces with four or five villages. The population prior to the war was about 5000. San Marino furnished an army to the allies. The chief industry is agriculture, including the raising of cattle. The legislature of the republic is composed of a senate of 60 members elected for life, equally from the ranks of peasants, citizens and nobles. Two presidents are chosen by the senate every six months.

Luxembourg, which lies between Rhennish Prussia, Belgium and Alsace-Lorraine, and which was occupied by the Germans during the war, was made a grand duchy in 1811 by the king of the Netherlands. In 1867 it was declared neutral territory by the treaty of London. It has belonged, however, since 1815 and until the signing of the Versailles treaty to the Zollverein or German Customs Union. The population of Luxembourg before the war was approximately 290,000 living in an area of about 1000 square miles. Walloon French is spoken in a few villages, but the language of the people is chiefly a German dialect.

After the armistice in the world war, the Germans evacuated Luxembourg, a revolution occurred, but was halted by the allies. The American troops passed through the country and were well received. The Grand Duchess Marie whose abdication had been demanded by a mob, fled from the country and a republic was proclaimed. This new government, however, existed only a few hours. The parliament called for a plebiscite to decide the future form of government and the people voted for a restoration of the grand duchy, electing as grand duchess, the Princess Charlotte, sister of Marie.

PLAN FOR SEPARATE PEACE IS REJECTED

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The senate agreed yesterday to vote at 4 o'clock next Saturday on the republican peace resolution.

The arrangement followed an important revision of the measure by the republican leadership in striking out the clause requesting the president to negotiate a separate peace treaty with Germany in order to "establish friendly relations and commercial intercourse."

The resolution as left for the vote Saturday declares the status of war with Germany and Austria ended and in effect repeals the president's war-time powers.

This change was made by unanimous consent after negotiation between Senator Lodge, republican leader, and Senator Underwood of Alabama, the democratic leader.

Mr. Lodge's motion to strike out was made at the conclusion of an address by Senator Kellogg, republican, Minnesota, supporting the resolution, and it came as a surprise. Senator Lodge did not explain the reasons for his motion.

Adoption of the resolution is conceded by democratic opponents, with a veto by President Wilson regarded as equally certain. House republican leaders said the senate resolution probably will be sent to conference. Some leaders were said to favor immediate acceptance of the Knox resolution by the house.

King Says Party Will Not Obey
Addresses were made yesterday in support of the resolution by Senators Kellogg of Minnesota and Lenroot of Wisconsin, republicans. Both charged President Wilson with delaying peace by his position on the treaty and predicted republican success in November if the treaty issues were carried into the campaign as he had urged. Senator King, democrat, of Utah, came out in opposition to the president's position on the treaty issue. Mr. King who voted for some of the Lodge reservations, expressed belief that the San Francisco platform would not follow the president's wishes.

A status of peace must be obtained in some other way if it cannot be secured by ratification of the treaty, said Senator Kellogg. "Not only is it necessary to the industries of this country and its trade, but it is important that the war powers of the president should cease. The time has come when something must be done."

"The president has iterated and reiterated his determination that the senate abrogate its functions and accept the treaty exactly as it was presented to this country through foreign powers. All lovers of American liberty, American independence, believers in the destiny of this nation, can appeal to the tribunal of public opinion with absolute confidence."

Congress Has Power, Lenroot's View

Senator Lenroot, in the course of his speech said: "The resolution establishes a peace status so far as the United States is concerned, and without question, I think, congress has the power to declare."

Senator Clegg, republican, Rhode Island, agreed with Senator Lenroot that Germany would have to enact a similar peace resolution to effect a full legal peace.

Senator Lenroot wanted to know if Senator Hitchcock and other opponents of the resolution desired "to take the position that the president can ignore the senate and treat with contempt the sentiment of the people" and keep this country at war against the will of congress, against the will of the overwhelming majority of the people."

"If they do, they plead for an autocracy on the part of the president," said he.

"If the San Francisco convention follows the will of the president," said Mr. Lenroot, "the issue will be the acceptance of this treaty as negotiated by the president and with all its surrender of the liberties and independence of the country."

Senator King replied that Senator Lenroot was not a "good prophet" if he thinks the San Francisco convention will make any such declaration.

Dry Law Would Have Been Defeated in Secret Session

RICHMOND, Va., May 14—Vice President Marshall, speaking yesterday before the Virginia Bar association, said that if national prohibition had been considered by the senate in secret session not 70 votes would have been cast for it.

Asserting that there should be less tinkering with the constitution, the vice president expressed the opinion that constitutional amendments had not contributed "to the peace and good order of society and had brought a very large measure of evil to the republic."

Mr. Marshall predicted that in the future the country would be faced by the question of government of law or of men, declaring that only two men—Samuel Gompers and Judge Elbert H. Gary—now are consulted on public issues.

By a rising vote the association favored the nomination of Mr. Marshall for the presidency.

Wilson Vetoes Supply Bill— Sees Attempt to Censor Government Printing

WASHINGTON, May 14.—President Wilson vetoed today the bill to reduce the printing and stationery expenses of the executive branch of the government, showing an increasing tendency to interfere unduly with the exercise of executive functions.

Taking as a vehicle for his administration a sharply phrased veto of the annual legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, the president declared that one of the riders of the big supply measure would muzzle executive officials with a "censorship" regulated by the congressional joint committee on printing.

Immediately the president's position both on the general principle involved and the specific case cited was challenged by republican leaders of the Senate and House. Senator Smoot, republican, Utah, chairman of the joint committee, declared in a formal statement that the president apparently has been "deliberately misinformed" about the appropriation bill, and Representative Good, republican, Iowa, chairman of the house appropriations committee, told the house that "there must be some mistake somewhere."

Whether re-passage of the bill unchanged will be attempted or whether the feature objected to by the president will be eliminated had not been decided tonight. The measure carries $161,000,000 for salaries and miscellaneous expenses of many government departments, and it must be approved in some form by the end of June or these funds will lapse.

The president also cited several other measures enacted or proposed in the present congress to support his charge that there had been "an invasion of the province of the executive, calculated to result in unwarranted interference in the processes of good government." He said that some of these measures he had permitted to become law as temporary experiments, but that he felt the time had come to call a halt before "destructive" precedents had been established.

The Case of Veto
The section of the appropriation bill which led to the veto would prohibit the printing or mimeographing of any government publication except by authority of the joint committee. Such a provision, said the president, would give to the committee "power to determine what information shall be given to the people of the country by the executive departments."

"Without raising any constitutional question," the president said, "I think that this section would give the congressional joint committee on printing power to exercise censorship over the executive departments in an encroachment on the functions of the executive and incompatible with good government."

"I am in entire sympathy with the efforts of the congress and the departments to effect economies in printing and in the use of paper and supplies, but I do not believe that such a provision as this should become law."

"The congress has the power and the right to grant or deny an appropriation or to enact or refuse to enact a law; but once an appropriation is made

"I regard the provision in question as an invasion of the province of the executive and calculated to result in unwarranted interference in the processes of good government, producing confusion, irritation and distrust. The proposal assumes significance as an outstanding illustration of a growing tendency which I am sure is not fully realized by the congress itself and certainly not by the people of the country."

Both Senator Smoot and Representative Good, however, asserted that the committee already had been given control over government publications by an act which the president signed on March 1, 1919, and that the purpose of the present provision was to extend that power so meritorious periodicals could be continued.

"There are now 155 government publications printed without authority of law," said Mr. Good. "They exist only by sufferance of the joint committee. The bill which the president approved in March, 1919, was more sweeping than the one now vetoed."

A row between the joint committee and Roger W. Babson, formerly connected with the committee on public information, was blamed for the president's action by Senator Smoot, who said in his statement that Babson apparently had "made use of the president or his advisors in carrying out his threat and determination to end the censorship, which, without the least foundation, he has charged against the joint committee."

"The president or his advisors have been most gravely misled in this veto," Senator Smoot continued, adding that under the authority granted in 1919 the printing committee had determined that departmental publications were costing approximately $1,500,000 a year and that by voluntary act of the departments or regulation of the committee $1,200,000 of this had been cut off. Publications remaining included "many of the most important" issued by the government, he said, and the provision which prompted the president to use his veto power was designed to empower the committee "to permanently authorize these periodicals," and "not for the purpose of censoring or suppressing them."

"I was led to believe," he said, "that the section was favored by those in the departments who are really posted about the situation. In fact, not a single word in opposition to it was expressed prior to the president's veto except by Mr. Babson himself."

"If any meritorious publications are suppressed, the responsibility for that will rest on the president for his veto of the bill, which would have made their continuance possible."

MAY FORM LEGION AUXILIARY HERE

Members of the 101st Ladies' auxiliary were addressed at the regular meeting last evening at the American Legion headquarters at the Community club by Arthur P. Moran, vice commander of the local post of the legion on the possibility of forming a legion auxiliary in Lowell. The matter was discussed at length but no definite action taken.

Mrs. William H. Merritt, the president, was in the chair at the meeting. The resignation of Mrs. George Marshall, chairman of the comforts committee, was received, and Mrs. Peter Flaanagan elected her successor. Mrs. Marshall had held the office since the inception of the auxiliary and had given valuable service. She was tendered a rising vote of thanks by the members.

The committee in charge of the minstrel show and dance to be held in Talbot hall, North Billerica, on the evening of June 4 reported that the Broedway Social and Athletic club had offered its minstrel troupe for the affair. Mrs. John Standley was elected chairman of the refreshments committee.

It was voted to accept the invitation of the American Legion to hear Col. Edward L. Logan at the state armory in Westford street next Wednesday evening.

Following the business meeting a program of entertainment was enjoyed. It included songs by Miss Bella Walsh, Miss McCaffrey, Miss Catherine Connors and Miss Ruth Gilmore; a recitation by Miss Margaret Tobin, and a Highland fling by Miss Alice Underwood. Miss Margaret Flaanagan was accompanist of the evening. Luncheon was served before the meeting adjourned.

VOTE TO SUPPORT DEBS

Clothing Workers Also Call for Recognition of Soviet Russia

BOSTON, May 14.—A resolution calling for the full and complete recognition of the soviet republic of Russia was passed unanimously yesterday, and a copy ordered sent to President Wilson, by the delegates in session at the fourth biennial convention of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America at Ford hall. Prolonged cheering greeted the reading of the resolution and it was passed without debate.

Another resolution passed that brought forth as great enthusiasm was one stating that the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, consisting of more than 500,000 men and women, had endorsed the candidacy of Eugene V. Debs for president of the United States and voted full financial as well as moral support.

A resolution that was voted down called for the giving of work on clothing that the A.C.W.A. could not handle to independent unions rather than to unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. A 40-hour week resolution was not recommended by the committee and failed of adoption.

A year ago yesterday the clothing manufacturers in Chicago signed a contract with the A.C.W.A., which is now 100 per cent organized in that city and to observe the anniversary the Chicago delegation sent to the stage a tremendous bouquet of several dozen long stemmed American Beauty roses. Incidentally they presented a bouquet and gold mounted fountain pen to Assistant Secretary Jacob Potofsky. Previously President Millman and General Secretary Schlossberg had been given pens and bouquets.

Miss Elizabeth Gurley Flynn got a tremendous ovation when she spoke in favor of the Workers' Defense league, organized, she said, on Armistice day, to get out of jail persons put in under war-time legislation.

The speaker said: "The espionage act did not go off the books on Armistice day as we expected, but others came along that made the espionage act look like the Declaration of Independence."

"Then came a crying need for ball and relief for thousands of foreign-born residents threatened with deportation. It mattered not if they were socialists, I.W.W.'s or communists. Any day it may take in members of unions. The attorney general sees red. . . . He even sees Gompers as a red (much tilting and laughter), and in every May 1 picnic, he sees an incipient revolution. It remains for labor to consolidate its forces against such hysteria."

Dr. James Peter Warshaw, president and founder of the Co-operative League of America, called upon the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America to join in the movement to educate the workers so that from operating in a co-operative way they may in time take over the manufacturing. He held the control of industry in fact passing into the hands of the workers.

Unemployment Fund
BOSTON, May 14.—A resolution requesting their employees to set aside an unemployment fund out of their profits for the benefit of employees who are idle during slack periods in the industry, was adopted by the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, who closed their fourth biennial convention here today. The organization hopes to create a $10,000,000 fund in this manner. A resolution advocating a five-day week of 40 hours was defeated.

Roxbury Shoe Workers Call Meeting to "Commemorate Anniversary of Strike"

BOSTON, May 14.—Shoe workers from the Thomas G. Plant Co. factory in the Roxbury district, who have been on strike for one year, today called a mass meeting to "commemorate the anniversary of the strike." About 3700 workers walked out on May 14, 1919, in protest against the discharge of an employee, and since have been picketing the plant.

TEDDY BEAR "FULL" Loaded With Whiskey— Seized by Officers

NEW YORK, May 14.—A teddy bear whose mouth gave forth a strong odor aroused the curiosity yesterday of inquisitive customs inspectors searching the crew's quarters on the steamship Moro Castle at her pier in Brooklyn. They ripped off the bear's head and said they found a big canister of whiskey where sawdust and stuffing should have been.

Three hot water bottles in the room of a strong and husky chef also excited suspicion. Their contents were poured into a pan and the inspectors took a whiff and a taste and unanimously decided it was whiskey.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

THE TWINS FOLLOW BEN BUNNY

After Nancy and Nick left Scramble put on her specks, and when she saw squirrel sitting safely away up in the top of the alder tree out of reach of Fleet the Fox, they hurried to Ben Bunny's house to see how he felt about exchanging his ears for Scramble's bushy tail.

For some reason he had been delayed and was just reaching home as the

put on her specks, and when she saw who it was, her own husband, Ben, without his beautiful ears and with a regular scrubbing brush of a tail. Instead, she couldn't speak for amazement.

"I traded with Scramble," he explained, "for several reasons. First of all I can get away from the fox easier twins arrived. So they hid behind a near-by bush because they didn't wish to be seen. They had promised Hubba-dub, the fairyman, to find out if Ben was really happy about losing his ears, and this was the best way they could think of to do it.

Mrs. Blossom Bunny was washing the dishes when he arrived and when he rushed into the kitchen swishing Scramble's long tail for very joy at getting home again. Mrs. Bunny had such a turn that she dropped her best salad bowl and smashed it to smithereens.

"Good land alive!" she cried, dropping into a chair, "but you did scare me, Scramble Squirrel. You don't generally come in without knocking, and I thought you were a burglar at first."

Ben Bunny laughed at that. "Take a good look at me, Blossom," he suggested. "And see who you think I am."

Gives Credit Through the Land

Backache, lame and stiff muscles and rheumatic pains are often symptoms of deranged kidneys. "I had weak bladder, bad kidneys and liver," writes Willie Carter, Lakar, Pa. "I could not sleep well and my back pained me awfully. I had a dizzy feeling in the morning. Since taking Foley Kidney Pills I have been relieved of all such ailments." They rid the system of the poisonous acids that cause aches and pains.

DEAF STUDENTS "HEAR" WHISPERED DRAMA

NEW YORK—Students of the New York Deaf and Dumb Institute saw Barbara Milton and William Harrigan in "The Acquittal," and understood the entire play. This has convinced Barbara that lip reading is an exact science. A number of lines in the play are whispered and to be sure that these lines "went over," a full rehearsal was held for deaf and dumb students.

CHARLES W. MORSE "IN DUTCH" AGAIN

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Charles W. Morse is "in dutch" again. With W. G. Mitchell, steamship captain, he has been indicted by the federal grand jury, on a charge of conspiring to sell the steamship John D. McCullough to a foreign government while the United States was at war. Morse pleaded not guilty. Conviction for the offense in five years in Atlanta pen or a $5000 fine, or both. When the same case was in federal prison for treacherous financial transactions, some years ago, it was announced he had but a short time to live, and President Taft pardoned him.

POLYGAMY DYING OUT IN PERSIA

TEHERAN, May 14.—Polygamy is dying out in Persia—another result of greatly advanced living costs, together with jealousy, which is becoming more marked a characteristic of Persian wives with the permeation of Western ideas and standards in the east.

With this change has come another—the custom of having family names. A year ago the Persian government made it compulsory for people to adopt a surname. Before only peasants had any common name in the family, the upper classes possessing only one. A man, for instance, might be called Ghaffar simply, and his son Hassan, with nothing to show their relationship.

In some parts of Scotland the Scotchmen frequently call themselves by their wives' surnames. Thus, James Smith marries Mary Green. He calls himself, even in business affairs, a year ago the Persian government "James Smith Green."

Tired, Weak, Dizzy Women with Headache, Pains—here and there—

Should find relief from their sufferings by taking the woman's Temperance Tonic and Nerve, which has helped so many women—some of them right in your neighborhood.

When the household cares and the worries of everyday life have dragged you down, made you unhappy, and there is nothing in life but headache, backache and worry, turn to the right prescription, one gotten up by Doctor Pierce fifty years ago, which has helped many thousands of women in this country. It is called Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and can be had in every drug store in the land, in tablet or liquid form.

A woman suffering from nervous prostration, excitability, or dizziness, derangement, or displacement of the special organs, will find health regained after using Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Here is what one says:

AUBURN, N. Y.—"A couple of years ago I suffered a severe nervous breakdown. I could not sleep and became so weak and shaky that I could scarcely walk. I can't begin to tell how miserable I was. I was advised to take Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it completely restored me to health and cured me of my nervous condition. I can highly recommend 'Favorite Prescription' to women who suffer with nervousness of any sort."—MRS. CATHERINE WRIGHT, No. 122 Osborne Street.

SERGE

With absolute knowledge of the quality of this Blue Serge, knowing what I paid for it, knowing what I sold it to you a year ago, two years ago, yes, and four years hence, I would know I must have pleased you, even if constant demand and duplicate orders didn't prove it to my entire satisfaction. I want you to pass the word around among your friends, tell them exactly what you paid, tell them how the suit wore, tell them exactly how I pleased you.

MY OBJECT IS to interest them in the BLUE SERGE SUIT I am selling this season for $27.50. I bought last week, 18 pieces for this store 20 per cent. less than I paid for it three weeks ago—it is even a better blue, 1/2 oz. heavier in weight. This reduction sounds small but when you buy in large quantity it amounts to real money. I don't hesitate to say that not a man in Lowell who has done any shopping this season, even looking in windows, will guess the price to be $27.50 after he sees it made and on your back. I don't mind telling you that this serge was never intended for low priced suitings and it is no secret that there is no concern in Lowell or New England, which can sell it anywhere near as low.

I GUARANTEE to put every cent where it counts most—into the clothing itself, no costly plate glass or swell mahogany fixtures, no oriental rugs, no oil paintings, and no haughty floorwalkers. I carry no charge accounts and don't have to make up any credit losses. I've cut out expense to the bone—and save you $10 to $15.00.

All garments sold under this express stipulation—That the Customer Be Satisfied or No Sale. GUARANTEED BLUE SERGE, 12 oz. in weight, absolutely all wool, double warp yarn, and fast color. If it fades, I'll make you a new suit and you can keep the old one.

VALUE OF RECREATION

Two Out-of-Town Speakers Discuss Community Problems in Memorial Hall

Two foretelling speakers discussed the proper supervision of a city's recreational facilities before members of the chamber of commerce and the general public at an assembly in Memorial hall last night. Dr. A. E. Winship, the first speaker, was followed by S. Wales Dixon of Hartford, supervisor of recreation in that city.

Dr. Winship, widely known as an educational lecturer, spoke on "The Menace to America" and declared it was the huge army of unlooked-after boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 18 years.

In part, he spoke as follows:

"We are beginning to realize that there is an education which you don't get in the school room or out of books. We have got to realize it is not a book and school matter purely, but for the chamber of commerce and any other society interested in the welfare of its community.

"The menace to America is not anything that any man is doing. The United States army has recently started with an entirely new view of educating their men. They realize that it is as necessary to look after the recreation of a soldier as after the manual of arms. The war has taught us that morale is more important than the rifle. And that is where American boys had the advantage over the Germans.

"The menace to America today is in the unlooked-after boys and girls 12 to 18 years of age.

"There is just one state in the Union that makes its schools responsible for the boy and the girl up to the age of 18 years. There every boy and girl up to that age is registered just as in the army. Those boys, and it is with the boys we have mostly to deal, as girls up to that age give little difficulty, must be at work, on a specific vocation or in school 12 months out of the year. There is one state that dares rise up and say, 'We don't dare have our boys loafing at all.' And that is the fundamental.

"A record is made every month physically. It is known whether they take a bath, whether they belong to the Boy Scouts, the Epworth League or any other organization. And then for his civic relations—every child puts in a monthly report of what he is

Lowell Textile Faculty and Students Enjoy Their Annual "Up-Stream" Day

TEXTILE SCHOOL BOYS AT MARTIN LUTHER GROUNDS

"Upstream Day," one of the most anticipated occasions on the calendar of fun of students of the Lowell Textile school, had its 1920 realization at the Martin Luther grounds on the bank of the Merrimack in Tyngsboro yesterday and the 200 students and corps of instructors who were present spent one of the most enjoyable days of their career.

The affair was nothing more or less than a picnic and the students and faculty entered into it with the spirit of boyhood. There was a touch of chill in the air but this served only to lend a lot of "pep" to the occasion and there was hardly a minute without its quota of fun and action.

The day's program began when the picnicers assembled at the school in Moody street in the forenoon and boarded a number of special cars ready to take them to the grounds. Textile songs and yells, stimulated by the victory of the baseball nine on the campus the day before, rang out in the air as the party made its way Tyngsboro.

Immediately upon arrival at the grounds, the future mill men assembled on the diamond for a ball game between the freshmen and the sophomores, with the first year men winning, 10 to 3. The freshmen then took on the seniors and for five innings held them to a 1 to 1 tie. At this point interest shifted to a dinner prepared by the D. L. Page Co. and the diamond was immediately abandoned. The merrymakers did ample justice to the good things awaiting them and no one was hungry when the end of the meal came.

The afternoon's program brought more baseball and other sports. The seniors outclassed the instructors on the diamond and rivalry in the other contests was most keen. Supper was served at 5.30 and the return was made by electric in the early evening. The occasion was unanimously voted one of the most successful in Textile school annals.

18 there need be no worry after that. The boy or girl is safe."

S. Wales Dixon illustrated his address by stereopticon slides, showing principally the outdoor municipal dance pavillon Hartford maintains for its young people. Inasmuch as a similar idea is under consideration for Lowell the pictures were doubly interesting and instructive.

The dance pavillon was erected, he said, during the war, at a comparatively small figure. The argument was advanced against it that young people would not patronize such a strictly supervised place when there were so many other and loosely watched dance halls for their entertainment. But a member of the park commission declared that she herself would build the thing if the commission refused and doing. You haven't any suspicion of what that means.

"The community is the centre of America's future. There the chamber of commerce has the greatest responsibilities and the greatest opportunities. In the chamber of commerce nobody cares whether you are a Jew, a Catholic or a Protestant. But in the church you've got to hate somebody. To be a good Christian you must hate a Jew or a Mormon. But the chamber of commerce doesn't care what you are.

"The world is moving along chamber of commerce lines, simply because in the chamber of commerce you don't have to hate anybody. A community must play the game together. You can no more have a democracy of individuals than a road made out of sand. You can't have cloth, twine or rope done for children up to the age of unless you have fibre, the passion to cling together. And you can't have a community unless you have man fibre."

"Think of it—in most cities of this country the children spend 1000 hours in the school room a year and 4000 on the street, unsupervised. Nothing is done for them during those 4000 hours. But I hope to live to see the day when every city in the United States shall have made provision for the direction of those children's activities during all their waking hours. In and around Boston many robberies, murders and other crimes have been committed in very recent days. The offenders are not actually bad. What then? Almost every one of them is traceable to a community where in his youth he was never looked after. If the work of supervision is proper, you can't have cloth, twine or rope done for children up to the age of would then present it to the city. The commission was won over.

During the summer season this pavillon, which has a floor space 85 by 165 feet, was used on every fair evening but Sunday, and though no more than 2000 people were supposed to be accommodated there at one time, the floor had been used by as many as 2000 people in an evening. An admission charge of 10 cents was set for the entire evening and even at this figure the pavillon was shortly paid for and making money to be applied to other phases of recreational work.

In addition to the dancers, an average of more than 3000 people gathered in the evenings to listen to the orchestra furnishing the dance music, so that in all a total of 5000 people were entertained sensibly and most economically to themselves and the city.

WOOLEN SPINNERS

The Woollen Spinners' union held its regular meeting last evening with President Thomas Morris in the chair. Routine business was transacted and it was reported that the strike of spinners, which was started at the Faulkner mills in North Billerica some weeks ago, is still on. The strikers are endeavoring to obtain recognition of their union.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED

Tourists Will Be Disappointed if They Expect Before War Comforts

THE HAGUE, May 14.—The thousands of American tourists, who are expected to visit Europe this summer, will be disappointed if they look forward to all the comforts of the days before the war.

This verdict has been expressed to The Associated Press correspondent by many much-harassed Americans who, in overcrowded trains between stops at overcrowded hotels, have run the gauntlet of passport bureaus, frontier controls and police registration offices, institutions which still prevail in many countries, only in a slightly less degree than during the war.

Passports and passport visas are necessary everywhere. Even to make the five-hour trip from The Hague, Holland, to Brussels, Belgium requires days of preparation, and the days generally lengthen into weeks if one expresses the most extraordinary whim to make a round trip, or several round trips.

An American, for instance, having obtained in the United States a Dutch visa which permits him to land in Holland for a brief stay, desires to go to Brussels—just five hours away. On arrival in Holland he has had to register with the police, securing an identity card, permitting him to have a broad card, etc. (for bread is still rationed in many countries).

Desiring to go to Belgium, he must first go to his own legation or consulate, to have his American passport amended so as to be valid in Belgium. This done, after a solemn oath that it is necessary to go to Belgium, the would-be traveler visits the Belgian consulate or legation, finds a long waiting line of persons with a similar desire, finally is attended to, and speeds off to the police bureau to have his identity card stamped in order that he may leave the frontier. But he must surrender his bread card first—at still another bureau, which is probably closed for the day. Armed with a receipt from the bread card bureau, he returns to the police bureau gets his stamped identity card and probably finds the last train to Belgium for the day has gone.

Even when he gets aboard the train, which may be so overcrowded that even with a first-class ticket he may have to ride in a second or third-class compartment, his troubles are far from ended. There are waits and passport and customs examinations at both the Dutch and Belgian frontiers—one examination to get out of Holland and another to get into Belgium, waits in rooms like bull pens in which, if the train happens to be crowded, the scramble for a subway at a rush hour is play in comparison.

This condition, typical of travel between Holland and Belgium, is as nothing to the difficulties of getting from Holland into Germany.

Rapid progress is being made, particularly in Belgium, to restore railway traffic to normal, but the shortage of equipment due to war losses, or shortage of coal, due both to strikes and war, has reduced the number of trains operated to a figure far below that of before the war and all generally are overcrowded. As a rule, no reservation of seats, except on very long trips, are possible.

RUSSIA AND AMERICA
INTERDEPENDENT

That Russia is of immense importance to every American in all parts of the United States because of its great size, its production of flax, hides and minerals and its social unrest, was the theme of an important speech delivered by former Secretary of Commerce William C. Redfield before the San Francisco foreign trade convention.

"Russia," said Mr. Redfield, "presents to us a serious political problem. She lies, a vast mass of undeveloped resources, between two other powers that know well how to utilize their mighty strength. Japan on the one side and Germany on the other are not blind to either the dangers or the possibilities that the problem of Russia contains. They need no urging to take a vivid interest in her affairs. Before the war Germany held substantially one-half both of Russia's export and import trade. When Russia settles down to a quiet life, commerce with her is the line of least resistance for German industry. German houses know that market; they understand the people, the places and the language. Certainly Germany must turn to Russia. Whether she shall in time control the trade of the coming Russia is in no small part for us to answer. She certainly will do so unless we take active steps to do our part, to get our share. Can America contemplate calmly a new Germany rising powerful on the ruins of the old, substituting hegemony over Russia's resources through her scientific and technical industrial staffs for the Baltic to Persian Gulf control she failed to secure by war? We need not concern ourselves now over the question of political control; it is economic control we have to fear.

"On the other side of Russia lies Japan and the worst foe of the island empire is not so blind as to deny her Japanese fleet controls the eastern initiative. Her fishermen control the fisheries of Russia's Pacific coast. We have only to assume ordinary foresight on the part of the business men and financiers of Japan (who do not lack capacity) to tell us that they too will utilize to the full the opportunity Russia presents. Giving them credit for using it wisely, peacefully and well, we may nevertheless ask America what she thinks of a new Russia with Germany and Japan on either hand skillfully boring their way into control of those vast resources which Russia owns but cannot develop, and which promise to the powers that do develop them, the opportunity for the commercial empire of the world.

It and are ready when the hour strikes, reward, then we may so deal with her. If we have the vision to see in Russia's need of development our own great opportunity for service and for more fruitful life."

WORST R. R. TIUP SINCE WINTER OF 1917

WASHINGTON, May 14. (By the Associated Press.)—Congestion of principal railroad terminals, probably the worst since the hard winter of 1917, is beginning to be felt in business and commerce all over the country.

Appeals for relief pouring into Washington to the interstate commerce commission, the railroad administration and to congress picture the big railroad gateways choked with thousands of loaded freight cars unable to move because of shortage of men and motive power. Although the situation has been showing local effects for the last two weeks it now is being shown in its nation-wide aspects and the appeals for relief coming to Washington contain predictions that unless the jam is broken it will be reflected more than ever in decreased production, slowing down of industry and probably a tremendous labor turnover.

Latest reports compiled here by the committee on car service, American Railroad association, show 235,000 cars tied up or delayed in transit. Of this number, 85,000 are at junctions with no labor to transfer them. On April 15 the total number of cars tied up was 258,000. Much of this was attributed by railroad people to the recent strike.

There is pressing need today for

$2,411 cars to take care of the most urgent demands railroad men declared, although they say this shows a reduction of approximately 10,000 over April reports.

Reports from New England alone showed more than 20,000 freight cars tied up. It was said, with the utmost confusion prevailing, although latest advices indicated that 1100 cars were moved yesterday over the Boston & Albany railroad to the Albany gateway.

OWNS CUPBOARD LINCOLN BUILT

SPOKANE, Wash., May 14.—When Abe Lincoln was a boy he borrowed a book from his employer, Josiah Crawford. The book was damaged. To pay for the damage young Abe built Josiah a fine walnut corner cupboard. Mrs. Maude Jennings Cryderman, present owner of that cupboard, has refused $15,000 for it. She has loaned it to the Museum of History, Science and Art, Los Angeles, for exhibition.

RECEPTION AT THE ELIOT UNION CHURCH

Rev. William B. Tutill, from the Grace church in Framingham, was tendered an informal reception last evening by a large number of the parishioners of the Eliot Union Congregational church as the new pastor. Included also in the welcoming reception were Mrs. Tutill and their two daughters, Ruth and Helen.

The event was made even more enjoyable by its informality. After supper was served the new pastor and his family were greeted individually by everyone. In behalf of the King's Daughters, Mrs. Fred Gilmore presented a large and beautiful bouquet of roses to Mrs. Tutill.

Mrs. E. D. Holden, assisted by a corps of competent women of the church was in charge of the supper. The musical program for the evening was under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Spaulding and included vocal selections by Miss Gertrude Frisby and duets by Alfred and Richard Fletcher. Dr. Tutill gave a short humorous address at the close of the supper. The new pastor will make his home in Belmont street.

OVERALLETTE IS THE LATEST FAD

BY CORA MOORE.

New York's Fashion's Authority. NEW YORK, May 14.—Whether the overall movement appealed to your common-sense or you accepted it just as a passing fad not to be taken seriously, the Peggy Paige overalls must strike you as a word while suggestion. This is the first notice of its appearance and the artist has sketched this particular model in gingham on a pretty International film star.

Up the center of the skirt for a few inches are buttons and button-holes and when these are buttoned the costume takes on the comfort and convenience and somewhat the appearance of overalls, very charming overalls, at that. Unbuttoned, presto, it is a dress, and an alluring dress, too.

The gingham itself is effective and especially so as it is in combination with a plain cotton used in cuffs to the short sleeves, in butterfly sash, in collar and vest and as binding for the skirt hem and pocket hems.

BOARD OF SELECTMEN CHAIRMAN RESIGNS

Because of differences arising in the conduct of the town fire department, John T. Gale, chairman of the board of selectmen of Tewksbury tendered his resignation as a member of the board at a meeting held Wednesday evening. It is probable a special election will be held to fill the vacancy on the board, but the question now hinges as to whether or not Harry L. Shedd, another member of the board, who recently moved to Chelmsford, is still a legal resident of Tewksbury. If Mr. Shedd is declared a legal resident of Tewksbury there will be no occasion for a special election for a majority of the board of selectmen will remain in office.

In connection with his resignation Mr. Gale has issued the following statement:

"Personally our relations on the board of selectmen have been very pleasant, and I regret the necessity for withdrawing, but to me it has seemed that our duties required more business stability than has been shown. We have had too many resigned votes, for one thing.

"Some time ago we voted to drop two engineers, one because he desired to give up his position, and the other because we considered him not the right man for the work. Wednesday night the board of selectmen decided to nullify its vote. Thereupon I announced my resignation from the board, and I intend to put the same in a written notification to the town clerk."

Peterson's Ointment Best for Eczema

First Application Stops Itching of Eczema, Sall Rheum and Piles

Ends Chafing Itchiness in Five Minutes
"Live and let live is my motto," says Peterson of Buffalo, "Druggists all over America sell PETERSON'S OINTMENT for 35 cents a large box and I say to the druggist, if anyone buys my ointment for any of the diseases or ailments for which I recommend it and is not benefited, give him his money back."

"I've got a safe full of thankful letters testifying to the mighty healing power of Peterson's Ointment for old and running sores, eczema, salt rheum, hemorrhoids, sore nipples, broken breast, itching scalp, chafing and blind, itching and bleeding piles."

John Scott, 253 Virginia St., Buffalo, writes, "Peterson's Ointment is simply wonderful. It cured me of eczema and also piles, and it did it so quickly that I was astonished." Mail orders filled by Peterson Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

IF YOUR EARS RING WITH HEAD NOISES

If you have roaring, buzzing, noise in your ears, are getting hard of hearing and feel Catarrhal deafness, go to your druggist and get a ounce of Parmanin (double strength), and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 table-spoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dripping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal trouble of the ears, is hard of hearing or has head noises should give this prescription a trial.

WAR-TORN EUROPE

Former K. of C. Secretary Gives Interesting Address

John W. Daly, former Knights of Columbus overseas secretary, who recently returned to Lowell, gave an exceptionally interesting and comprehensive description of war-torn Europe before the members of Lowell council, Knights of Columbus, last evening, at their regular semi-monthly meeting.

Mr. Daly was one of the last Knights of Columbus secretaries to leave Europe and for that reason he had a chance to observe many of the more recent after-war developments in the various countries which were engaged in the conflict. In an interview in this newspaper shortly after his return, Mr. Daly described in detail many of the experiences which he pictured last evening, and the combination of an exceptionally retentive memory, the knack of observation and well chosen language served to make his address most interesting.

In discussing the work of the American doughboy, Mr. Daly said that he had talked with representative Germans and had learned that it was generally believed in Germany, before the United States entered the war, that the average American could not and would not fight and that his chief interest in life was making money. It was really admitted, however, after the entry of this country into the conflict, that such an impression had been wrong and that had it not been for this country, there might have been a different story at the signing of the armistice. His word picture of the American grave-yard in the Argonne forest, where more than 50,000 small white crosses mark the resting place of American soldiers, was most impressive, although not so much more graphic than his description of many other scenes witnessed in the war-torn battlefields.

Following his address, Mr. Daly presented the council a beautiful silken Knights of Columbus flag which he had secured at the services of veneration of the sacred relics at the Notre Dame cathedral in Paris on April 15, 1918. The flag had occupied a prominent place just above the altar at this service which some 1000 Americans attended.

High officials of France and dignitaries of the Catholic church were also in attendance and the service was most impressive. Mr. Daly was fortunate enough to secure the flag, inasmuch as he had been in charge of the K. of C. decorations at the cathedral. The flag was accepted on behalf of the council by Grand Knight George F. Briggan, who expressed the appreciation of the members, both for the banner and for the interesting talk given by Mr. Daly. A rising vote of thanks was given the speaker.

At the close of the meeting the members were addressed by Rev. Daniel J. Heffernan, their chaplain, who urged a large attendance at the annual communion services to be held at St. Peter's church next Sunday at the 7.30 o'clock mass. He asked that prayers be offered for the repose of the souls of the men who gave up their lives in the world war, and particularly for Rev. John R. de Vallee, the 26th Division K. of C. chaplain of New Bedford, who died Wednesday. It was voted to draw up a set of resolutions on his death and forward them to the state council.

Barber Going to Try to Shoot Niagara Falls in a Barrel

BRISTOL, Eng., May 14.—Charles George Stephens, a barber of this town, has announced that he is going to try to shoot Niagara falls in a barrel.

He has booked his passage from Liverpool to Quebec on June 11 and says he intends to make the attempt at the end of June or early in July.

Stephens is 56 years of age and stands 5 feet 9½ inches high. The barrel will be 4 feet 2 inches, and in the middle 32 inches. Inside the barrel Stephens plans to be secured by straps and the barrel is to be weighted at the bottom with a hundred pound weight to keep it upright in the water. Special breathing apparatus is also being fitted.

Among the many other feats which Stephens claims to have performed are the following:

Killing a lion in its den, shaving

customers in a lion's den, boxing in a lion's den and parachute descents from balloons; for which feats he boasts three ribbons, five gold medals and six silver medals.

To shoot Niagara falls in a barrel has been the ambition of numerous persons seeking notoriety and few have accomplished it. Mrs. Anna Edson Taylor, who went over the falls in a wooden barrel about 1904, was severely injured but recovered. "Bobby" Leach made the drop successfully and without injury in a steel barrel in 1911.

A paper chimney, 50 feet high, and fireproof, is a curiosity to be seen in Bristol.

GEN. EDWARDS' TRIBUTE TO FR. DEVALLES

BOSTON, May 14.—Maj. Gen. Clarence R. Edwards who commanded the Yankee division overseas, yesterday paid a tribute to the qualities of Rev. J. B. De Valles, the hero chaplain of the 104th regiment, who died at New Bedford Wednesday, half an hour after he had been told of the award to him of a Distinguished Service Cross. He already held the Croix de Guerre.

DEWEY'S FORMER HOME TO BE STORE

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Admiral Dewey's former home, gift of the American people for his victory at Manila bay, is being remodeled into a store, having given way, as have a number of other historical residences, to the spreading commercial section of the city. The Dewey house, at 1747 Rhode Island avenue, just off Connecticut avenue, was disposed of some years before Admiral Dewey's death.

The city's commercial expansion is gradually moving northward along Connecticut avenue and has passed beyond the British embassy which now finds itself amidst a group of fashionable shops. The historic old Corcoran mansion and the wisteria-clad John Silldell house, with their old fashioned gardens and high brick garden wall, facing Lafayette park opposite the White House at the beginning of Connecticut avenue, soon will be razed for a modern building for the chamber of commerce of the United States of America.

Among the historical mansions holding out against the march of commercial expansion are the famous Octagon house, residence of Colonel Taylor, which was occupied a year by President Madison after the White House was fired by the British in 1814.

DISCUSSES DANGER OF 'WINGED BATTALIONS OF DEATH'

LONDON, May 14.—Mobilization of the mosquito, the house-fly, the louse and various other disease-carrying pests for the dissemination of deadly germs in enemy territory is a possibility of "the next war," pictured by Prof. Maxwell Lefroy, a scientist.

"I foresee the mosquito from Brazil starting yellow fever in new lands, the house-fly, duly infested with cholera, dysentery or enteric and the typhus-laden louse doing their deadly work much more effectively than spies poisoning wells," said Prof. Lefroy in a recent address.

"This would be part of the work of a war office of entomologists—the working out of strategic plans for the distribution of these pests by airplane. It seems that the world is intent upon furnishing an airplane service for these pests, many of which are now held somewhat in check by natural enemies in their native climes. This will give them just the means of transit they have required. It will be a peace-time danger as well as one that could be used very offensively in war. The danger from these winged battalions of death is more serious than one dare estimate."

MARINE INSURANCE EQUAL TO NEEDS

That American marine insurance is fully equal to the peace time problems which it must face, was the statement of Haddon Chubb, prominent insurance under writer, before the seventh national foreign trade convention in San Francisco.

Referring to cargo insurance, Mr. Chubb said, "The situation is that any importer or exporter can, except possibly in a few unusual cases, obtain in this market full protection on terms and under conditions that compare favorably with those obtainable by any foreign competitor, using either American companies or foreign companies domiciled here and in all ways subject to our laws; the choice of the shippers being represented by the fact that this premium income is divided 44 per cent. American companies, 34 per cent. foreign companies. Not only does this market cover about 95 per cent. of the business placed by American importers and exporters, but the amount of business so placed bears a very satisfactory relation to the whole volume of import and export business of the United States.

"The situation as to hull insurance is different. A large portion of this business is placed in foreign markets with companies who pay no tax to this country and dare in no way subject to our state regulations."

In the opinion of Mr. Chubb, this situation will be corrected as soon as our government-owned shipping is placed in the hands of private owners, and as soon as state insurance regulations and taxation laws are made more uniform and less oppressive.

"I know of no other important commercial country where the merchants are willing to accept so freely and for a moderate consideration in the way of reduced rates insurance with underwriters having no domicile in the same country as the merchants, and where suits, if any, must be brought in other courts, and I believe that this policy in the end is not a wise policy; it is not a policy that has been followed by other nations important in world commerce."

"There are today American companies authorized to do marine insurance business, with combined capital and surplus of over $280,000,000. This capital is more than enough to do the entire business of the United States with perfect safety and without taking into account the very large amount representing the American capital and surplus of foreign companies held in this country for the benefit of American policy holders. Introduction of government capital and credit would accomplish nothing but interference with the free use of the capital already available. The amount of business which these companies assume is not limited by want of capital; it has been limited, particularly as regards hulls, by the want of a large volume of diversified business on rates that promise a chance of being remunerative. When these conditions come, and given that the merchant marine is sold to private owners, the capacity of the market will be sufficient for every requirement."

THE BATTLES HOME FOR AGED MEN

The Battles home for aged men opened its new quarters in the old Winter house at the corner of Rolfe street and Broadway, yesterday afternoon with a reception to the public. More than 250 persons attended. The affair was under the direction of Harry Dunlap, of the board of trustees. Assisted by the matron, Mrs. George Parnham and other officials of the institution.

The home is now located in one of the finest old residences in the city, with an abundance of green lawns around it and a very attractive outlook over the Merrimack river. The new home has been partly prepared for occupancy by donations of various organizations, churches and individuals. Among the latter is Mrs. William Hinckley, who gave the complete equipment for one of the sleeping rooms, as a memorial to her father.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

There's a program of exceptional merit on tap at the Merrimack Square theatre for today and tomorrow, and Lowell theatregoers are presented an opportunity of seeing two of the most capable stars in their respective lines of all filmdom in new productions. Owen Moore, in "Sooner or Later," one of his best comedy plays, is the leading feature, and Ruth Clifford in "The Amazing Woman," an out of the ordinary story of a woman's sacrifice, is another headliner. A comedy, "The Jazzy Janitor," the International News and a Burton Holmes travel picture round out the bill.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

At the Lowell Opera House Sunday afternoon and evening there will be a special showing open to the general public of a magnificent and expensive series of moving pictures of Ancient and Modern Greece, especially attractive to the teacher and student of ancient history, as they show with startlingly lifelike fidelity the remains of

THE OWL THEATRE

That the public of Lowell appreciates the Owl theatre manager's policy of biggest and best pictures is evidenced by the large audiences who have so far witnessed Paul Armstrong's great crook play, "The Deep Purple," which, in the next two days, will conclude a very successful week's engagement at the Owl. With the exception of this great eight-act feature, the entire bill was changed yesterday. William Russell, huge, good-natured, bulk of a man, rip-roared his way through multiple reels of clever comedy and intricate situations that went to other extremes of the dramatic art. Another episode of "The Lost City," a new comedy, and a new reel complete the bill for the remainder of the week. And here's just a suggestion. Some people have already seen "The Deep Purple" twice. Probably you're one that doesn't care to do so. In that case, follow this schedule of hours and you can't go wrong: 1 p. m., 4:30 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. Get into the Owl at those times and you'll see "Slam Bang Jim," with William Russell; the comedy, "The Lost City" and the new reel—which, by themselves, are worth the price of admission. All next week, "In Old Kentucky," featuring Anita Stewart, art, directed by Marshall Neilan, a First National attraction. The picture breaks all records in Hartford, Conn., and Boston is paying $1 to see it. It is years for the usual Owl prices, and it will be here all week.

MY TIRED FEET ACHED FOR "TIZ"

Let Your Sore, Swollen, Aching Feet Spread Out in a Bath of "Tiz"

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-pestered, bunion-tortured feet of yours in a "Tiz" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "Tiz" bath.

When your feet feel like drums of lead—all tired out—just try "Tiz." It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions.

There's nothing like "Tiz." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture.

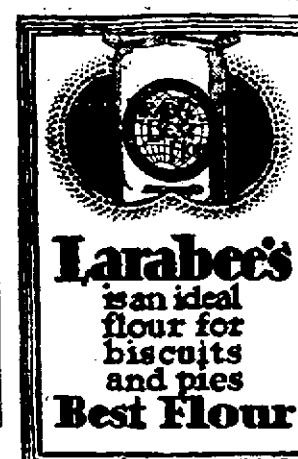

Get a box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel. You can wear shoes a size smaller if you desire.—Adv.

THE B. &amp; M. CAR SHOP MINSTREL SHOW

Employees of the Boston & Maine car shops blossomed forth as minstrels in an associate hall last evening and gave a large crowd a most enjoyable evening's entertainment. The program embraced many popular numbers and the railroad men showed their ability to put them over with snap and zest.

The program in detail was as follows: Overture, entire company, "I'll Dance My Way Back to Dixie Land," "Drifting," "Slow and Easy," "Wait Till You Get Them Up in the Air, Boys," "She's Just Like Sal," "Emile Lamy," end song, "Don't Put a Fox on a Beautiful Girl," Joe O'Regan; song, "Boy of Mine," James Jones; end song, "You Never Can Tell," Matty Shea; monolog, (Hebrew character), Tom Knight; song, "I Love You Just the Same, Sweet Adeline," Ambrose Ready; end song, "Ephraim Johnson," Tony Doyle; song, "Mine," Elias Sadler; end song, "Hailin' Down to Cotton Town," Ed. Mathews; finale, "When the Great Red Dawn is Shining," solos sustained by B. F. Lord.

Those who took part were: Interlocutor, Edward J. Murphy; end men, Joe O'Regan, Tony Doyle, Ed. Mathews, Mattie Shea; chorus, James Duffy, John McBride, A. Constantineau, William Coulin, Thomas Dean, James Reynolds, Paul Cole, Joseph Choinard, Daniel O'Regan, George Bassett, Bernard Gibbs, Daniel Harkins, Joseph Kinoff, Thomas Dumont, Frank Beau-

HERO'S NAME OVERLOOKED

The attention of the committee which was in charge of the erection of a tablet in memory of the soldiers and sailors of Centralville, dedicated last fall, has been called to the fact that the name of Constantinos Angelakos, one of the first Lowell men to die in the conflict, has been omitted. Angelakos lived at 246 Allen avenue at the time of his enlistment. It is probable that his name will be added to the list of Centralville heroes within a short time.

Sensible Whim of Fashion Is Blouse Skirt Companion of Overblouse

TWO ATTRACTIVE SUMMER STYLES IN BLOUSE SKIRTS

New York's Fashion Authority
NEW YORK, May 14.—Every once in a while fashion has a whim that is sensible and calculated to add to our convenience and comfort as well as to our personal appearance.

The new blouse skirt represents one of these whims. Dressmakers almost to a single one, have dropped the old method of hanging skirts from the waist and now attach them to a cami-sole that is worn directly over the corset. The blouse skirt is designed especially to wear with the popular over-blouses. Aside from the infinite convenience the idea involves, it is calculated to transfer the weight of the clothes from the waist to the shoulders, leaving the corset free to perform its primary function of supporting the muscles and giving direction to the figure.

One shown is of white tricolette and black. It is provided with an elastic where it is joined at the waist, so that it can be adjusted to the long or short waist-line. The town blouse worn with it is of white georgette with a vest all of tiny lace frills and lace collar and cuffs.

There are, too, ready-to-wear blouse skirts that come in a goodly variety of attractive materials and combinations. Illustrated is an overblouse of silk with plaited serge skirt.

power of several hundred dollars a month is the attraction for me." Life on the Rhine is joyful for the American soldiers, according to returning veterans who tell of week-end boat excursions on German rivers and week-long trips to European cities.

MERCHANT MARINE BILL ATTACKED BY EDGE

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The merchant marine bill, as amended by the senate commerce committee, was taken up by the senate yesterday and was attacked by Senator Edge, republican, New Jersey, as "inelastic" and "copper riveted." Senator Edge said that instead of bringing about private ownership of the American Merchant Marine the bill would force the government to retain possession because it would be impossible for the shipping board to sell ships under the restrictions imposed.

"I do not want the ships uselessly sacrificed, but I do want the ships sold," said the senator. "I do not want the government to continue administering this business any longer than is absolutely essential, because I am convinced that every additional day that it does so there will be that much greater deficit charged against the taxpayers, and the assets in ships owned by the government will naturally depreciate more and more.

"If we do not positively help American shipping by subsidies or subventions, at least do not let us handicap it by imposing onerous prices for vessels which it wants and needs and which we must dispose of."

Without debate the senate tentatively adopted the committee amendment providing for reduced rail freight rates on exports and imports providing they are transported to or from this country in American ships. Advocates of the provision said it was similar to plans used by Germany and Japan in building up their merchant marine.

Another committee amendment exempting marine insurance pools from the provisions of the anti-trust acts also was accepted without discussion on record vote.

Canada Made $1,000,747
OTTAWA, May 14.—The Canadian government made a profit of $1,000,747.38 on the operation of the government merchant marine from the inauguration of the service on March 1 to Dec. 31, 1919, as shown in the annual report made public yesterday in the house of commons.

THE "GATIMAO" TRIBE
The "Gatimao" tribe, now in the process of organization, was explained by Scout Executive Read I. Ripley of Lowell Council B.S.A. at a meeting held in headquarters last evening. He said the tribe is a fraternal body of the older scouts. The temporary chairman elected was Scout Vernal Roby of Troop 9, the temporary secretary elected was Charles Brockmeyer of Troop 10. All those who were present at last night's meeting will be charter members and will be initiated at the next meeting by the board of counselors, which is formed by Scout Commissioner Dady, Scout Executive Ripley and William N. Goodell of the chamber of commerce.

Leut. Gov. Channing M. Cox was a guest and the principal speaker at the annual ladies' night banquet of the Men's club of Grace church held at the Highland clubhouse last evening. Other speakers were the Rev. Dr. J. H. Downey, Mayor Perry D. Thompson. Music was furnished by Hibbard's orchestra, and there was dancing during the latter part of the evening. The hall of the clubhouse was filled nearly to the limit of its capacity.

At the close of the banquet the lieutenant governor was introduced in a brief speech by Pelton L. Moody, president of the club.

After referring to the inspiration received from seeing such an organization as the Men's club formed in a spirit of getting together for a common purpose, he said that he was somewhat familiar with the work of Mr. Downey at his former parish in Norwood, and congratulated the club and church upon having secured his services.

The lieutenant-governor spoke of the great days in which we are living in which none of us is sure in the morning what may befall him before night. He mentioned the great inventions and near-inventions of the day, and referred especially to the man who proposes to make a trip to the moon in a rocket and of the man who has offered $10,000 for the privilege of being a passenger on the journey. He paid his respects to the table-tipping scientist who is willing to tell America all about the wonderful manifestations of spirit-life that have come to him provided he gets sufficient gate receipts. He also mentioned the alleged belief of Marconi that the people of Mars are trying to send signals to us and that they may possibly be trying to touch us for a loan.

"In the midst of all our confusion," he continued, "we are apt to forget that we are human beings. Human nature has not changed a great deal. It remains true that no one has as yet discovered any good substitute for work, or for the other virtues which may be old-fashioned, which our fathers and mothers possessed, and in the practice of which we are enabled to accomplish great things. I find today that men and women in some quarters are discouraged. It is discouraging to know that great groups of our fellow beings have been unwilling to remember their duties to other fellow human beings, and have been willing in order that they may attain their own ends to let great communities go without the necessities of life. It is discouraging to know that there are also men in our communities who, because they have accumulated these necessities, have been willing to exact extortionate toll from less fortunate human beings. But tonight, I am looking for signs which will cause us to be filled with courage, with optimism, and I believe there are plenty of such signs to be found.

"What is it then, that we need? In my judgment the greatest need of America today is strong, virile leadership that will refuse to compromise with wrong, which will not surrender to any organization, however strong, that is seeking special privileges.

Mayor Thompson spoke of co-operation as applied to such organizations as the Men's club, and appealing to those present said, "Let the members of this club back up their mayors, their governors and presidents and all who are connected with their government and band themselves together to work for good. When we have done that we have done a great deal for the humanity of the world."

The pastor, Rev. Edward C. Downey, the closing speaker, said that the Men's club was one of the forces through which the church must express itself. He said that it also expresses itself through individuals as they stand in places of business, in social life and in the homes, but that the time had come when it was necessary not only for men and women to stand for individual excellence, but that they must get together to accomplish results.

Mr. Downey referred to profiteering and said he believed it had nearly reached its limit, and said that he was afraid of what might happen if public officials do not do something to peacefully adjust unjust economic conditions.

The Easiest Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.—Adv.

The socialists would move the White House to the federal penitentiary at Atlanta.

Hooting for Hoover is becoming a favorite pastime with some journalists and politicians who like his antecedents.

The man who plants a peace garden this year will be worthy of the commendation given the man who made two blades of grass grow where only one grew before.

Governor Smith of New York has a duty to perform in vetoing those Lusk-Sweet bills which appear to be more radical than anything proposed by the expelled socialists.

Perhaps the fact that it costs $50 a year per inhabitant to govern Boston, as against considerably smaller sums in other cities of the first class, explains why trade commission reports show that the city is one of the most expensive places in the universe in which to live.

There is a great deal of talk in some quarters concerning rent profiteering, so much in fact, that it is hard to believe it is all without any proper foundation. But at the same time, many of those who are paying a moderate rent, as things go today, are better off than if they owned the property and rented it at what they are now paying.

Senator Johnson may think he is in the running but he will be turned down by Penrose, Crane and others. The British interests are strong for Hoover and the money power of Wall street for General Wood. How the fight will wind up is problematical, except that the Old Guard is coming to the front strongly and is likely to fall in line with the moneyed powers.

Who wants a second hand throne and all the trappings of the throne room of his former Imperial Majesty Kaiser Wilhelm? Somebody who claims to have had a first mortgage on them is to offer them for sale in New York. There will be a question of their genuineness but most people in this country, we surmise, would prefer a good counterfeit to these "treasured relics" of discarded Hohenzollern royalty.

EMPTY HOUSES

Would it not be a good idea for the building department to take a census of the old buildings that are unoccupied throughout the city and that could be made fit for occupancy by repairs at a moderate expense? The housing problem is becoming more acute and yet there is not a move to meet it in a practical way.

SUGAR PROFITS

Attorney General Palmer has fixed the limit of profit on the sale of sugar at one cent a pound at wholesale and two cents retail. If he can keep down the wholesale price and maintain that rule everywhere, he would succeed in stopping profiteering. But the people do not seem to place much confidence in his anti-profiteering plans and will believe them honest only when they see them effectively applied. The people locally are wondering how it is that some dealers sell sugar at 22 cents a pound, others at 25 cents and a few at 32 and even 33 cents. It is to be feared that Mr. Palmer's action has come too late to secure the end in view, but it would not be just to condemn any well advised step before it has had time to show results.

THE WAGE INCREASE

That is good news that comes from the local mills announcing an increase of 15 per cent in wages. It is well that the millmen show an inclination to avoid all controversies with their employees. We see in New Bedford a situation that is simply ruinous to all concerned, and even to thousands who do not work in the mills. At Taunton, too, there has been trouble that should not have occurred. This is the worst time in the history of the country or of the world to declare a labor strike.

Those who would counsel a strike for any but the most serious cause at this time have a serious responsibility. Those who demand a 50 per cent increase and a 44-hour week are plotting revolution. This demand is made in Lawrence by a union that represents only the radicals who caused trouble in that city on previous occasions. They know this cannot be granted and yet they threaten to use the power of their organization to force this concession.

They are seeking the overthrow of the individual system and the present form of government and no patriotic worker should have anything to do with them. Lowell is fortunate in her record for industrial peace. May it long continue for the benefit alike of employer and employee.

FARM LOAN ACT

For once, congress seems to be moving in a matter vital to the country's welfare.

The house committee on banking has reported a joint resolution authorizing the secretary of the treasury to issue farm loan bonds up to one hundred million dollars. If action is taken quickly on this proposal, the damage caused by the failure of the supreme court to render a decision on the validity of the farm loan act will be in some measure repaired.

Unless congress passes this, or some similar legislation, farmers in need of cash to carry on farm operations will be unable to negotiate loans through Uncle Sam's farm loan bureau.

Private banking interests have tied up the farm loan act in litigation which the supreme court has now ordered "reargued." Such action always means that the court is badly split. The knowledge of this fact makes it impossible, of course, for the farm loan board to float any more of its bonds. Who will buy bonds that may be declared invalid by the supreme court?

Congress, by acting on the joint resolution authorizing this specific issue of $100,000,000, can save the situation. If it fails to act, the food situation, already serious on account of shortage of farm labor, lack of transport and other causes, will become worse. In the interest of every city consumer as well as every farmer, the national legislature should act quickly.—N. E. A.

ABSENTEEISM IN SENATE

It seems that a new cause of complaint was brought out in the United States senate recently when Senator Lodge, republican floor leader, in giving notice that he would call up the Knox resolution, referred to the necessity of notifying the absent members. It is absenteeism that is now the crying evil.

Senator Borah in trying to advance his resolution for an investigation of campaign expenses admitted that it is difficult to get together enough members of the senate to do business nowadays. Senator Thomas also criticized the majority for the passage of appropriation bills carrying hundreds of millions of dollars without a roll call and without the presence of as many as twenty senators from a membership of ninety-six. It is a frequent occurrence to direct the sergeant-at-arms to go out in search of senators to form a quorum. Senator Borah had his resolution transferred from the committee on privileges and elections, by which it was apparently held up, to that of audit and control of contingent expenses. He is one of the aggressive republicans who have inaugurated a campaign against the lavish use of money by General Wood and Gov. Lowden, candidates for the presidency. He has made the charge that a group of millionaires are financing Gen. Wood's campaign; but so far as the United States senate is concerned, it is evident that there is no intention of allowing Senator Borah's resolution to interfere with the movement of the interests to nominate the candidate of their choice at Chicago.

The nomination of a republican candidate at Chicago is likely to go to the highest bidder, judging from the tendency to revert to the campaign methods in vogue in the days of Senator Tom Platt and Mark Hanna. Some weak denials have come from the camps of the candidates, against whom charges of the lavish use of money had been made; but there is no indication of sincerity in them, nor is there any apparent sign that such methods are disapproved by the active leaders of the party.

TEACHERS AND RESULTS

Dr. Davison Smith, commissioner of education, who addressed the Lowell teachers at their annual banquet, is a very fluent, eloquent, logical and convincing speaker. On educational subjects and the correlated topics of good citizenship and Americanization, his discussions are particularly interesting and instructive. In his recent address here, he touched many of the most important points relative to the work of education and upon all of them his remarks were calculated to inspire enthusiasm, to clear the vision and lift everybody to a higher plane of duty.

Dr. Smith mentioned practically everything that is helpful to the teachers in their work; but he did not refer to some of the things that are most hurtful to the teaching profession at the present time. One of the worst of these is the tendency to keep piling new duties upon the shoulders of teachers in the line of additions to the regular curriculum as it stood say five or ten years ago. Today the demand for physical training, manual training, training for citizenship and Americanization work, cuts deeply into the time for instruction which remains precisely the same as it was many years ago. The effect of this "inflation" of school work is to make thoroughness in the great essentials practically impossible. Another condition that, to say the least, is not conducive to the best educational results, is the discontent arising from the feeling among teachers, that in these days of aggressive unionism those who continue faithfully to attend to their daily duties, are left behind in the race to catch up with the high cost of living. There should be no ground for any such conclusion.

Both these conditions must receive due consideration from educators who look to the schools to give us citizens better trained physically, intellectually and morally, for the duties and responsibilities of American citizenship.

It is well that the teachers and the schools follow the very excellent advice offered by Commissioner Smith; but the teachers on their part merely ask that they be given the time, the means and the opportunity to do the work assigned them in an effective manner, so that it may bring the ideal results towards which all the educators of the present day are eagerly striving.

SEEN AND HEARD

Bare possibilities are more often the naked truth.

If a wicked person succeeds; there are good qualities which overbalance the bad.

The clothing profiteer doesn't say denim overalls. He uses a verb instead of an adjective, but it begins with the same "d."

Scientists have discovered that the smallest thing is a quail. Apparently they have studied the remains of a pay envelope after the week's grocery bill is settled.

It's Only Fair

In the wild and woolly west a game of poker was in progress. A tenderfoot, looking on, saw of the players deal himself four aces from the bottom of the pack. The tenderfoot whispered indignantly to another onlooker: "Did you see that?" "What?" asked the other. "That swindler dealt himself four aces!" the tenderfoot hissed. "What?" was the astonished reply. "Wasn't it his deal?"—Blighly.

Stuck to His Feet

Food Controller Hoover said at a Washington reception: "We must economize our food, or we'll get as short as some of our allies across the water." "In a restaurant over there a man said, when his coffee was brought: 'Boy, there, waiter, where's my portion of sugar?' " "Oh, la, la," said the waiter. "It must be that accused fly again, mister. Every time I serve a portion of sugar, up he sneaks and swipes it!"—Detroit Free Press.

"K-VEENS"

Wherever men foregather to play poker there is told, at some phase of the game or another, the story of the two blufflers. Usually to them is assigned a race that is mentioned rather prominently in the bible. Here is the yarn: The two players had been raising each other back and forth for a long time. Finally, one of them said: "Well, I call. Vat you got?" "K-veens," "How many?" "Ten."

Such Is Life

Why does John Blank want to change jobs? Why does Mary Blank want to change husbands? Why does Willie Blank want a new set of toys when the old ones are not worn out? Why does Susie Blank want to get away from home and go visiting? Say, did you ever live on the farm? Ever notice the way that old cow used to jump fences? No pasture was good enough for her. That's why the farmer hung a non-jumper rope round the cow's neck which kept her at home. Why do you suppose the cow jumped fences? For the same reason the Blankes are dissatisfied with what they've got. The cow couldn't get it out of her head that the next pasture was greener than hers. The grass beyond the fence looked more tender, more appetizing, more nourishing. She thought so. And she went over. When she got there she found the same sort of grass. It wasn't a bit greener or better when she got to it. An optical illusion, no to speak. John Blank learns the same thing. The job he gets is about as hard as the one he quit. There are things about it he doesn't like, just as there were about the old job. It just looked better—when he wasn't near it. Mrs. John Blank finds out the second husband has faults, too. She didn't see 'em before she got him. Willie Blank doesn't have any more fun playing with his new toys, once he gets 'em, than he had with the old ones. Often he goes back to the old ones.

And Susie Blank always is good and glad to get back home again. Sometimes, though, the cow does find a better pasture by jumping a fence. But, even so, did the cow spend all her time hunting newer and greener pastures, she'd be a lean and profitless cow to any farmer. And so, agricultural scientists have figured it out that it pays to yoke the cow.

Because the cow hasn't as much brains as one should have if one is going to decide between the pasture one has and the next to it.

Maybe it might be a good idea to manufacture some sort of a yoke to hang on quick-fire job-changers, married folk who wear beaten paths to divorce courts, and to those who forget what they have because they're too busy thinking about what someone else has.

By Gum!

Farmer Jones is a bright old skat. All-fired smart and up-to-date. He thinks that fun will do no harm. So this is how he runs his farm— He has a jax band playing tunes. His yard is bunk with gay festoons Of multi-colored electric lamps. A dozen blonde and brunette vamps Work in his dairy every day. And every night come out to play. Each exalted ducky electric lamp. Around the walls, a score or more Of tables are where folks can buy A tiny (teacup full of) eye. And dancers soon begin to flit. Some shake their heels till 4 o'clock And then start in to feed the stock.

The labor problem does not fret Our friend a particle, you bet. And though the neighbors make a yelp Old Farmer Jones has lots of help.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

I am told that Lowell council, Knights of Columbus, will furnish the largest number of candidates of any one council in New England at the forthcoming exemplification of the fourth degree of the order in Boston this month, a fact which speaks volumes for the activity, personal effort and dynamic energy of Andrew Melloy, the present head of Bishop Delany assembly, fourth degree, in this section and a former grand knight of the local council. The record of Bishop Delany assembly has been a distinct credit to the order and to the members, and with the addition of many more members, there is ample evidence that it will soon be in the forefront of all the assemblies in New England in point of activity and splendid achievements.

One of the Boston newspapers is printing a series of articles warning of a food shortage next winter due to the failure of the farmers to raise sufficient crops to feed the nation. A recent trip through the rural sections of Vermont and New Hampshire indicates that there is, insofar as this section is concerned, some cause at least for fearing a big increase in the prices of farm-grown foodstuffs before the present year is over if indeed worse conditions are not reached. The farmers of the region have of course their not unusual complaints about the weather and the lateness of warm, sunny days in making their appearance. They say that they were unable to do the usual amount of fall plowing and now they will not be able to complete the work this spring. This will considerably reduce the planted acreage, they assert. What troubles the tillers of the soil more, however, is that farm la-

Teachers' Examination

Office of the Superintendent of Schools, Lowell, Mass., May 8, 1920

On Saturday, June 25, 1920, at the Lowell high school, Kirk and Anne streets, beginning at nine o'clock in the forenoon, there will be a public examination of applicants for Lowell teachers' certificates of the third grade; these certificates apply to the primary and elementary grades of the schools.

Persons to be eligible to take the examination must be graduates of colleges or normal schools and must have had two years' successful experience as teachers in day schools.

All applicants must signify their intention of taking the examination by notifying the superintendent of schools in writing, at least three weeks before the date of such examination at which time the list will be closed and after which time no new names will be added.

The subjects of the examination will be Arithmetic, English Grammar and Language, United States History and Civil Government, and Principles and Methods of Teaching.

Applicants are advised to forward certificates of graduation and successful experience at the time of sending notice of intention to take the examination.

DISTRIBUTION OF GERMAN CANNON

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The military affairs committee of the house has ordered a favorable report on the bill authorizing distribution of German cannon and other trophies captured by or surrendered to American forces. The distribution will be made in ratio as to total number of men serving from each state. Massachusetts furnished 192,415 men as its quota and it will receive approximately 89 guns and trench mortars and 162 vehicles for its proportion. Its small pieces are approximately 3000 rifles, two thousand bayonets and scabbards, 400 machine guns, 400 wound badges, 435 helmets, 2500 empty shells and nearly 20,000 ornaments and other small articles. The method of local state distribution has not been made known, but it is expected it will be done through the office of the secretary of war. The trophies are now in the United States and will be distributed very soon after the bill passes congress, which will be before the June recess. Congressman Olney of the 14th Mass. district, member of the military committee, was largely instrumental in securing an early report from the committee. RICHARDS.

Dr. Riley, Cousin of the Late Hoosier Poet, Is "Miracle" Doctor—Makes Blind See and Deaf Hear

BY HARRY R. HUNT
N.E.A. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Making the blind to see, the deaf to hear, the halt and the bed-ridden to leave their invalid chairs and couches and go for a stroll in the parks or return to work, is the everyday business of Joe Shelby Riley of Washington.

Although described by those who have benefited by his cure as a "Miracle Man," Riley doesn't claim there is anything miraculous about them. He doesn't profess any supernatural powers. He hasn't any divinely bestowed "gift."

His cures are simply the result of science and skill and hard work, assisted by a full knowledge of the human body and long experience—not in "curing"—but in removing the causes responsible for human afflictions.

Riley is a graduate M.D., but he doesn't give any medicine. He is a graduate osteopath, but he doesn't practice osteopathy. He is also a doctor of natural science of medicine.

Physicians Send Him Patients

It is perhaps through a combination of all these ologies and isms that he has developed the knowledge and skill that has enabled him to perform the "miracle" cures.

Physicians and surgeons not only send to him patients, but they come to him themselves for treatment of their own ailments.

UPPER RIGHT—MISS CATHERINE TAYLOR, CURED OF BLINDNESS.
LOWER RIGHT—MRS. LIBBIE C. BAER, MOTHER OF CONGRESSMAN J. M. BAER.
LOWER CENTRE—DR. J. S. RILEY.

O. wealthy farmer and stockman. Folk was entirely blind in one eye.

He was brought to Washington by Dr. V. M. George, 2356 North High Street, Columbus, O. He was under Riley's care for one week, receiving daily treatments.

Result: Sight restored, and new declarations by Folk's friends of a "Twentieth Century Miracle."

Girl Is Entirely Cured

The cure of Folk doesn't especially interest Riley, however. Such cases are a part of the regular daily work with him. More interesting, for instance, was the combined cure of blindness and goller in the case of Miss Catherine Taylor of Berwin, Md., a Washington suburb.

Miss Taylor, a pretty girl in her late teens, had been blind in her right eye since childhood. Two years ago a bad goller began to develop. An operation might successfully remove the goller, physicians said. As to the eye, no one ever held out any hope for that.

Finally Miss Taylor's parents heard of Riley. It wouldn't do any harm to try him, anyway, they agreed. It didn't.

Today Miss Taylor has two perfectly good eyes, as you can see by the picture printed herewith. Also she has a beautiful neck—no disfiguring goller in sight. There was no operation; no medicines were given; just the laying on of Riley's hands where they would revive the activity of nerves and blood stream and allow nature to do the normal thing.

After John Hopkins—Riley

Mrs. Nancy Darby of Baltimore was suffering from paralysis. She had spent $15,000 in two years with the biggest specialists in the east. At John Hopkins hospital, perhaps the most famous medical institution in this country, they held out no hope for a cure. Then she tried Riley.

Today Mrs. Darby, who is living at 1954 Columbia road, Washington, takes her daily walks, attends social functions and sees a life of activity and usefulness opening before her again.

Thomas H. Herndon, a Washington musician, was hampered in his profession for seven years by deafness in one ear. Riley restored his hearing in less than a month.

And so the list goes. There might be multiplied over and over.

Cure "Germ Disease" Too
The curing of organic ailments is not the sole scope of Riley's activities. Without medicine, cope with germ diseases as well. He treated several huns. He has demonstrated that he can, dried cases of "flu" during the epidemic two years ago—and did not lose a patient.

He took the case of J. L. Hamby, a Washington department store clerk, who had been told by physicians that he had a far-advanced case of pulmonary tuberculosis and less than a month to live. That was four months ago. Today Hamby is back at his counter in Washington's biggest department store, heard of health officers having certified that he has two perfectly good lungs.

Even afflictions of age seem to disappear under the healing touch of Riley's fingers.

Mrs. Libbie C. Baer, mother of Congressman J. M. Baer of North Dakota, is 73 years old. She had been an active woman, known to the older generation as a writer of clever verse and articles on current events for the Arkansas Traveler when Ople Read was editor, former national vice president of the Woman's Relief corps and an elocutionist of note two decades ago.

For years Mrs. Baer had been virtually an invalid: chronic lumbago, high blood pressure, rheumatism and heart disease combined to take all the joy out of life and threatened an end to life itself. Today, however, she is well and happy—without an ache or pain, she declares, and good for a long life yet! She gives all thanks to Riley.

Many Prominent Patients

Riley's fame has spread fast here in Washington during the past few months and members of congress, their wives, children and friends are daily visitors at his office.

Among those whom he has treated, mostly for lesser ailments, within the last few months, are Champ Clark and Mrs. Clark; Congressman Harry Wood-ward and wife, Congressman Stuart Reed and wife, and Representative Meade, Weir, Walling, May, Watson, Goodwin and Scott. Probably no physician in Washington has had, within the same period, as large a clientele from among members of congress.

Who is this man Riley? Well, he's a poet as well as a healer. He's a cousin of James Whitcomb Riley, famous Hoosier poet, but is not a Hoosier. He was born at Caldwell, Tex., 35 years ago, and his father, Dr. John S. Riley, was a frontier physician of the

FOUR LADIES FOUND HEALTH AND STRENGTH

HER FRIEND FOR TEN YEARS

It is now ten years since I started taking RED PILLS, and they have certainly done me an immense amount of good by building me up, and ridding me of the headaches which had made me suffer so. Under their influence I rapidly took on flesh. Through overwork and frequent pregnancies, I had become so pale and weak and rundown that a good tonic was badly needed, as very often throughout the day, I felt so weak that I was compelled to lie down and rest for a while. I therefore took RED PILLS, which first helped me somewhat, and then gradually relieved me immensely.

MRS. JEREMIE CHAPUT,

512 Clinton Ave., Woonsocket, R. I.

THE IDEAL MEDICINE

I have been taking RED PILLS for years now, and thanks to the excellent results obtained from their use, I have been able to do all my own housework and bring up a family. It was through the medium of the newspapers that I learned their worth, and since taking them, I always have a few boxes ready on hand in case they should be needed. I find they are the ideal medicine and a health building tonic.

MRS. E. DUHAINE,

456 Cartier Street, Manchester, N. H.

RED PILLS ARE FOR WOMEN ONLY

They are always sold in boxes of fifty pills, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50. See that the name of the "FRANCO-AMERICAN CHEMICAL COMPANY LIMITED" is on every box.

A MOTHER'S GOOD ADVICE

It is now three years since I became acquainted with RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women. Before my marriage they proved a boon to me, by strengthening my constitution and giving me vitality. My mother had already taken them, and had obtained such satisfactory results from their use that I was tempted to try them, and with the above results. I am taking them again today, to build up my strength which I have lost through some recent trouble. I feel that I will be as fortunate in obtaining good results from their use.

MRS. HENRI CARRIER,

39 Page Street, Woonsocket, R. I.

WEAKNESS, HEADACHES, BACKACHES

Six years ago, I was suffering very much from general weakness, headaches, backaches, sore legs and poor digestion, and was advised by some of my friends to try RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women. I therefore tried them, and after taking three boxes I was greatly astonished to note that I was getting much better. I continued taking them regularly, and after using eighteen boxes I was completely recovered. Since that time, I have been feeling fine and have regained the strength and vitality which I had long ago.

SELLING METHODS

USE IN INDIA

Special emphasis on sales methods in use in India was the feature of the paper on "Surveying New Markets," presented by E. W. Dooresen, Robbins & Myers Co., before the Seventh national foreign trade convention now meeting in San Francisco.

"In India," said Mr. Dooresen, "the salesman can make very little headway with the native merchants unless he has had a previous acquaintance or unless he first makes an arrangement with an Indent House. These houses, who do an Indent business, are usually foreign owned, with a European or American as manager; and they employ a native on their staff known as a Baboo who is a man of some financial standing and an intimate knowledge of the different native merchants and passes on their credits.

"This Baboo is a salesman and a shrewd business man speaking English as well as his native tongue. The Indent House pays him a commission on all the business that comes through and he also receives a commission from the merchants themselves. He is a very important man and quite frequently stands between the merchant, the Indent House and the manufacturer in case of disputes or claims that are frequently made by the native Indentors, for one reason or another. In the Straits Settlements and China, this man is called a Compradore, and in Japan he is known as a Banto.

"If your salesman makes his connection with an Indent House, and the Baboo accompanies him into the bazaar, he is then given an opportunity to display his samples, show his catalogues, quote his prices and talk up his line or lines. The orders he gets are turned over to the Indent House by the Baboo. A number of these merchants are called upon in this way each day, and if your salesman is successful he accumulates a number of orders which are forwarded to the home office of the Indent House, or through some export and commission house in this country, who in turn send the orders to the different manufacturers.

"When the goods are received at destination, the Indent House makes a distribution of the different parcels, obtaining their money from the native Indentor; and in some instances their arrangements are such that the merchants pay cash for such goods as they withdraw from the Indent House, until the whole lot has been taken; also credit is sometimes extended."

SHE'S GLAD UNITED STATES IS DRY!

NEW YORK, May 14.—Mrs. Robert Peel, wife of the son of Sir Robert Peel, and grandson of the late Robert Peel, premier of England, is said to have sighed a sigh of relief and remarked: "I'm glad we are in America and that there is prohibition here," when the steamship Finland docked recently. Her husband "was the life of the ship" on the way over, according to the captain. Peel, enlivened the voyage with a number of "hair-raising" stunts. Mrs. Peel was Miss Beatrice Lilie, actress of London.

FRECKLE-FACE

Now Is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots
Do you know how easy it is to remove those ugly spots so that no one will call you freckle-face? Simply get an ounce of Othine, double strength, from your druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of freckles and get a beautiful complexion. The sun and winds of March have a strong tendency to bring out freckles, and as a result more Othine is sold in this month. Be sure to ask for the double strength Othine, as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove the freckles. —Adv.

Awarded Edison Medal for Inventions
NEW YORK, May 14.—W. R. Hunnet, an engineer with the General Electric Co., at Schenectady, has been awarded the Edison medal for inventions and developments of electrical apparatus and prime movers, it was announced today by the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. This medal was founded by the Edison Medal association composed of associates and friends of Thomas A. Edison, and is awarded annually by the institute.

Explosion Damages Wireless Station
PARIS, May 14.—Wireless messages are again being received at Eiffel Tower from the Moscow wireless station controlled by the Russian Bolshevik government. Communication with Moscow was interrupted early this week and messages received since it has been restored state the Moscow station was damaged by an explosion in an ammunition dump.

LEWIS CONTROVERSY IS WAXING WARM

Relative to the case of Abraham J. Lewis, who was let down easily on a charge of picking pockets on the recommendation of Superintendent Welch and to which Judge Wright seriously objected when he heard that the man had a criminal record, the superintendent states that he made the recommendation in good faith, not having been informed of the fact that Lewis had a long record. The superintendent states that Deputy Downey, who had received the man's record, failed to notify him before the trial and thus the court was led to believe that the case of Lewis was one that deserved the exercise of leniency. It is alleged that never before was Judge Wright so illigant as he was when he read in the newspaper the long criminal

On last Tuesday the Lewis case was called in court but continued until Wednesday because the lawyer for the defense was busy in the probate court. On the next day the case was called and in compliance with a request from Superintendent Welch, was placed on file by Judge Wright. After the disposal of the case the criminal record of Lewis, of which the superintendent denies all knowledge, was published. Feeling that the blame for the mix-up has been publicly and unjustly placed upon his shoulders by the superintendent, Deputy Hugh Downey said this morning that he told the superintendent on Tuesday morning that the defendant had a criminal record.
"On last Tuesday morning," said the deputy, "on account of the absence to the lawyer for the defense who was engaged in probate court, the Lewis' case was put over until Wednesday morning."
"At that time, however, the judge said to me that the superintendent had recommended Lewis' release. I told the judge that I did not know about that, but I would go immediately to see the superintendent."
"I then asked Superintendent Welch what was to be done 'with that pick-pocket.' I told him that Lawyer Alford was for the prosecution. I next said to him that Lewis had a record."
"The superintendent paid no attention to that statement, but told me to tell the lawyer for the defense that he wanted to see him. The lawyer in question was not in court at that time. After the defending lawyer's statement to the judge which followed a consultation with the superintendent and agreement by the prosecution, that the case should be placed on file, the court released Lewis."
From the fact that he mentioned to the superintendent on the day the case was first called that Lewis had a record and that the recommendation for release was made before the superintendent had investigated the matter, Deputy Downey claims that there was no failure on his part.

MIDDLESEX STREET GRADE CROSSING
An important meeting of the Middlesex street grade crossing committee of the chamber of commerce has been called for 8 o'clock this evening by Chairman Josiah Butler. Although the committee in question received but little encouragement from the Boston & Maine engineers and solicitor at the conference held a few weeks ago, the chairman announced at that time that work on securing some action regarding the abolition of the crossing would not be abandoned and tonight's meeting will start the ball rolling again. It is probable that a smaller sub-committee will be appointed to tackle some individual phase of the situation and to push the agitation of the question as forcibly as possible.

DEATHS

BATTERSBY—The many friends of Mrs. Catherine (Lyons) Battersby will be grieved to learn of her death which occurred rather suddenly this morning at her home, 85 Adams street. While the deceased was not in the best of health her death was entirely unexpected for she was well known throughout St. Patrick's parish where she has resided for many years. Besides her husband, Mr. John Battersby, she leaves one daughter, Catherine, 17, and one son, Robert, 14, and Mrs. William Battersby of Lynn and Mrs. Thomas Keegan of Waltham.

PITZGERALD—Mrs. Mary Fitzgerald, who was well known in Lowell, died recently in Lowell, N. S. She was the wife of James Fitzgerald of the Halifax postoffice department and leaves two daughters, Mrs. George F. Hopkins of this city, Mrs. John Brown of Boston, and three sons, Leon of New York and John and Frank of Halifax.

ROBERTS—Levi Roberts, died yesterday at the Chelmsford street hospital, aged 72 years. He leaves one daughter, Mrs. Mary Roberts, who is in the home of Undertaker W. Herbert Blake.

KEYES—Mrs. Ellen T. Keyes, wife of Henry J. Keyes, a well known and highly respected resident of St. Margaret's parish, died this morning at her home, 62 Pine street. She is survived by her husband, Henry J. (four sons, Thomas, Paul, John and Joseph), two daughters, Katherine C. and Gertrude T., and one grandchild, Ruth Keyes, a brother, George Keyes of Somerville, and a sister, Mrs. Hannah Ford, of East Boston.

FUNERALS

BRADY—The funeral of John F. Brady took place yesterday afternoon from the home of Undertakers H. McDonough Sons, At St. Peter's church. Services were held, Rev. Daniel J. Heenan officiating. Burial took place in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery.

McCALL—The funeral of Mary Frances McCall, daughter of Frederick and Catherine (Hannigan) McCall, took place yesterday from the home of her parents, 25 Lyon street. Burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery in charge of Undertakers Higgins Bros.

BRASSARD—The funeral of Joseph Maurice Brassard took place yesterday afternoon from the home of his parents, Maurice and Leonie Brassard, 4 Butterfield street. Burial was in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery in charge of Undertakers Joseph Albert.

QUINN—The funeral of Miss Beatrice V. Quinn took place this morning at 9:15 o'clock from the home of her parents, 51 West street, and was very largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends. The cortege proceeded to St. Michael's church where at 10 o'clock a solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Francis J. Mullin, assisted by the pastor, Rev. John J. Shaw, as deacon, and Rev. James P. Lynch as sub-deacon. The choir, directed by Mr. Thomas E. Boulier, sang the Gregorian mass, the solos being sustained by Mr. Boulier and Miss Margaret Griffin. Mrs. George P. Toye presided at the organ. There were many beautiful floral offerings; also many spiritual remembrances from sympathizing relatives and friends. The hearse was Messrs. David Carragher, Michael Flynn, James Harrington, John Harrington, Charles Mullin and Timothy Harrington. Interment was in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery where Rev. Fr. Mullin read the committal prayers at the grave. Funeral Director James W. McKenna in charge.

SIROCK—The funeral of Blanche Marie Sirock took place yesterday from the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Yachtiah Sirock, 43 Montrose street. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery under the direction of Undertakers Amodeo, Archambault & Sons.

MARCHAND—The funeral of Elysee Marchand took place this morning from his home, 41 Clifton street. A solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Joseph's church at 9 o'clock by Rev. L. A. Nolin, O.M.I., assisted by Rev. Guillaume Ouellette, O.M.I. as deacon and Rev. Charles Denize, O.M.I. as sub-deacon. The choir under the direction of Telesphore Baid rendered the Gregorian chant. Miss Lena B. Camire presiding at the organ. At the ceremony the choir rendered "Jesu Domine Christe," while as the body was being borne from the church the "De Profundis" was sung. The bearers were Zolique and Theodore Sauvageau, Joseph Rochet, Antoine, Meurier and Donat Marchand. Court St. Antoine, C.O.P. was represented by E. P. and J. H. Violette. Adjutor Desrochers and Abbeon P. Naude. The delegation from Branch St. Marie, A.C.P., was composed of Albert Morin, Melville, Alexandre Pelletier and Samuel D'Amont. Attending the funeral from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Marchand, Mr. and Mrs. Ulderic Marchand and Elodie and Leo Sauvageau of Salem; Theodore and Miss Victoria Sauvageau of Peabody, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rochet and Mr. and Mrs. Donat Marchand of Lynn and Henry L. Kane of Danvers. There was a wealth of floral offerings. Burial was in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery where the solemn high mass was read by Rev. Joseph A. Boline, O.M.I. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers Amodeo, Archambault & Sons.

FUNERAL NOTICES

POODLE DOG, CONDEMNED TO DIE! OWNER FIGHTS FOR HIS LIFE

LONDON—Bob, poodle dog, is condemned to die, after fair trial in a court of law, for the crime of "bouncing against a human being and knocking down said human being." All over the British Isles folks and maybe dogs, have watched the trial of Bob since it began almost a year ago. Miss Bettie Dancer, an aged school teacher of Monk's Risborough, has carried the appeal from the death sentence to Bucks Quarter Sessions court. She has sold her cottage and borrowed money to defend her pet. "I feel as though a brother were about to be hanged," says Miss Dancer. "He meant no harm when he jumped against the man." An ancient British law makes it a "felony" for a dog to molest a human.

St. Patrick's church. Burial will be in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery under the direction of Undertakers James F. O'Donnell & Sons. Motor cortege.

HOLDUP ON HIGH SCHOOL EXCAVATION WORK

No further excavation is possible on the new high school site for the present, or until the steel stored on the lot can be removed elsewhere and until this is done the steam shovel will be used on some other job. It was taken away yesterday afternoon. The excavation is more than half done, although there is quite a wide strip on the Anne street side now inaccessible because of the steel piled on it.

The contractor also is being bothered considerably with subterranean water from the nearby canal. As soon as the excavation reached canal level, water seeped in and it now means that concrete walls and piers will have to be sunk to a greater depth to effect a necessary foundation and support for the steel beams. It was previously planned to pour these piers and walls only 18 inches below the surface, but the presence of the water has necessitated more digging and a deeper cement foundation.

SEE LITTLE HOPE OF DROP IN PRICE OF SUGAR

BOSTON, May 14.—Residents of Boston and adjacent suburban cities were losing hope today that Attorney General Palmer's recent announcement of a set margin of profit for sugar dealers would result in lower prices to the consumers here. Increases of one to two cents a pound were recorded generally throughout the city within 24 hours after the order setting a maximum profit was received.

LITTLE GIRL INJURED

Alice Murphy, aged five years, and residing at 191 Crosby street, was struck by an automobile while crossing the street in front of her home this afternoon and received minor injuries to her head and hand. The ambulance removed her to St. John's hospital.

AREN'T THEY PRETTY GIRLS? WE'LL SAY SO

ANN ARBOR, May 14.—Yes, aren't they pretty? They are Ann, another Ann, Olga, the Vampire, and four lissome Oriental dancers.

More properly and descriptively, they are stars and chorus members of the cast of "George Did It"—book and lyrics by Russell Barnes, music by George H. Roderick, staged by E. Northier Shuter, costumes designed by Reed Bachman. This latter a quote from the "George Did It" program.

But hie! The program says further: "The Mimes of the University of Michigan, in their 13th annual offering."

Now "mimes" in the language of the

avitch, movie picture vampire; Irwin T. Sanborn, Karl H. Veide, Jack P. and C. H. Rorick are Oriental dancers.

LOWELL NORMAL SCHOOL

No Opposition to Bill Appropriating $30,000 for Purchase of Land

(Special to The Sun)
STATE HOUSE, Boston, May 14.—No opposition developed yesterday when the house committee on ways and means took under consideration the bill appropriating $30,000 for the purpose of buying land adjoining the Lowell Normal school for dormitory purposes.

Clarence I. Weed, one of the leading advocates of the proposition, thought that the taking of the land now would result in a saving to the commonwealth in the future. In view of the fact that it might be almost impossible later on to secure proper facilities for the school. The building, he said, is located in a section in which manufacturing establishments are springing up, with the result that acquisition of land there will be more difficult as years go by.

Edward Fisher, associate commissioner of labor and industries, complimented the state on being able to secure the tract for $30,000, saying he has been told by Lowell real estate men that in the open market the purchase price would be several thousand dollars greater. He characterized as patriotic the action of Col. Parker in offering to let the state have it at the figure named.

John J. Mahoney, formerly principal of the Normal school and now in charge of Americanization work for the state department of education, said the providing of dormitory facilities,

"CORTEZ" READY TO START REVOLT

This little Mexican Chihuahua, whose name is "Cortez," looks as if he is about to start a little revolution of his own and fight in the wool of "Shamus O'Brien." Shamus is a 200-pound Irish wolfhound owned by Lt. Col. Francis A. Junkin. "Cortez" weighs one and a quarter pounds and belongs to Mrs. A. Radcliffe of Washington. Both pups were among those present at the Washington Kennel club dog show.

as contemplated, is just the improvement needed by the school. Other than in Lowell, he said, there is only one other normal school in the state which does not provide for the shelter of its students.

Many of the students who live in Haverhill and other places, he explained, are required to leave their homes at 6 in the morning in order to reach their classrooms at 9. He was of the opinion it would be difficult for them to secure rooming accommodations in Lowell because of the housing situation.

Mr. Mahoney thought little of a suggestion advanced by Chairman Lyman of the committee to the effect that the state would materially reduce the number of normal schools, centering their activities in a few so as to reduce overhead charges. The Lowell man thought there is very little likelihood that this would be done.

He pointed out that while there has been a diminution in the number of girls who aspire for the teaching profession larger numbers in the near future will interest themselves in it because of the better compensation now prevailing.

Miss Josephine Foley of Haverhill, a senior at the institution, told of the hardships encountered in getting to Lowell by the girls living in the surrounding cities. Four hours, she said, are consumed daily in traveling between her home in the Bradford district of Haverhill and the Highlands in Lowell. Chairman Lyman thought she might do better if she were to attend the Salem normal, to which she replied that "if Lowell were 100 miles away I'd want to go there." She declared, however, that the daily journeys used up not only the time of the students, but also their energy.

HOYT.

WAS INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Trial was begun in the superior court this morning of the case of Miss Lucy Maxwell of Billerica against John J. Williams for injuries received in an auto accident in her home town on July 12, 1918, in which she alleges she was struck by a car operated by Williams. The ad damnum is $2000. Stanley E. Qua appeared as counsel for the plaintiff and John J. O'Connor of Boston for the defendant. The plaintiff alleges that she was attempting to prevent her little boy, suffering from a nervous disorder, from alighting from an electric car about to start, when the car of the defendant rounded a curve in the road and struck her at the same moment the warning horn was blown. Counsel for the plaintiff stated in his opening address to the jury that it would not be contended that Mrs. Maxwell had received a permanent injury as a result of the accident. Counsel stated that it would be contended that the auto was not lawfully registered at the time it is claimed it struck Mrs. Maxwell.

Mrs. Maxwell was the first witness called. She described the location where the accident happened. She told of the nervous condition of her young son, and said she was just returning from Boston, where he had been treated at a hospital, when she was injured. She described her efforts to protect the boy from possible injury if the trolley car should start. She said that she was struck almost as soon as she left the car.

SUITS FROM ENGLAND ANOTHER VICTIM OF THE BOLSHEVISTS

Could Be Retailed Here at Prices Little More Than Half Those Being Asked

NEW YORK, May 14.—England is ready to sell to American merchants men's clothing, all wool, that was submitted at 20 per cent profit at prices little more than half those now being asked here, according to J. C. Shannon, member of a London manufacturing concern, who arrived yesterday.

"We can produce suits, transport them to America, pay the duty and sell them to the retailer for $32 each," Mr. Shannon asserted. "The same quality suits are now selling here for $60 to $80. Ours could be retailled at $32.40, and yield a 20 per cent profit."

NERNEY STOPS MULVEY

Centralville Boy Wins in Fourth—Carney and Grace

Draw—Diamond Wins

Young Nerney of Centralville stopped Billy Mulvey of the South End in four rounds of the final bout at the Crescent A. C. last night.

Mulvey was not knocked out, but failed to respond for the fifth round, a sponge from his corner signifying that he had had enough. In the fourth round, ending came as a surprise to many of the fans, for up until the fourth round Mulvey had a lead on his opponent.

The first round was a fairly even session, with neither doing much damage. The second round, however, was the greatest seen at the club. Nerney landed a few downers, Mulvey first sending Mulvey to the mat, and Mulvey coming back and dropping Nerney from across the bridge twice.

Mulvey was dazed from the second canvas visit, but he got right up and managed to weather the storm.

The third was another fast and furious session with Mulvey having the edge. In the fourth, Nerney changed his style, only trying to knock Mulvey to the mat. This proved the turning point of the battle, for Mulvey was unable to offer any defense for the uppercut and Nerney continued to land many stinging blows to head and body. Mulvey began to show signs of coming back and dropping Nerney to the end. He wobbled a little, but he got up. His seconds worked feverishly to get him ready for the bell, but seeing that the man in the ring was continuing wisely throw in the sponge.

The bout between Battling Grace of Milwaukee and Billy Carney of New Bedford, went the same way. Nerney to a draw decision. It was a whirlwind number all the way, replete with clinches and hitting every second round. The final round was a continuation of the journey. Both boys showed abundant assimilative qualities and rare hitting abilities. Grace got an early knockdown, but he came back and landed a few good punches. Nerney, however, came stronger and he evened up matters before the decision was O.K.

In the other ten round event Young Caver, the flyweight champion of Connecticut, proved a match for Al Diamond, Lowell's lightweight battler. Caver showed gameness and aggressiveness, but Diamond proved too big and rangy for the little New Haven fighter. The bout went three rounds, but Diamond had such a commanding lead that Referee Gardner halted action and pointed to the Lowell boy.

Young Ketchell of Lawrence and Young Wells of Lowell appeared in the main event, scheduled for six rounds, but ending in the fourth when Ketchell put over a "sleep producer." The number was a hummer while it lasted, with the Lawrence boy having the advantage all the way.

After the Diamond-Caver bout, Mayor Thompson threw his hat into the ring and called the crowd together to hear who he's going to challenge? asked a fan. His honor quickly responded with an here and there challenge the wealth of the members. He then made a ringing speech in which he paid a glowing tribute to the Salvation army for the work accomplished by the organization before the war, during the war and since the war. He concluded by appealing to the members to show their appreciation of the fine work of the organization by contributing generously to the "hat campaign" a source of policemen and firemen then passed among the members and collected $114.

It was announced that Young Montrose, who recently defeated Jack Sharkey of New York and Garner Brooks of Lowell will appear in the main bout of 12 rounds next Thursday night.

Young Parker of Lowell would like to meet Kid Hooker or Jim Demas.

Jos. Daley sends in a letter stating that Young Dawson is seeking bouts with Jimmy Owens, Young Wells and Young Normandy.

NEW BOXING BILL IS REPORTED IN HOUSE

BOSTON, May 14.—A new "boxing" bill has been reported by the house ways and means committee, which differs in important details from the bill reported by the committee on legal affairs.

The new bill provides for the appointment by the governor of a director of athletics for three years at not more than $1000 a year. The old bill would have created a commission of three persons. The supervisor would be an official in the state department of public safety.

The old bill stipulated that there should be paid to the state 5 per cent. of the gross receipts from boxing matches. The new draft provides that boxing clubs and similar organizations shall be licensed for each entertainment for not less than $50 to $500, such fees to be determined by the director.

The new bill puts on the mayor and councilmen in cities and the selectmen in towns the initial responsibility for licensing exhibitions, in that it provides that such exhibitions shall be held under such regulations as prescribed by such officials. Those regulations, however, must in each instance be approved by the director.

The bill also provides for the application for such approval must be accompanied by the license fee. If an application is disapproved by the director, the license fee of $25 shall be returned to the applicant.

The new draft is substantially the same as the bill reported by the committee on legal affairs, in its requirements of a physician at the ringside, physical conditions of contestants, etc., and a referendum to the voters of the cities and towns and does not provide for licensing exhibitions in which prizes offered contestants do not exceed $25.

TOTAL OF 700

White and King Lead in Two Men Rolling

Seven hundred was the total put up by White and King at the Crescent A. C. yesterday in the bowling tournament and the mark placed them at the top of the men rolling.

Gendron, Concanon and Flinders led in three-men competition, with King and Hayden in five-men bowling. The tournament will be extended two weeks, and that in addition to the regular five weeks, cash awards of $250 will be made. The leaders this week, with figures:

LOWELL SCHOOL TEAMS

FACE TOUGH GAMES

Lowell high school will continue its baseball schedule tomorrow afternoon when Concord, Mass., high will be its opponent at Spalding park. The local boys came out of the Lawrence game in good shape and although the last two contests have been reverses, the team will go from now on to make up for a lapse in form. Goldman and Linton probably will be Coach Donahue's battery selection.

Lowell Textile entertains Norwich University on the Moody street campus tomorrow afternoon in the first of a series of three games to wind up the season's schedule. Following Norwich will come Colby and New Hampshire State and then Middlesex County Training School band has been secured for these last three games, which should result in some of the best school baseball seen in the city for some time.

CHALIFOUX TEAM HAS WINNING EDGE

In a game limited to seven innings, the Chalifoux baseball team defeated the Bon Marche nine on the South common yesterday afternoon by the score of 5 to 3. The game, originally scheduled for nine innings, had to be curtailed because of a grammar school league game. The batteries: Chalifoux, Curran and Curran; Bon Marche, Para and Wholey.

NEW ONE-MAN SAFETY CAR GETS SUCCESSFUL TRYOUT IN LOWELL

MAYOR THOMPSON READY TO BEGIN DUTIES AS MOTORMAN

The inauguration of one-man safety car service on the lines of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway company in this city yesterday afternoon proved a distinct success from every viewpoint, and the preliminary exercises arranged by officials of the road as a prelude to the actual operation of the new type cars on the Oakland-Pawtucketville routes next Sunday clearly demonstrated the merits that may be expected from the new service.

With Mayor Perry D. Thompson piloting one of the brand new cars over the full distance of the Christian Hill-Pawtucketville route and some 25 invited guests and officials as passengers, the initial demonstration of the safety cars aroused widespread attention along the "route of parade," and proved most effective in introducing the new service to the public.

The car used for the dedicatory exercises took on its mayoralty "corow" and passengers in front of city hall, included in the party besides His Honor were Mrs. Thompson, Commissioner James E. Donnelly, Commissioner George E. Marchand, City Messenger Owen A. Monahan, Thomas Lees, manager of the Lowell district of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway company; Fred J. Crowley, one of the trustees of the company; Fred W. Cummings, its publicity agent; John J. O'Rourke, chairman, and Mrs. E. N. Burke, John E. Sullivan, Frank Ricard, Edward B. Carney and John E. Curtin, members of the home rule committee of the railway company; George F. Toye, private secretary to Mayor Thompson; Miss Alice E. Kelley, also of the mayor's secretarial force; Miss Margaret M. Flanagan and Miss Blanche Burrell of Manager Lees' office; Charles Whalen, chief instructor of the company in the operation of one-man cars; G. H. Martin and G. L. Bradford of the Westinghouse Electric Traction Co., designers of the car's electrical equipment; Motorman Chas. St. Lawrence, who was the mayor's instructor; James Ryan, another member of the local company's operating force; Miss Fannie A. Thompson, Daniel Cosgrove, Benjamin Pickett and others.

Mayor Thompson proved very adept at the brakes and was frequently accused by his passengers of having had previous experience. His Honor wore the regulation motorman's cap, and somebody remarked that it was the first time that anybody had a chance to "get his number."

At the end of the Pawtucketville line Manager Lees introduced Mr. Martin of the Westinghouse Electric Traction Co., who explained in detail the purpose of the one-man car, its features as distinguished from the old type of car, and said that its designers intended that two of this type car be run where one of the old two-men cars had previously been run, thus bringing about no decrease in the number of employees needed. In many cities where the new style car has been put into service, he said, instead of reducing the number of employees, it has actually increased them. Whether this will prove true in Lowell depends upon the patronage of the new cars.

Even in winter weather the one-man car, like the Ford, has proved its ability to go wherever and whenever larger cars have been able to go. During the past severe weather the cars were given thorough tests and found to meet every requirement.

Following Mr. Martin's remarks, the passengers reversed their seats and the car made its way back downtown and over to Christian Hill. Upon the return trip Mayor Thompson relinquished his post and was given a vote of thanks. Mr. St. Lawrence, the regular motorman, took his place at the brakes, and Mr. Whalen, the company's chief instructor, had the various brakes, safety appliances, etc., connected with the new style car tried out on the steep grades of Christian Hill. He explained the absolute safety of the car under all conditions. The car then brought its passengers back to city hall, the entire trip taking slightly less than an hour and a half.

Description of the Car

The one-man safety car seats 32 passengers. They weigh less than half as much as the types of cars hitherto used and start and stop much more quickly.

The cars are so equipped with safety devices that they cannot be started until the door is closed and the door cannot be opened until they come to a dead stop. The entrance and exit are in front and the rear platform is entirely enclosed.

Rapid acceleration and braking, which are among the chief factors in increasing schedule speed, are made possible by new motors and braking equipment which have been specially developed for this type of car. The trucks are non-oscillating, thus preventing a rocking motion so common in a former type of single truck cars.

The axles and motor shafts are anti-friction bearing.

In appearance, the cars are most attractive. They are painted and varnished a shade of cadmium yellow. The interior is finished in cherry and the ceiling down to the tops of the windows is in white enamel. The ornamentation and lettering are in gold-bronze. The seats fold back like those in a theatre, permitting a passenger on the inside to pass the passenger on the outside, when both are standing, without treading on toes.

The cars are equipped with ventilating shafts and shutter devices so that ventilation may be regulated to suit the desires of the passengers.

A Few Suggestions

The method of fare-payment will be precisely the same as now in vogue in Lowell. The only difference in the passenger's conduct will be that instead of having two doors at his command there will be but one. He will enter and leave by the forward door always. If he is going away from Merrimack square he will drop his fare in the coin box at the motorman's elbow when he is about to get off the car. If he is coming into the city, he will drop his fare in the box as he boards the car as is now the case. But instead of getting on at the rear door, he will board the car at the front door.

The necessity of the passenger having the exact fare is more urgent on the one-man car than on any of the other types hitherto in use. If the motorman must stop to make change, it necessarily follows that he will have to delay starting his car and thus the prime purpose of the one-man car—better service—will be defeated.

The following suggestions have been made by officials of the company for the benefit of people who will use the new type of car:

1. Have your fare ready when you board the car. When the operator has to make change, the trip is delayed.
2. Do not engage the operator in unnecessary conversation. His entire attention should be centered on his work.

3. When you enter the car move to the rear seat. This will prevent congestion at the front where people are getting on and off.

4. When you desire to get off, press the button above your seat and be as near the front of the car as possible when it stops. The seats fold up so that you can make your way to the aisles easily. The doors cannot be opened until the car comes to a full stop, so you run no risk.

Home Rule Committee Meeting

Following the demonstration of the new car yesterday afternoon, the members of the home rule committee met in the mayor's reception room for their regular semi-monthly session.

A petition from officials of the United States Cartridge Co. for the extension of the railway zone limit in South Lowell so that employees of the South Lowell plant of the Cartridge Co. may ride to and from work for 6¢, instead of 10 cents was considered, but the committee voted that inasmuch as it had previously gone on record as being opposed to any zone extensions until the company's finances improve, to notify the petitioners of the situation and refuse their request for the present.

The matter of reducing the fare between Lowell and Lakeview park during the summer months from 15 to 10 cents was favorably acted upon, the committee voting to request Manager Lees to take the matter up with the trustees.

In the course of the meeting Mr. Lees made frequent mention of the fact that there may be an increase in local fare rates if the expenses of the company continue to mount and it is found that there is not enough revenue to carry on its work.

The meeting was called at 4.30. Messrs. Campbell and Durfee were absent.

Mayor Thompson said that Martin Conway and Edward Brady of the United States Cartridge Co. were in his office and desired to speak about fare conditions in South Lowell. It was agreed to have the gentlemen heard.

Mr. Brady said that at the South Lowell plant of the Cartridge Co. there are 250 people employed but 100 or 150 people walk into the city because they are not willing to pay a 10-cent fare. The tickets issued by the company are not good as far as the plant. The buildings are but a short distance from the end of the ticket zone limit. It was desired that the zone limit be extended to the plant.

Manager Lees said that similar requests had been received from patrons of other lines and the committee had gone on record as being opposed to further zone extensions until the finances of the company permit them. Mr. Conway said that two-thirds of the help in question live south of the postoffice, most of them in the Grove district. All they wished was the right to use the tickets on extra cars in the morning and evening. The tickets at present are of no use to them.

Manager Lees said that the South Lowell line earns less than other lines on which a longer ride is given. Even when work at the cartridge shop was at its height in 1917 and a large number of cars were run on the South

Lowell line, there was no profit for the company because the cars had to run from the car barn to the plant empty.

"If you give this extension to South Lowell," Mr. Lees said to the home rule committee, "you can't consistently refuse people on other lines."

Mr. Sullivan thought that people who live in the vicinity of the cartridge shop should be considered as well as the people who work there.

Mr. Conway said that the zone extension would not benefit the Cartridge Co., but its employees.

May Increase Fares

Manager Lees said that he didn't wish to dominate the committee but he would like to suggest that the matter be taken under advisement until some decision is reached relative to the wage increase petition of the company's employees. This petition is now being arbitrated, he said, and it is very probable that an increase will be granted. It may be possible that fare rates in Lowell will have to be increased to meet financial demands upon the company.

Mr. Sullivan moved that the matter be taken up later on in the meeting, and it was so voted.

Mrs. Burke entered a complaint from a resident of Varnum avenue relative to the actions of a certain conductor on that line in carrying a passenger beyond her stop. Manager Lees said he would investigate.

Mr. Sullivan brought up the matter of congestion in Merrimack square. He said that very often motormen had to get off their cars to throw switches. Sometimes the starters do it. He wanted to know if they were supposed to do it all the time.

Manager Lees said it was not a duty of the starter to throw switches. A man is kept there during rush hours for that express purpose.

Chairman O'Rourke wanted to know if a man couldn't be kept there all the time.

Mr. Lees said that it would cost considerable because union wages would have to be paid.

10-Cent Fare to Lakeview

Chairman O'Rourke brought up the matter of 10-cent fares to Lakeview from May 30 to Labor day. At present the fare is 15 cents, or 12¢ cents if a ticket is used. Manager Lees thought favorably of the matter because he believed it would bring more business. He said Harry C. Kitzredge, who runs the park, had asked for a fare reduction.

Secretary Curtin moved that Manager Lees be requested to take the matter up with the trustees, and it was so voted.

Mr. Ricard brought up the matter of having a boulevard run parallel with the Merrimack river from the Textile school down toward the city. No action was taken.

Mr. Ricard also broached the matter of a belt line covering the Belvidere section and coming through Gornham street. Another similar line would cover Pawtucketville. He thought the idea would mean improved service, although considerable new trackage would have to be laid.

Manager Lees believed the matter might be considered later, but the present lack of capital would prevent its immediate consideration.

Chairman O'Rourke again brought up the Cartridge Co. zone extension petition.

Mr. Carney said he didn't believe that at present the road's finances would allow it.

Mr. Sullivan thought if the ticket privilege should be extended to anybody, it should be given to everybody.

It was finally voted on motion of Mr. Sullivan to refer the petitioners to a vote taken by the committee on April 7, whereby no extensions are to be granted until the road's finances are improved.

DIRECT SENTENCES FOR RECKLESS DRIVERS

Fulfilling his promise that defendants charged with violation of auto laws, especially reckless driving, would be severely dealt with, Judge Enright served one direct sentence in police court this morning upon a man who pleaded guilty to drunkenness and operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor.

Wilfred L. Pigeon, who pleaded guilty to such a charge, through his counsel, was sentenced to 30 days in the house of correction and fined $10 for the separate charge of drunkenness. An appeal was entered and the defendant was ordered the sum of $300 for his appearance in superior court on the first Monday in June.

Other Offenders

Joseph Corbin and Hugo Smith, both charged with failure to give the necessary signal from their automobiles when they were approaching Smith street on Westford on May 9, were let down with 30 fines as first offenders.

A woman, owner of a horse and buggy, was brought before the court on the charge of leaving her carriage in Prescott street over the time allowed by the traffic rules. Upon statement of her unintentional offense and ignorance of the rules in that respect she was released.

The charge against Ettore Manni complaining that he used an auto without authority was dismissed this morning on request by the counsel for the defendant that civil satisfaction had been made and that it was satisfactory.

STEPHEN GARRITY

Local Health Department Inspector Died Today

Selphen Garrity, for the past 30 years inspector of plumbing of the local health department and one of its most valued employees, died this morning at his home, 103 Bowers street, after an illness of only a week and a half. He was 66 years old.

Mr. Garrity was appointed plumbing inspector of the department on February 23, 1890, and held the position continuously until within two weeks ago, when he was compelled to give up his work. He had been in poor health for the past year or so, but was able to continue his duties.

For years he had been a devout looker at St. Patrick's church and took a prominent part in its various activities. In his work as plumbing inspector, he brought to his duties efficiency and conscientious application. Personally, he was a man who readily made friends with those whom he met in his daily work.

He is survived by his wife, Mary A. Garrity; three sons, Stephen Curtis Garrity, junior vice commander of the local post of the American Legion; Edward T. Garrity and Francis N. Garrity.

BIG CAMPAIGN LAGGING

Salvation Army Drive Ends

Next Thursday With $13,000 Yet to be Raised

The Salvation Army campaign for $20,000 in Lowell is lagging. It closes next Thursday, the 20th, and between today and the end, the public must bespeak its appreciation of the work of this organization in terms of approximately $13,000. If the drive is to succeed locally, "We have real work ahead," said Vice Chairman James B. Casey today, commenting upon the noon report of $2287.90, "and it must be evident to every worker that the goal cannot be reached unless there is co-operation and co-ordinated hustling."

The standing of the teams, with the amounts previously reported, today's contributions and the individual total in each case follow:

WHOOPIING COUGH CASES SHOULD BE REPORTED

A rapidly increasing number of deaths during the past month and a half among children, caused by disease in which whooping cough was the original factor, has caused Agent Francis J. O'Hare to issue a warning to all Lowell parents and others having children under their care to report to the board of health as soon as possible any case of whooping cough which may come to their attention.

Parents are compelled by law to report such cases. Even though a doctor is not called, the duty of reporting whooping cough, no matter how slight the case may appear at first sight, devolves upon the parent. If a doctor is called, he reports the case.

So far this month there have been 11 cases of whooping cough and last month there were 20.

Within the past few days two or three deaths were caused by whooping cough or associated diseases but the report of actual death was the first notice the health authorities received of the cases in question.

Agent O'Hare said that yesterday a mother brought a child into the dispensary at city hall to be vaccinated. It was clearly evident that the child was suffering from whooping cough and should have been kept at home. Danger of contagion by other children was thus made available. No child suffering from whooping cough should be allowed to mingle with other children. The family physician should be called and his advice followed. There are many people, Agent O'Hare says, who look upon whooping cough as a trivial child's disease but its danger lies in the fact that it is liable to develop into pneumonia.

Above all, the health authorities should be notified at once when a case develops.

ADJUSTMENT OF WAGES UPWARD

BIDDEFORD, Me., May 14.—Notices were posted today in the shops of the Saco-Lowell Machine Co., announcing an "adjustment of wages upward," no percentage of increase being stated. The new wage will go into effect in the machine departments on June 1st, and in the foundry section July 1st. About 1700 hands will be affected.

Wage Increase Here

Inquiry at the Saco-Lowell shops in this city today brought out the fact that an adjustment of wages upward has been announced to the operatives through the shop overseers. No percentage basis was mentioned. The increase affects approximately 2000 men.

LAY OFF HELP AT WOONSOCKET

WOONSOCKET, R. I., May 14.—Woonsocket mills, hit by shortage of orders are eliminating their night shifts and according to reliable reports, will shorten their working week in the near future.

ROBBER KILLED IN 2-HOUR BATTLE

Chicago Rifle Squad Trapped and Shot Train Bandit Who Stole $100,000

Robber Had Overpowered Five Mail Clerks on Train —Officer Dies of Wounds

CHICAGO, May 14.—A rifle squad of the Chicago police early today cornered and shot a train robber who a short time before had overpowered five mail clerks on an Illinois Central railroad train and stole currency estimated at $100,000. The money was recovered.

"Inside Information"

The robber boarded the train at Gilman, about 50 miles south of Chicago, and worked his way forward to the mail car where he compelled one of the clerks to tie the hands and feet of the others. Then according to J. P. Walker, one of the clerks, he walked directly to the mail sack containing the currency remarking: "This stuff is easy when you have the inside information."

After packing the money into a satchel, the robber sat down and for the next hour guarded the helpless clerks. The train arrived at the 63rd street station about 1 a. m., and the intruder got off without attracting attention. A few blocks away, however, two policemen accosted him. His reply was a shot which fatally wounded Patrolman William A. Roberts. The officer was rushed to the hospital where he passed away.

Trapped By Officers

Dropping the bag of money the bandit fled into a nearby apartment house where he was trapped by policemen, who had arrived at the scene at the sound of the shooting. A rifle squad was summoned and after two hours of sniping by both sides the robber was killed.

Meanwhile Chief Clerk Elmer F. Harries in the mail coach had succeeded in loosening his bonds and pulled the cord, stopping the train not far from the station where the robber had left. He notified the police only to learn that the robber already had been cornered.

SPOKANE, Wash., May 14.—Nine thousand dollars in a single package of currency was held up just before midnight by two holdup men, who struck and kicked the American Railroad Express Co. agent at the Great Northern station here into insensibility, according to the agent, H. A. Peterson. He said the men were able to enter the money cage because of a defective lock on its door.

Approximately $5000 in sacked silver was left scattered about the floor of the room.

STOP BUYING CANDY AND ICE CREAM

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 14.—A period devoid of candy and ice cream soda is facing the members of the Housewives' league of Marion county, if they obey the resolution adopted by the organization as an effort toward reducing the price of sugar and increasing the supply.

The members have agreed to "abstain from buying candy and soft drinks, ice cream and such other luxuries that require sugar in their preparation until there is a surplus and a reduction in price." All women of the state and nation are urged to join "this crusade against the high cost of living and profiteering."

Britain to Establish Military Posts in Ireland--Soldiers As Body Guard For Police

SIMS' CHARGE FULLY REFUTED

Own Testimony Proved Accusation "Fallacious and Baseless," Says Daniels

Presents Statistics Showing Sims' Estimate of Prolongation of War False

WASHINGTON, May 14.—White House officials said today that President Wilson's war time address to the Atlantic fleet and message to Rear Admiral Sims were laid before the senate naval investigating committee by Secretary Daniels with the full consent and approval of the president.

The British admiralty was criticized in both of the documents and reports published here said that because of this the president might reprimand the secretary for making them.

Rear Admiral Sims' "fallacious and baseless" charge that the navy department delays prolonged the war four months unnecessarily, was "practically the only charge of unfavorable results from the many alleged sins of omission and commission," the officer had ascribed to the department, Secretary Daniels today told the senate naval investigating committee. It was fully refuted, he added, by the admiral's own testimony.

"The charge of the prolongation of the war was a scintilla and serious one," said the secretary. "It was made with reckless disregard of the facts and the reasoning and statistics adduced in its support are those which one might expect to find in the fantastic tales of a Baron Munchausen."

Admiral Sims based his estimate of an unnecessary loss of 500,000 lives on an average loss for the allies of 3000 men a day, Mr. Daniels said.

"The loss of 3000 men a day for four months," he added, "falls short of half a million, but of course, half a million sounds more impressive than the figure which would have been arrived at by correct arithmetic."

The admiral based the charge on the assumption that had there been a million American soldiers in France by March, 1918, the war would have ended four months sooner, Mr. Daniels said, and completed the reasoning by assuming the tonnage losses of 1917 prevented carrying that number of troops overseas by that date and that failure of the American navy to co-operate heartily in the first four months of the war resulted in the heavy tonnage losses.

"It is not necessary to wander far into the realms of statistics or technical questions to show the absolute fallacy of Admiral Sims' claim," Mr. Daniels continued. He informed the committee that the net tonnage available for the allies May 1, 1917, was 27,000,000 tons. It is a matter of common knowledge that on May 1, 1918 the tonnage was less than on May 1, 1917. Testimony given by Admiral Sims would indicate that the net loss during the year was about 2,000,000 tons. This is probably a sufficiently close estimate for practical purposes.

"Now then, owing to the tonnage losses of 1917 and the early part of 1918, the net tonnage available to the allies had been reduced from 27,000,000 on May 1, 1917, to 25,000,000 on May 1, 1918. Yet, it is admitted by Admiral Sims that in the spring of 1918, American troops were transported to France at the rate of nearly 300,000 a month or more than 10 times the rate to which he said transportation had been restricted in 1917 because of the destruction of tonnage.

"This simple fact refutes absolutely Admiral Sims' statement that the tonnage losses of 1917 and the early part of 1918 prevented carrying that number of troops overseas by that date and that failure of the American navy to co-operate heartily in the first four months of the war resulted in the heavy tonnage losses."

QUESTIONNAIRES TO GROCERS

Called Upon to Make Known Their Margin of Profit by State Commission

Evidence of Undue Profits Will Be Turned Over to Department of Justice

BOSTON, May 14.—The retail grocers of the state are called upon to make known their margin of profit in questionnaires sent out today by the state commission on the necessities of life. The commission expects to obtain returns from 7000 grocers on each of 27 staple articles of food, including sugar.

The figures contained in these answers will be referred to local fair price committees and evidence of undue profits will be turned over to the department of justice for federal prosecution. Similar questionnaires will be sent out next week to wholesale grocers.

REGULATE SUGAR SALES

Local Fair Price Committee to Organize Drive Against "Combination Sales"

Plans for an organized campaign against local storekeepers who have been compelling customers who wish to buy sugar to buy a number of other articles in order to get the former commodity will be outlined at a meeting of Lowell's fair price committee to be held next Monday afternoon in the mayor's reception room at city hall.

At the call of Mayor Perry D. Thompson, who believes the situation has reached a stage locally where something should be done to curb the so-called "combination sales" here, resulting from the scarcity of sugar, the members of the fair price committee will assemble to get the ideas of its various members, the mayor and others relative to the proper mode of procedure.

A law has recently been passed making such "combination sales" illegal and penalties are provided for those found guilty. Warren P. Riordan, sealer of weights and measures and a member of the fair price committee, has been active in keeping an eye on dealers suspected of such sales but he has had little or no authority to make actual prosecutions.

However, in a letter addressed today to Herbert J. Boynton, United States district attorney for this district, Mr. Riordan, in his office as secretary of the fair price committee, asks that the committee be given authority to make full and complete investigation of all complaints relative to sugar sales. His letter follows:

Hon. Thomas J. Boynton, Boston, Mass.

Dear Sir:—As secretary of the Lowell Fair Price committee, I am writing you for information regarding the enforcement of the margin of profit to be allowed on sales of sugar, one cent a pound for wholesale and two cents a pound at retail.

In this city at the present time prices range from 24 cents to 33 cents per pound.

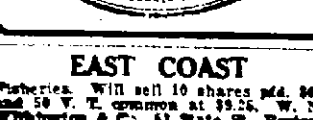

This committee desires to co-operate with you in the above regulations, but feels it has not the power to do so. In short, give us authority to make full and complete investigation of all complaints, and we, in turn, promise you results.

Sincerely,
WARREN P. RIORIAN,
Secretary Lowell Fair Price Com.

IRISH SITUATION CAUSES ALARM

Report British Government to Appeal to Country in Effort to Fix Definite Policy

Must Accept Challenge of Civil War or Agree to Establish Irish Republic

DUBLIN, May 14.—The plan of General Sir Nevil MacReady, commander of the government forces in Ireland, looking to closer co-operation between the police and the military in an effort to suppress the disorders in Ireland, involves the establishment of military posts in isolated districts where the police barracks had to be abandoned because of attacks upon them, it is stated here on apparently good authority.

The opinion of the British authorities seems to be that the disorders in Ireland, which they regard as acts of rebellion, call for the use of soldiers instead of police. Previously the police have been largely occupied with work which is essentially of a military nature, and the criticism from the popular side is that the police are not now really a civil force, as they ought to be.

In line with this view, the military are already doing the patrol work, which is a dangerous job and hitherto had been left for the most part to the police. The military are endeavoring to check the excesses of the land agitation in the west of Ireland. Cavalry has been employed to prevent cattle driving and some of the western towns which have been the centres of this trouble have cavalry contingents quartered in them.

The proposal to establish military posts is resented by many of the Irish people, who regard it as the setting up of the blockhouse system, which was first tried in South Africa in the Boer war.

Rumors of differences of opinion between the leading men in the government of Ireland and no confirmation in official circles. Viscount French, the Lord Lieutenant, Sir Hamar Greenwood, the chief secretary for Ireland and General MacReady, are to all appearances on the best terms and in agreement as regards the determination of their various spheres of activity. In the future, Lord French will have the least to do. Hilbert, he has been performing duties usually attended to by subordinates. Sir Hamar Greenwood's task has been mainly concerned with political decisions and in extending guidance on matters of civil administration.

The chief secretary's inclination, according to official quarters, is decidedly against the arrest and punishment of men for mere opinions they may hold, no matter how distasteful those opinions may be to the government, but he is asserted to be at one with the other chiefs in the government on the necessity of enforcing the law and penalizing overt acts and outrages.

General MacReady it appears has a poor opinion of the efficiency, so far of the government machine and he expects to be able to improve it, especially along the line of co-operation between the police and the military which will bring about the governmental purpose of effective suppression of disorders.

To Vote on Irish Policy

LONDON, May 14.—Decision by the government to make an appeal to the country by a general election in an effort to fix upon a definite Irish policy has been reached according to rumors current in London. In well informed circles, these rumors are ridiculed, however, and there has been nothing to confirm them.

New Bedford Bakers Strike

NEW BEDFORD, May 14.—The strike called by bakers in this city went into effect today, when master bakers failed to sign an agreement with the union. All the prepared work on the benches was completed before the bakers walked out. Approximately 100 workers are affected, several of the smaller firms having agreed to the demands of $45 weekly for foremen, $38 for second bakers, $35 for bench hands, $25 for two year apprentices and $20 for one year apprentices.

WOULD JOIN LEAGUE

Applications by Four of the Smallest Countries in World Create Interest

NEW YORK, May 14.—Applications by four of the smallest countries in the world—Iceland, the Republic of Georgia, San Marino and Luxembourg—for admission to the League of Nations, which are to come before the council of the League when it convenes shortly in Rome, Italy, have awakened interest in these lands and peoples.

Iceland, which until 1918 belonged to Denmark, has a population of approximately 70,000 and an area of 39,999 square miles. It was discovered by Norsemen in the 10th century and continued as a republic until 1824, when it united with Norway. In 1918 it was taken by Denmark in whose hands it remained until two years ago, when in full agreement with the mother country, under a principle of self-determination Iceland proclaimed its independence. King Christian of Denmark, honored his former colony by sending a warship to salute the Icelandic national flag.

The Danish government in 1913 forbade the manufacture or sale of intoxicants and the parliament of Iceland subsequently enacted a prohibition law, making the 19 systems of prohibition in the country's three arms or provinces forever "dry." Icelandic women have long had the right to vote.

Reykjavik and Akureyri, the principal villages of Iceland, are on the coast, which is a belt of rich pasture land. The interior is a vast plateau 2000 or more feet above sea level composed largely of sand and lava desert and practically destitute of grass or trees excepting a few hardy heathes. There are no roads. For centuries Iceland was the centre of volcanic eruptions, the lava fields covering an area of 1500 square miles.

Georgia, formerly ancient Iveria, a part of Russian Trans-Caucasia, is populated by a people who call themselves Kartli and who are known by the neighboring Persians as Guri. The seats of government are Tiflis and Guria. In the third century they constituted a mighty state which lasted until 1421 when it was divided into three parts. In 1800 Georgia was incorporated in the Russian empire.

The population of Georgia at the time she declared her independence of Russia, on May 26, 1918, was about 3,000,000. Eighty per cent of the Georgians are farmers. On March 17 last the independence of Georgia was recognized by Italy. Under the Turkish peace treaty Batumi is to become a free port.

San Marino or Serranino, is not only one of the smallest but one of the oldest republics in Europe. It is enclosed by three Italian provinces and consists of a craggy mountain 2420 feet high on which is the town and some circumjacent terraces with four or five villages. The population prior to the war was about 5000. San Marino furnished an army to the allies. The chief industry is agriculture, including the raising of cattle. The legislature of the republic is composed of a senate of 60 members elected for life, equally from the ranks of peasants, citizens and nobles. Two presidents are chosen by the senate every six months.

Luxembourg, which lies between Rhenish Prussia, Belgium and Alsace-Lorraine, and which was occupied by the Germans during the war, was made a grand duchy in 1815 by the king of the Netherlands. In 1867 it was declared neutral territory by the treaty of London. It has belonged, however, since 1912 and until the signing of the Versailles treaty to the Zollverein or German Customs union.

The population of Luxembourg before the war was approximately 250,000 living in an area of about 1600 square miles. Walloon French is spoken in a few villages, but the language of the people is chiefly a German dialect.

After the armistice in the world war, the Germans evacuated Luxembourg, a revolution occurred, but was halted by the allies. The American troops passed through the country and were well received. The grand duchess Marie whose abdication had been demanded by a mob fled from the country and a republic was proclaimed. This new government, however, existed only a few hours. The parliament called for a plebiscite to decide the future form of government and the people voted for a restoration of the grand duchy, electing as grand duchess, the Princess Charlotte, sister of Marie.

came out in opposition to the president's position on the treaty issue. Mr. King who voted for some of the Lodge reservations, expressed belief that the San Francisco platform would not follow the president's wishes.

A status of peace must be obtained in some other way if it cannot be secured by ratification of the treaty, said Senator Kellogg. "Not only is it necessary to the industries of this country and its trade, but it is important that the war powers of the president should cease. The time has come when something must be done."

"The president has iterated and reiterated his determination that the senate abrogate its functions and accept the treaty exactly as it was presented to this country through foreign powers. All lovers of American liberty, American independence, believers in the destiny of this nation, can appeal to the tribunal of public opinion with absolute confidence."

Congress Has Power, Lenroot's View
Senator Lenroot, in the course of his speech said: "The resolution establishes a peace status so far as the United States is concerned, and without question, I think, congress has the power so to declare."

Senator Colt, republican, Rhode Island, agreed with Senator Lenroot that Germany would have to enact a similar peace resolution to effect a full legal peace.

Senator Lenroot wanted to know if Senator Hitchcock and other opponents of the resolution desired "to take the position that the president can ignore the senate and treat with contempt the sentiment of the people?" and keep this country at war, against the will of congress, against the will of the overwhelming majority of the people."

"If they do, they plead for an autocracy on the part of the president," said he.

"If the San Francisco convention follows the will of the president," said Mr. Lenroot, "the issue will be the acceptance of this treaty as negotiated by the president and with all its surrender of the liberties and independence of the country."

Senator King replied that Senator Lenroot was not a "good prophet" if he thinks the San Francisco convention will make any such declaration.

PLAN FOR SEPARATE PEACE IS REJECTED

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The senate agreed yesterday to vote at 4 o'clock next Saturday on the republican peace resolution.

The arrangement followed an important revision of the measure by the republican leadership in striking out the clause requesting the president to negotiate a separate peace treaty with Germany in order to "establish friendly relations and commercial intercourse."

The resolution as left for the vote Saturday declares the status of war with Germany and Austria ended and in effect repeals the president's war-time powers.

This change was made by unanimous consent after negotiation between Senator Lodge, republican leader, and Senator Underwood of Alabama, the democratic leader.

Mr. Lodge's motion to strike out was made at the conclusion of an address by Senator Kellogg, republican, Minnesota, supporting the resolution, and it came as a surprise. Senator Lodge did not explain the reasons for his motion.

Adoption of the resolution is conceded by democratic opponents with a veto by President Wilson regarded as equally certain. House republican leaders said the senate resolution probably will be sent to conference. Some leaders were said to favor immediate acceptance of the Knox resolution by the house.

King Says Party Will Not Obey

Addresses were made yesterday in support of the resolution by Senators Kellogg of Minnesota and Lenroot of Wisconsin, republicans. Both charged President Wilson with delaying peace by his position on the treaty and predicted republican success in November if the treaty issues were carried into the campaign as he had urged. Senator King, democrat, of Utah,

Dry Law Would Have Been Defeated in Secret Session

RICHMOND, Va., May 14.—Vice President Marshall, speaking yesterday before the Virginia Bar association, said that if national prohibition had been considered by the senate in secret session not 20 votes would have been cast for it.

Asserting that there should be less tinkering with the constitution, the vice president expressed the opinion that constitutional amendments had not contributed "to the peace and good order of society and had brought a very large measure of evil to the republic."

Mr. Marshall predicted that in the future the country would be faced by the question of government of law or of men, declaring that only two men—Samuel Gompers and Judge Elbert H. Gary—now are consulted on public issues.

By a rising vote the association favored the nomination of Mr. Marshall for the presidency.

Wilson Vetoes Supply Bill— Sees Attempt to Censor Government Printing

WASHINGTON, May 14.—President Wilson yesterday informed congress that in his opinion the legislative branch of the government was showing an increasing tendency to interfere unduly with the exercise of executive functions.

Taking as a vehicle for his administration a sharply phrased veto of the annual legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, the president declared that one of the riders of the big supply measure would muzzle executive officials with a "censorship" regulated by the congressional joint committee on printing.

Immediately the president's position both on the general principle involved and the specific case cited was challenged by republican leaders of the senate and house. Senator Smoot, republican, Utah, chairman of the joint committee, declared in a formal statement that the president apparently has been "deliberately misinformed" about the appropriation bill, and Representative Good, republican, Iowa, chairman of the house appropriations committee, said the house that "there must be some mistake somewhere."

Whether re-passage of the bill unchanged will be attempted or whether the feature objected to by the president will be eliminated had not been decided tonight. The measure carries $164,800,000 for salaries and miscellaneous expenses of many government departments, and it must be approved in some form by the end of June or these funds will lapse.

The president also cited several other measures enacted or proposed in the present congress to support his charge that there had been "an invasion of the province of the executive, calculated to result in unwarranted interference in the processes of good government." He said that some of these measures he had permitted to become law as temporary experiments, but that he felt the time had come to call a halt before "destructive" precedents had been established.

The Cause of Veto

The section of the appropriation bill which led to the veto would prohibit the printing or mimeographing of any government publication except by authority of the joint committee. Such a provision, said the president, would give to the committee "power to determine what information shall be given to the people of the country by the executive departments."

"Without raising any constitutional question," the president said, "I think that this section would give the congressional joint committee on printing power to exercise censorship over the executive departments in an encroachment on the functions of the executive and incompatible with good government."

"I am in entire sympathy with the efforts of the congress and the departments to effect economies in printing and in the use of paper and supplies, but I do not believe that such a provision as this should become law."

"The congress has the power and the right to grant or deny an appropriation or to enact or refuse to enact a law; but once an appropriation is made

or a law is passed the appropriation should be administered or the law executed by the executive branch of the government.

"I regard the provision in question as an invasion of the province of the executive and calculated to result in unwarranted interference in the processes of good government, producing confusion, irritation and distrust. The proposal assumes significance as an outstanding illustration of a growing tendency which I am sure is not fully realized by the congress itself and certainly not by the people of the country."

Both Senator Smoot and Representative Good, however, asserted that the committee already had been given control over government publications by an act which the president signed on March 1, 1919, and that the purpose of the present provision was to extend that power so meritorious periodicals could be continued.

"There are now 155 government publications printed without any authority of law," said Mr. Good. "They exist only by authority of the joint committee. The bill which the president approved in March, 1919, was more sweeping than the one now vetoed."

A row between the joint committee and Roger W. Babson, formerly connected with the committee on public information was blamed for the president's action by Senator Smoot, who said in his statement that Babson apparently had "made use of the president or his advisors in carrying out his threat and determination to end the censorship, which without the least foundation, he has charged against the joint committee."

"The president or his advisors have been most grievously misled in this veto," Senator Smoot continued, adding that under the authority granted in 1919 the printing committee had determined that departmental publications were costing approximately $2,500,000 a year and that by voluntary act of the departments or regulation of the committee $1,200,000 of this had been cut off. Publications remaining included "many of the most important" issued by the government, he said, and the provision which prompted the president to use his veto power was designed to empower the committee "to permanently authorize these periodicals, and 'not for the purpose of censoring or suppressing them.'"

"I was led to believe," he said, "that the section was favored by those in the departments who are really posted about the situation. In fact, not a single word in opposition to it was expressed prior to the president's veto except by Mr. Babson himself."

"If any meritorious publications are suppressed, the responsibility for that will rest on the president for his veto of the bill, which would have made their continuance possible."

MAY FORM LEGION AUXILIARY HERE

Members of the 101st Ladies' auxiliary were addressed at the regular meeting last evening at the American Legion headquarters at the Community club by Arthur P. Moran, vice commander of the local post of the legion on the possibility of forming a legion auxiliary in Lowell. The matter was discussed at length but no definite action taken.

Mrs. William H. Merritt, the president, was in the chair at the meeting. The resignation of Mrs. George Marshall, chairman of the comfort committee, was received, and Mrs. Peter Flannagan elected her successor. Mrs. Marshall had held the office since the inception of the auxiliary and had given valuable service. She was tendered a rising vote of thanks by the members.

The committee in charge of the minstrel show and dance to be held in Talbot hall, North Billerica, on the evening of June 4 reported that the Broadway Social and Athletic club had offered its minstrel troupe for the affair. Mrs. John Handley was elected chairman of the refreshment committee.

It was voted to accept the invitation of the American Legion to hear Col. Edward L. Logan at the state armory in Westford street next Wednesday evening.

Following the business meeting a program of entertainment was enjoyed. It included songs by Miss Bella Walsh, Miss McCaffrey, Miss Catherine Connors and Miss Ruth Gilmore; a recitation by Miss Margaret Tobin, and a Highland fling by Miss Alice Underwood. Miss Margaret Flannagan was accompanist of the evening. Luncheon was served before the meeting adjourned.

VOTE TO SUPPORT DEBS

Clothing Workers Also Call for Recognition of Soviet Russia

BOSTON, May 14.—A resolution calling for the full and complete recognition of the soviet republic of Russia was passed unanimously yesterday, and a copy ordered sent to President Wilson, by the delegates in session at the fourth biennial convention of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America at Ford hall. Prolonged cheering greeted the reading of the resolution and it was passed without debate.

Another resolution passed that brought forth as great enthusiasm was one stating that the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, consisting of more than 200,000 men and women, had endorsed the candidacy of Eugene V. Debs for president of the United States and voted full financial as well as moral support.

A resolution that was voted down called for the giving of voice on clothing that the A.C.W.A. could not handle to independent unions rather than to the Federation of Labor. A 40-hour week resolution was not recommended by the committee and failed of adoption.

A year ago yesterday the clothing manufacturers in Chicago signed a contract with the A.C.W.A., which is now 100 per cent organized in that city and to observe the anniversary the Chicago delegation sent to the stage a tremendous bouquet of several dozen long stemmed American Beauty roses. Incidentally they presented a bouquet and gold mounted fountain pen to Assistant Secretary Jacob Potofsky. Previously President Hillman and General Secretary Schlossberg had been given pens and bouquets.

Miss Elizabeth Gurley Flynn got a tremendous ovation when she spoke in favor of the Workers' Defense league, organized, she said, on Armistice day, to get out of jail persons put in under war-time legislation.

The speaker said: "The espionage act did not go off the books on Armistice day as we expected, but others came along that made the espionage act look like the Declaration of Independence."

"Then came a crying need for ball and relief for thousands of foreign-born residents threatened with deportation. It mattered not if they were socialists, I.W.W.'s or communists. Any day it may take in members of unions. The attorney general sees red. He even sees Gompers as a red (much tilting and laughter), and in every May 1 picnic, he sees an incipient revolution. It remains for labor to consolidate its forces against such hysteria."

Dr. James Peter Warburton, president and founder of the Co-operative League of America, called upon the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America to join in the movement to

Unemployment Fund
BOSTON, May 14.—A resolution requesting their employees to set aside an unemployment fund out of their profits for the benefit of employees who are idle during slack periods in the industry, was adopted by the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, who closed their fourth biennial convention here today. The organization hopes to create a $10,000,000 fund in this manner. A resolution advocating a five-day week of 40 hours was defeated.

BOSTON, May 14.—Shoe workers from the Thomas G. About 700 workers walked out on May 14, 1919, in protest against the discharge of an employee, and since have been picketing the plant.

TEDDY BEAR "FULL"

Loaded With Whiskey—
Seized by Officers

NEW YORK, May 14.—A teddy bear whose mouth gave forth a strong odor aroused the curiosity yesterday of inquisitive customs inspectors searching the crew's quarters on the steamship More Castle at her pier in Brooklyn. They ripped off the bear's head and said they found a big canister of whiskey where sawdust and stuffing should have been. Three hot water bottles in the room of a strong and husky chef also caused suspicion. Their contents were poured into a pan and the inspectors took a sniff and a taste and unanimously decided it was whiskey.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

THE TWINS FOLLOW BEN BUNNY

After Nancy and Nick left Scramble put on her specks, and when she saw Squirrel sitting safely away up in the top of the alder tree out of reach of Fleet the Fox, they hurried to Ben Bunny's house to see how he felt about exchanging his ears for Scramble's bushy tail.

For some reason he had been delayed and was just reaching home as the twins arrived. So they hid behind a near-by bush because they didn't wish to be seen. They had promised Rubadub, the fairman, to find out if Ben was really happy about losing his ears, and this was the best way they could think of to do it.

MRS. BUNNY HAD SUCH A TURN THAT SHE DROPPED HER BEST SALAD BOWL AND SMASHED IT TO SMITHERS.

Mrs. Blossom Bunny was washing the dishes when he arrived and when he rushed into the kitchen swishing Scramble's long tail for very joy at getting home again. Mrs. Bunny had such a turn that she dropped her best salad bowl and smashed it to smithereens.

"Good land alive!" she cried, dropping into a chair, "but you did scare me, Scramble Squirrel. You don't generally come in without knocking, and I thought you were a burglar at first."

Ben Bunny laughed at that. "Take a good look at me, Blossom," he suggested, "and see who you think I am." So Blossom looked hard. She even without those everlasting long ears to give away my hiding hole. And second because perhaps I can learn to climb a tree with this fine tail to balance me. Besides, you'll find it useful to clean house with. Some dust-brush, eh?"

Gives Credit Through the Land

Backache, lame and stiff muscles and rheumatic pains are often symptoms of deranged kidneys. "I had weak bladder, bad kidneys and liver," writes Willie Carter, Luxar, Pa. "I could not sleep well and my back pained me awful. I had a dizzy feeling in the morning. Since taking Foley Kidney Pills I have been relieved of all such ailments. They rid the system of the poisonous acids that cause aches and pains." Burkshaw Drug Co., 418 Middlesex St., Moody's Drug Store, 301 Central St.—Ady.

DEAF STUDENTS "HEAR" WHISPERED DRAMA

NEW YORK—Students of the New York Deaf and Dumb Institute saw Barbara Milton and William Harrigan in "The Acquittal," and understood the entire play. This has convinced Barbara that lip reading is an exact science. A number of lines in the play are whispered and to be sure that these lines "went over," a full rehearsal was held for deaf and dumb students.

Charles W. Morse

CHARLES W. MORSE "IN DUTCH" AGAIN

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Charles W. Morse is "in dutch" again. With W. G. Mitchell, steamship captain, he has been indicted by the federal grand jury, on a charge of conspiring to sell the steamship John D. McCullough to a foreign government while the United States was at war. Morse pleaded not guilty. Conviction for the offense is five years in Atlanta pen or a $5000 fine, or both. When the case was in federal prison for frenzied financial transactions, some years ago, it was announced he had but a short time to live, and President Taft pardoned him.

In India if a man is not married at the latest by his 25th year his reputation suffers.

POLYGAMY DYING OUT IN PERSIA

TEHERAN, May 14.—Polygamy is dying out in Persia—another result of greatly advanced living costs, together with jealousy, which is becoming more marked a characteristic of Persian wives with the permeation of western ideas and standards in the east.

With this change has come another—the custom of having family names. A year ago the Persian government made it compulsory for people to adopt a surname. Before only peasants had any common name in the family, the upper classes possessing only one. A man, for instance, might be called Ghahtar simply, and his son Hassan, with nothing to show their relationship.

In some parts of Scotland the fishermen frequently call themselves by their wives' surnames. Thus, James Smith marries Mary Green. He calls himself, even in business affairs, "James Smith Green."

Tired, Weak, Dizzy Women with Headache, Pains—here and there—

Should find relief from their sufferings by taking the woman's temperance Tonic and Nervine, which has helped so many women—some of them right in your neighborhood.

When the household cares and the worries of everyday life have dragged you down, made you unhappy, and there is nothing in life but headache, backache and worry, turn to the right prescription, one gotten up by Doctor

Pierce fifty years ago, which has helped many thousands of women in this country. It is called Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and can be had in every drug store in the land, in tablet or liquid form.

A woman suffering from nervous prostration, excitability, or dizziness, derangement, or displacement of the special organs, will find health regained after using Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Here is what one says:

AUBURN, N. Y.—"A couple of years ago I suffered a severe nervous breakdown. I could not sleep and became weak and shaky that I could scarcely walk. I can't begin to tell how miserable I was. I was advised to take Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it completely restored me to health and cured me of my nervous condition. I can highly recommend 'Favorite Prescription' to women who suffer with nervousness of any sort."—MRS. CATHERINE WRIGHT, No. 122 Osborne Street.

Arlington Mill Blue SERGE

With absolute knowledge of the quality of this Blue Serge, knowing what I paid for it, knowing what I sold it to you a year ago, two years ago, yes, and four years hence, I would know I must have pleased you, even if constant demand and duplicate orders didn't prove it to my entire satisfaction. I want you to pass the word around among your friends, tell them exactly what you paid, tell them how the suit wore, tell them exactly how I pleased you.

MY OBJECT IS to interest them in the BLUE SERGE SUIT I am selling this season for $27.50. I bought last week, 18 pieces for this store 20 per cent. less than I paid for it three weeks ago—it is even a better blue, 1/2 oz. heavier in weight. This reduction sounds small but when you buy in large quantity it amounts to real money. I don't hesitate to say that not a man in Lowell who has done any shopping this season, even looking in windows, will guess the price to be $27.50 after he sees it made and on your back. I don't mind telling you that this serge was never intended for low priced suitings and it is no secret that there is no concern in Lowell or New England, which can sell it anywhere near as low.

I GUARANTEE to put every cent where it counts most—into the clothing itself, no costly plate glass or swell mahogany fixtures, no oriental rugs, no oil paintings, and no haughty floorwalkers. I carry no charge accounts and don't have to make up any credit losses. I've cut out expense to the bone—and save you $10 to $15.00.

All garments sold under this express stipulation—That the Customer Be Satisfied or No Sale. GUARANTEED BLUE SERGE, 12 oz. in weight, absolutely all wool, double warp yarn, and fast color. If it fades, I'll make you a new suit and you can keep the old one.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED

Tourists Will Be Disappointed if They Expect Before War Comforts

THE HAGUE, May 14.—The thousands of American tourists, who are expected to visit Europe this summer, will be disappointed if they look forward to all the comforts of the days before the war.

This verdict has been expressed by The Associated Press correspondent by many much-harassed Americans who, in overcrowded trains between stops at overworked hotels, have run the gauntlet of passport bureaus, frontier controls and police registration offices, institutions which still prevail in many countries, only in a slightly less degree than during the war.

Passports and visas are necessary everywhere. Even to make the five-hour trip from The Hague, Holland, to Brussels, Belgium requires days of preparation, and the days generally lengthen into weeks if one expresses the most extraordinary whim to make a round trip, or several round trips.

An American, for instance, having obtained in the United States a Dutch visa which permits him to land in Holland for a brief stay, desires to go to Brussels—just five hours away. On arrival in Holland he has had to register with the police, securing an identity card, permitting him to have a bread card, etc. (for bread is still rationed in many countries.)

Desiring to go to Belgium, he must first go to his own legation or consulate, to have his American passport amended so as to be valid in Belgium. This done, after a solemn oath that it is necessary to go to Belgium, the would-be-traveler visits the Belgian consulate or legation, finds a long waiting line of persons with a similar desire, finally is attended to, and speeds off to the police bureau to have his identity card stamped in order that he may leave the frontier. But he must surrender his bread card first—at still another bureau, which is probably closed for the day. Armed with a receipt from the bread bureau, he returns to the police bureau and probably finds the last train to Belgium for the day has gone.

Even when he gets aboard the train, which may be so overcrowded that even with a first-class ticket he may have to ride in a second or third-class compartment, his troubles are far from ended. There are waits and passport and customs examinations at both the Dutch and Belgian frontiers—one examination to get out of Holland and another to get into Belgium, waits in rooms like bull pens in which, if the train happens to be crowded, the scramble for a subway at a rush hour is played in comparison.

This condition, typical of travel between Holland and Belgium, is as nothing to the difficulties of getting from Holland into Germany.

Rapid progress is being made, particularly in Belgium, to restore railway traffic to normal, but the shortage of equipment due to war losses, or shortage of coal, due both to strikes and war, has reduced the number of trains operated to a figure far below that of before the war and all generally are overcrowded. As a rule, no reservation of seats, except on very long trips, are possible.

INTERDEPENDENT

That Russia is of immense importance to every American in all parts of the United States because of its great size, its production of flax, hides and minerals and its social unrest, was the theme of an important speech delivered by former Secretary of Commerce William C. Redfield before the San Francisco foreign trade convention.

"Russia," said Mr. Redfield, "presents to us a serious political problem. She lies, a vast mass of undeveloped resources, between two other powers that know well how to utilize their mighty strength. Japan on the one side and Germany on the other are not blind to either the dangers or the possibilities that the problem of Russia contains. They need no urging to take a vivid interest in her affairs. Before the war Germany held substantially one-half both of Russia's export and import trade. When Russia settles down to a quiet life, commerce with her is the line of least resistance for German industry. German houses know that market; they understand the people, the places and the language. Certainly Germany must turn to Russia. Whether she shall in time control the trade of the coming Russia is in no small part for us to answer. She certainly will do so unless we take active steps to do our part, to get our share. Can America contemplate calmly a new Germany rising powerful on the ruins of the old, substituting hegemony over Russia's resources through her scientific and technical industrial staffs for the Baltic to Persian Gulf control she failed to secure by war? We need not concern ourselves now over the question of political control; it is economic control we have to fear.

"On the other side of Russia lies Japan and the worst foe of the island empire is not so blind as to deny her Japanese fleet controls the eastern fisheries of Russia's Pacific coast. We have only to assume ordinary foresight on the part of the business men and financiers of Japan (who do not lack sagacity) to tell us that they will utilize to the full the opportunity Russia presents. Giving them credit for using it wisely, peacefully and well, we may nevertheless ask America what she thinks of a new Russia with Germany and Japan on either hand skillfully boring their way into control of those vast resources which Russia owns but cannot develop, and which promise to the powers that do develop them the opportunity for the commercial leadership of the world.

"At present this opportunity is also open to us if only so be that we see it and are ready when the hour strikes. If we have the vision to see in Russia's need of development our own great opportunity for service and for reward, then we may do deal with her in to win her love and in her growth may ourselves expand into a larger and more fruitful life."

WORST R. R. TRIP SINCE WINTER OF 1917

WASHINGTON, May 14. (By the Associated Press.)—Congestion of principal railroad terminals, probably the worst since the hard winter of 1917, is beginning to be felt in business and commerce all over the country.

Appeals for relief pouring into Washington to the interstate commerce commission, the railroad administration and to congress picture the big railroad gateways choked with thousands of loaded freight cars unable to move because of shortage of men and motive power. Although the situation has been showing local effects for the last two weeks it now is being shown in its nation-wide aspects and the appeals for relief coming to Washington contain predictions that unless the jam is broken it will be reflected more than ever in decreased production, slowing down of industry and probably a tremendous labor turnover.

Latest reports compiled here by the committee on car service, American Railroad association, show 335,000 cars tied up or delayed in transit. Of this number, 55,000 are at junctions with no labor to transfer them. On April 15 the total number of cars tied up was 215,000. Much of this was attributed by railroad people to the recent strike.

There is pressing need today for

$2,411 cars to take care of the most urgent demands railroad men declared, although they say this shows a reduction of approximately 10,000 over April reports.

Reports from New England alone showed more than 20,000 freight cars tied up, it was said, with the utmost confusion prevailing, although latest advices indicated that 1100 cars were moved yesterday over the Boston & Albany railroad to the Albany gate-way.

RECEPTION AT THE ELIOT UNION CHURCH

Rev. William B. Tutthill, from the Grace church in Framingham, was tendered an informal reception last evening by a large number of the parishioners of the Eliot Union Congregational church as the new pastor. Included also in the welcoming reception were Mrs. Tutthill and their two daughters, Ruth and Helen.

The event was made even more enjoyable by its informality. After supper was served the new pastor and his family were greeted individually by everyone. In behalf of the King's Daughters, Mrs. Fred Gilmore presented a large and beautiful bouquet of roses to Mrs. Tutthill.

Mrs. E. D. Holden, assisted by a corps of competent women of the church was in charge of the supper. The musical program for the evening was under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Spaulding and included vocal selections by Miss Gertrude Frisby and duets by Alfred and Richard Fletcher. Dr. Tutthill gave a short humorous address at the close of the supper. The new pastor will make his home in Belmont street.

OVERALLETTE IS THE LATEST FAD

BY CORA MOORE.

New York's Fashion's Authority. NEW YORK, May 14.—Whether the overall movement appealed to your common-sense or you accepted it just as a passing fad not to be taken seriously, the Peggy Paige overallette must strike you as a worth while suggestion. This is the first notice of its appearance and the artist has sketched this particular model in gingham on a pretty international film star.

Up the center of the skirt for a few inches are buttons and button-holes and when these are buttoned the costume takes on the comfort and convenience of overalls, very charming overalls, at that. Unbuttoned, presto, it is a dress, and an alluring dress, too. The gingham itself is effective and especially so as it is in combination with a plain cotton used in cuffs, in the short sleeves, in butterfly sash, in collar and vest and as binding for the skirt hem and pocket flaps.

BOARD OF SELECTMEN CHAIRMAN RESIGNS

Because of differences arising in the conduct of the town fire department, John T. Gale, chairman of the board of selectmen of Tewksbury, tendered his resignation as a member of the board at a meeting held Wednesday evening. It is probable a special election will be held to fill the vacancy on the board, but the question now hinges as to whether or not Harry L. Shedd, another member of the board, who recently moved to Chelmsford, is still a legal resident of Tewksbury. If Mr. Shedd is declared a legal resident of Tewksbury there will be no occasion for a special election for a majority of the board of selectmen will remain in office.

In connection with his resignation Mr. Gale has issued the following statement:

"Personally our relations on the board of selectmen have been very pleasant, and I regret the necessity for withdrawing, but to me it has seemed that our duties required more business stability than has been shown. We have had too many rescinded votes, for one thing.

"Some time ago we voted to drop two engineers, one because he desired to give up his position, and the other because we considered him not the right man for the work. Wednesday night the board by a majority vote decided to nullify its vote. Thereupon I announced my resignation from the board, and I intend to put the same in a written notification to the town clerk."

"Live and let live is my motto," says Peterson of Buffalo, "Druggists all over America sell PETERSON'S OINTMENT for 25 cents a large box and I say to these druggists, if anyone buys my ointment for any of the diseases or ailments for which I recommend it and is not benefited, give him his money back."

"I've got a safe full of thankful letters testifying to the mighty healing power of Peterson's Ointment for old and running sores, eczema, salt rheum, piles, sore nipples, broken breast, itching scalp, chafing and blind, itching and bleeding piles."

John Scott, 233 Virginia St., Buffalo, writes: "Peterson's Ointment is simply wonderful. It cured me of eczema and also piles, and it did it so quickly that I was astonished." Mail orders filled by Peterson Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

IF YOUR EARS RING WITH HEAD NOISES

If you have roaring, buzzing noises in your ears, are getting hard of hearing and fear Catarrhal Discharge, go to your druggist and get a ounce of Ears Ring (double strength), and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water, and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Closed nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal trouble of the ears, is hard of hearing or has head noises should give this prescription a trial.

WAR-TORN EUROPE

Former K. of C. Secretary Gives Interesting Address

John W. Daly, former Knights of Columbus overseas secretary, who recently returned to Lowell, gave an exceptionally interesting and comprehensive description of war-torn Europe before the members of Lowell council, Knights of Columbus, last evening, at their regular semi-monthly meeting. Mr. Daly was one of the last Knights of Columbus secretaries to leave Europe and for that reason he had a chance to observe many of the more recent after-war developments in the various countries which were engaged in the conflict. In an interview in this newspaper shortly after his return, Mr. Daly described in detail many of the experiences which he pictured last evening, and the combination of an exceptionally retentive memory, the knack of observation and well chosen language served to make his address most interesting.

In discussing the work of the American doughboy, Mr. Daly said that he had talked with representative Germans and had learned that it was generally believed in Germany, before the United States entered the war, that the average American could not and would not fight and that his chief interest in life was making money. It was really admitted, however, after the entry of this country into the conflict, that such an impression had been wrong and that had it not been for this country, there might have been a different story at the signing of the armistice. His word picture of the American graveyard in the Argonne forest where more than 50,000 small white crosses mark the resting place of American soldiers, was most impressive, although not a whit more graphic than his description of many other scenes witnessed in the war-torn battlefields.

Following his address, Mr. Daly presented the council a beautiful slitten Knights of Columbus flag which he had secured at the services of veneration of the sacred relics at the Notre Dame cathedral in Paris on April 15, 1919. The flag had occupied a prominent place just above the altar at this service which some 7000 Americans attended.

High officials of France and dignitaries of the Catholic church were also in attendance and the service was most impressive. Mr. Daly was fortunate enough to secure the flag, inasmuch as he had been in charge of the K. of C. decorations at the cathedral.

The flag was accepted on behalf of the council by Grand Knight George K. Briggan, who expressed the appreciation of the members, both for the banner and for the interesting talk given by Mr. Daly. A rising vote of thanks was given the speaker.

At the close of the meeting the members were addressed by Rev. Daniel J. Heffernan, their chaplain, who urged a large attendance at the annual communion services to be held at St. Peter's church next Sunday at the 7.30 o'clock mass. He asked that prayers be offered for the repose of the souls of the men who gave up their lives in the world war, and particularly for Rev. John H. de Vallee, the 36th Division K. of C. chaplain of New Bedford, who died Wednesday. It was voted to draw up a set of resolutions on his death and forward them to the state council.

Barber Going to Try to Shoot Niagara Falls in a Barrel

BRISTOL, Eng., May 14.—Charles George Stephens, a barber of this town, has announced that he is going to try to shoot Niagara falls in a barrel.

He has booked his passage from Liverpool to Quebec on June 15 and says he intends to make the attempt at the end of June or early in July.

Stephens is 54 years of age and stands 5 feet 9 1/2 inches high.

The barrel will be 6 feet 2 inches, and in the middle 12 inches. Inside the barrel Stephens plans to be secured by straps and the barrel is to be weighted at the bottom with a hundred pound weight to keep it upright in the water. Special breathing apparatus is also being fitted.

Among the many other feats which Stephens claims to have performed are the following:

Kissing a lion in its den, shaving

customers in a lion's den, boxing in a lion's den and parachute descents from balloons; for which feats he boasts three ribbons, five gold medals and six silver medals.

To shoot Niagara falls in a barrel has been the ambition of numerous persons seeking notoriety and few have accomplished it. Mrs. Anna Edson Taylor, who went over the falls in a wooden barrel about 1901, was severely injured but recovered. "Bobby" Leach made the drop successfully and without injury in a steel barrel in 1911.

A paper chimney, 50 feet high, and fireproof, is a curiosity to be seen in Bristol.

GEN. EDWARDS' TRIBUTE TO FR. DEVALLES

BOSTON, May 14.—Major Gen. Clarence R. Edwards who commanded the Yankee division overseas, yesterday paid a tribute to the qualities of Rev. J. B. De Valles, the hero chaplain of the 10th regiment, who died at New Bedford Wednesday, half an hour after he had been told of the award to him of a Distinguished Service Cross. He already held the Croix de Guerre.

"Fr. De Valles lived in the front line trenches. When his part of the regiment was in rest billets, he would slip to the front. During the battle of Apremont, I saw he was wearing himself out, and ordered him back, but he was insubordinate and would not go. With the leader of the 19th band, Fr. De Valles stayed out in No Man's land for the better part of three days. Together they bandaged men's wounds and carried them to safety. Their hands gave out, and I was told that they bound their wrists to the stretcher arms to continue the work, although the wire cut to the bone."

DEWEY'S FORMER HOME TO BE STORE

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Admiral Dewey's former home, gift of the American people for his victory at Manila bay, is being remodeled into a store, having given way, as have a number of other historical residences, to the spreading commercial section of the city. The Dewey house, at 1747 Rhode Island avenue, just off Connecticut avenue, was disposed of some years before Admiral Dewey's death.

The city's commercial expansion is gradually moving northward along Connecticut avenue and has passed beyond the British embassy which now finds itself amidst a group of fashionable shops. The historic old Corcoran mansion and the wisteria-clad John Slidell house, with their old fashioned gardens and high brick garden wall, facing Lafayette park opposite the White House at the beginning of Connecticut avenue, soon will be razed for a modern building for the chamber of commerce of the United States of America.

Among the historical mansions holding out against the march of commercial expansion are the famous Octagon house, residence of Colonel Taylor, which was occupied a year by President Madison after the White House was fired by the British in 1814.

DISCUSSES DANGER OF "WINGED BATTALIONS OF DEATH"

LONDON, May 14.—Mobilization of the mosquito, the house-fly, the louse and various other disease-carrying pests for the dissemination of deadly germs in enemy territory is a possibility of "the next war," pictured by Prof. Maxwell Lefroy, a scientist.

"I foresee the mosquito from Brazil starting yellow fever in new lands, the house-fly, duly infested with cholera, dysentery or enteric and the typhus-laden louse doing their deadly work much more effectively than spin poisoning wells," said Prof. Lefroy in a recent address.

"This would be part of the work of a war office of entomologists—the working out of strategic plans for the distribution of these pests by airplane. It seems that the world is intent upon furnishing an airplane service for these pests, many of which are now held somewhat in check by natural enemies in their native climes. This will give them just the means of transport they have required. It will be a peace-time danger as well as one that could be used very effectively in war. The danger from these, winged battalions of death is more serious than one dare estimate."

MARINE INSURANCE EQUAL TO NEEDS

That American marine insurance is fully equal to the peace time problems which it must face, was the statement of Hendon Chubb, prominent insurance under writer, before the seventh national foreign trade convention in San Francisco.

Referring to cargo insurance, Mr. Chubb said, "The situation is that any importer or exporter can, except possibly in a few unusual cases, obtain in this market full protection on terms and under conditions that compare favorably with those obtainable by any foreign competitor, using either American companies or foreign companies domiciled here and in all ways subject to our laws; the choice of the shippers being represented by the fact that this premium income is divided, 84 per cent. American companies, 16 per cent. foreign companies. Not only does this market cover about 95 per cent. of the business placed by American importers and exporters, but the amount of business so placed bears a very satisfactory relation to the whole volume of import and export business of the United States.

"The situation as to hull insurance is different. A large portion of this business is placed in foreign markets with companies who pay no tax to this country and are in no way subject to our state regulations."

In the opinion of Mr. Chubb, this situation will be corrected as soon as our government-owned shipping is placed in the hands of private owners, and as soon as state insurance regulations and taxation laws are made more uniform and less oppressive.

"I know of no other important commercial country where the merchants are willing to accept so freely and for a moderate consideration in the way of reduced rates insurance with underwriters having no domicile in the same country as the merchants, and where suits, if any, must be brought in other courts, and I believe that this policy in the end is not a wise policy; it is not a policy that has been followed by other nations important in world commerce."

"There are today American companies authorized to do marine insurance business, with combined capital and surplus of over $250,000,000. This capital is more than enough to do the entire business of the United States with perfect safety and without taking into account the very large amount representing the American capital and surplus of foreign companies held in this country for the benefit of American policy holders. Introduction of government capital and credit would accomplish nothing but interference with the free use of the capital already available. The amount of business which these companies assume is not limited by want of capital; it has been limited, particularly as regards hulls, by the want of a large volume of diversified business on rates that promise a chance of being remunerative. When these conditions come, and given that the merchant marine is sold to private owners, the capacity of the market will be sufficient for every requirement."

MEXICO CITY, May 14.—General Pablo Gonzales, long regarded by Carranza as his staunchest supporter, has, according to report, joined in the Obregon revolution.

THE BATTLES HOME FOR AGED MEN

The Battles home for aged men opened its new quarters in the old Minter house at the corner of Rolfe street and Broadway, yesterday afternoon with a reception to the public. More than 250 persons attended. The affair was under the direction of Harry Dunlap, of the board of trustees, assisted by the matron, Mrs. George Farnham and other officials of the institution.

The home is now located in one of the finest old residences in the city, with an abundance of green lawns around it and a very attractive outlook over the Merrimack river. The new home has been partly prepared for occupancy by donations of various organizations, churches and individuals. Among the latter is Mrs. William Hinckley, who gave the complete equipment for one of the sleeping rooms, as a memorial to her father.

another headliner. A comedy, "The Jazzy Jangle," the International News and a Burton Holmes travel picture round out the bill.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

At the Lowell Opera House Sunday afternoon and evening there will be a special showing open to the general public of a magnificent and expensive series of moving pictures of Ancient and Modern Greece, especially attractive to the teacher and student of ancient history, as they show with startlingly lifelike fidelity the remains of Grecian greatness of centuries ago.

The Acropolis, the Parthenon, the Thea-on, the prison of Socrates and the old temples and other architectural monuments uncovered by recent excavation by American and other archaeological societies. The collection of pictures, which are the best of foreign film art, also include views of modern Greece and its customs, military and naval resources, scenery, palaces and commarcial life, according to two and a half hours of most interesting and instructive entertainment.

THE OWL THEATRE

That the public of Lowell appreciates the Owl theatre manager's policy of big and best pictures is evidenced by the large audiences who have so far witnessed Paul Armstrong's great crook play, "The Deep Purple," which, in the next two days, will conclude a very successful week's engagement at the Owl. With the exception of this great eight-act feature, the entire bill was changed yesterday
William Russell, huge, good-natured, hulk of a man, rip-roared his way through multiple reels of clever comedy and intricate situations that went to other extremes of the dramatic art.
Another episode of "The Lost City," a new comedy, and a news reel complete the bill for the remainder of the week.
And here's just a suggestion. Some people have already seen "The Deep Purple" twice. Probably you're one that doesn't care to do so. In that case, follow this schedule of hours and you can't go wrong: 1 p. m., 4:30 p. m. and 7:10 p. m. Get into the Owl at those times and you'll see "Slam Bang Jim," with William Russell; the comedy,
"The Lost City" and the news reel—which, by themselves, are worth the price of admission. All next week, in Old Kentucky," featuring Anita Stewart, art directed by Marshall Neilan, a First National attraction. The picture broke all records in Hartford, Conn., and Boston is paying $1 to see it. It is years for the usual Owl prices, and it will be here all week.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH

A new society of women has been recently organized in connection with the Calvary Baptist church. At the time of the adoption of a constitution and by-laws these officers were elected: Mrs. Asa Reed, Ditta, president; Mrs. E. Bowen, who will direct women's missionary work, first vice president; Mrs. William Morgan, who will direct the church department, second vice president; Mrs. Edmund L. LaLime, third vice president; Mrs. P. F. Fletcher, who will direct girls' missionary work, fourth vice president; Miss Celina Lalime, secretary; Mrs. Louis Browning, treasurer.

MEN FOR BATTERY B

Capt. MacBrayne, leader of Battery B, has secured permission from headquarters to secure 30 more men than was originally specified. This will give an opportunity for some of the many who have been disappointed, to make application either today or tomorrow afternoon or evening. Eight new names were admitted at the armory last night. The physical examinations for all those who have already made application for entrance are to begin next Tuesday.

MY TIRED FEET ACHED FOR "TIZ"

Let Your Sore, Swollen, Aching Feet Spread Out in a Bath of "Tiz"

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-pestered, bunion-tortured feet of yours in a "Tiz" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "Tiz" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all that out—just try "Tiz." It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions.

There's nothing like "Tiz." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture.

Get a box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel. You can wear shoes a size smaller if you desire.—Adv.

THE B. &amp; M. CAR SHOP MINSTREL SHOW

Employees of the Boston & Maine car shops blossomed forth as minstrels in Associate hall last evening and gave a large crowd a most enjoyable evening's entertainment. The program embraced many popular numbers and the railroad men showed their ability to put them over with snap and zest. The program in detail was as follows:

Overture, entire company, "I'll Dance My Way Back to Dixie Land," "Drifting," "Slow and Easy," "Wait 'Till You Get Them Up in the Air," "She's Just Like Sal," Emile Lamy; and song, "Don't Put a Tex on a Beautiful Girl," Joe O'Regan; song, "Boy of Mine," James Jones; end song, "You Never Can Tell," Matty Sweet, monolog, (Hebrew character), Tom Knight; song, "I Love You Just the Same, Sweet Adeline," Ambrose Ready; end song, "Ephraim Johnson," Tony Doyle; song, "Mine," Elias Nadeau; end song, "Floatin' Down to Cotton Town," Ed Matthews; finale, "When the Great Red Dawn is Shining," solos sustained by B. F. Lord.

Those who took part were: Interlocutor, Edward J. Murphy; end men, Joe O'Regan, Tony Doyle, Ed. Matthews, Mattie Shea; chorus, James Duffy, John McBride, A. Constantineau, William Gout, Thomas Dean, James Reynolds, Paul Cote, Joseph Choinard, Daniel O'Regan, George Bassett, Bernard Gibbs, Daniel Harkins, Joseph Kinoff, Thomas Dumont, Frank Beau-

John, K. Clough, E. Pawquette, Clifford Duffy, M. C. Harrahan.

In the course of the entertainment the Collins Floral club presented a bouquet of flowers. General dancing followed the minstrel show and lasted until the early hours of the morning. The officers of the evening were: General manager, Daniel Harkins; assistant general manager, Martin C. Harrahan; floor directors, Anthony Doyle, Bernard Gibbs; treasurer, W. Thoreson; chief aid, Roger Corbett.

HERO'S NAME OVERLOOKED

The attention of the committee which was in charge of the erection of a tablet in memory of the soldiers and sailors of Centralville, dedicated last fall, has been called to the fact that the name of Constantinos Angelakos, one of the first Lowell men to die in the conflict, has been omitted. Angelakos lived at 244 Aiken avenue at the time of his enlistment. It is probable that his name will be added to the list of Centralville heroes within a short time.

DUMPER MEET 'EM

Angelina is a literary fairy. Of forty-seven summers, rather stout. Who pounces on the helpless and unwary. And tells them all the things she writes about. She's strong on local color, and confessions. Psychology in all that she indites. It's quite a while before a fellow guesses. That no one ever prints the stuff she writes.

ON INDUSTRIAL UNREST

Hoover Declares Principle of Individual Freedom Requires the Open Shop

WASHINGTON, May 14.—"The principle of individual freedom requires the open shop," Herbert Hoover declared today in testifying before the senate labor committee at hearings on proposed legislation for the settlement of industrial unrest.

Mr. Hoover, who was a member of President Wilson's second industrial conference, said he did not believe the relationship between employers and employees could be settled "by any form of legal repression, whether it be by injunction, compulsory arbitration or industrial courts."

"Fundamentally," he declared, "all such effort leads inevitably to the use of jails as a solution for disputes, as to respective participation of labor and capital in industrial courts."

"Fundamentally," he declared, "all such effort leads inevitably to the use of jails as a solution for disputes as to respective participation of labor and capital in industrial profits, and proceeds swiftly toward compulsory labor or compulsory wages or martyrdom."

"No one doubts that the modern consolidation of the employers over large units of employees give every justification and right for the organization of the employees similarly to units for the exertion of equality in bargaining powers. Such organization has a right to present its own representatives in bargaining. On the other hand, there should be no compulsion to join such an organization. The principle of individual freedom requires the open shop."

Mr. Hoover, heatedly approved the plan of the second industrial conference for voluntary settlement of labor troubles through co-operative agreement.

"It avoids the pitfalls," he said, "to my mind, it is the best and only step to be taken until the whole broad question between employer and employee has developed."

WASHINGTON, May 14.—A 5 per cent reduction in the acreage planted to potatoes and a 25 per cent falling off in areas devoted to beans, are indicated for this season in reports received by the United States bureau of markets from its field agents.

High prices for potato seed and the shortage of farm labor, were given as the principal reasons for the reduction in potato planting while the unsatisfactory market for beans caused a smaller acreage planted to that crop.

FITCHBURG NEWS SUSPENDED
FITCHBURG, May 14.—The Fitchburg News announced its suspension, with today's issue, this afternoon. The paper, established in 1904, was purchased about a month ago by the owners of the Bayonne, N. J., Times, from James J. Devine of Clarkburg, W. Va., who had owned it for about six months. In announcing suspension, the publishers state that abnormal costs of publication and difficulties in the local field are the main contributing factors. The control of the paper has changed hands seven times since it was established.

Sims' Charge Fully Refuted

There never was a time, the witness said, when tonnage was not available to carry troops and supplies to France. It is not as if they could be landed and transported to the front, although it was "only by extreme exertions that this was done during the rush of troops in April."

Allocation of ships to the United States by the allies always was the dominant factor, Mr. Daniels declared. "As a matter of fact, the American army materially shortened the war," he said. "It got to the front as soon as it was humanly possible, not by a chance but as a result of careful plans involving complete co-operation between the army and navy carefully carried out."

Mr. Daniels quoted Field Marshal Haig as saying that the British army was unable to intervene until nearly two years had elapsed in sufficient strength adequately to assist the allies. The war was over 19 months after the United States entered the war, he said, adding: "No one can deny that within 12 months after our entry the American army was in sufficient strength to assist the allies."

In this connection he asked the committee to consider that American troops and supplies had to be transported across 3,000 miles of seas while Great Britain was "within sound of the guns."

Mr. Daniels quoted from the testimony of Admirals Rodman and Wilson, Rear Admirals Niblack, McKean, Straus, Fletcher and Badger and Capt. Pratt to show that all of these officers refused to support Admiral Sims'

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR PRINCIPAL SPEAKER

Lieut. Gov. Channing H. Cox was a guest and the principal speaker at the annual ladies' night banquet of the Men's club of Grace church held at the Highland clubhouse last evening. Other speakers were the new pastor, Rev. Edward C. Downey, and Mayor Perry D. Thompson. Music was furnished by Hibbard's orchestra, and there was dancing during the latter part of the evening. The hall of the clubhouse was filled nearly to the limit of its capacity.

At the close of the banquet the lieutenant governor was introduced in a brief speech by Felton L. Moody, president of the club.

After referring to the inspiration received from seeing such an organization as the Men's club formed in a spirit of getting together for a common purpose, he said that he was somewhat familiar with the work of Mr. Downey at his former parish in Norwich, and congratulated the club and church upon having secured his services.

The lieutenant-governor spoke of the great days in which we are living in which none of us is sure in the morning what may befall him before night. He mentioned the great inventions and new inventions of the day, and referred especially to the man who proposes to make a trip to the moon in a rocket and of the man who has offered $10,000 for the privilege of being a passenger on the journey. He paid his respects to the table-flipping scientist who is willing to tell America all about the wonderful manifestations of spirit-life that have come to him provided he gets sufficient gate receipts. He also mentioned the alleged belief of Mars that the people of Mars are trying to send signals to us and that they may possibly be trying to touch us for a loan.

"In the midst of all our confusion," he continued, "we are apt to forget that we are human beings. Human nature has not changed a great deal. It remains true that no one has as yet discovered any good substitute for work, or for the other virtues which may be old-fashioned, which our fathers and mothers possessed, and in the practice of which we are enabled to accomplish great things. I find today that men and women in some quarters are discouraged. It is discouraging to know that great groups of our fellow beings have been unwilling to remember their duties to other fellow human beings, and have been willing in order that they may attain their own ends, to let great communities go without the necessities of life. It is discouraging to know that there are also men in our communities who, because they have accumulated these necessities, have been willing to exact extortionate toll from less fortunate human beings. But tonight, I am looking for signs which will cause us to be filled with courage, with optimism, and I believe there are plenty of such signs to be found.

"What is it then, that we need? In my judgment the greatest need of America today is strong, virile leadership that will refuse to compromise with wrong, which will not surrender to any organization, however strong, that is seeking special privilege.

Mayor Thompson spoke of co-operation as applied to such organizations as the Men's club, and appealing to those present said, "Let the members of this club back up their mayors, their governors and presidents and all who are connected with their government and band themselves together to work for good. When we have done that we have done a great deal for the humanity of the world."

The pastor, Rev. Edward C. Downey, the closing speaker, said that the Men's club was one of the forces through which the church must express itself. He said that it also expresses itself through individuals as they stand in places of business, in social life and in the homes, but that the time had come when it was necessary not only for men and women to stand for individual excellence, but that they must get together to accomplish results.

Mr. Downey referred to profiteering and said he believed it had nearly reached its limit, and said that he was afraid of what might happen if public officials do not do something to peacefully adjust unjust economic conditions.

The Easiest Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and itching of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.—Adv.

The socialists would move the White House to the federal penitentiary at Atlanta.

Hooting for Hoover is becoming a favorite pastime with some journalists and politicians who like his antecedents.

The man who plants a peace garden this year will be worthy of the commendation given the man who made two blades of grass grow where only one grew before.

Governor Smith of New York has a duty to perform in vetoing those Lusk-Sweet bills which appear to be more radical than anything proposed by the expelled socialists.

Perhaps the fact that it costs $50 a year per inhabitant to govern Boston, as against considerably smaller sums in other cities of the first class, explains why trade commission reports show that the city is one of the most expensive places in the universe in which to live.

There is a great deal of talk in some quarters concerning rent profiteering, so much in fact, that it is hard to believe it is all without any proper foundation. But at the same time, many of those who are paying a moderate rent, as things go today, are better off than if they owned the property and rented it at what they are now paying.

Senator Johnson may think he is in the running but he will be turned down by Penrose, Crane and others. The British interests are strong for Hoover and the money power for Wall street for General Wood. How the fight will wind up is problematical, except that the Old Guard is coming to the front strongly and is likely to fall in line with the moneyed powers.

Who wants a second hand throne and all the trappings of the throne room of his former Imperial Majesty Kaiser Wilhelm? Somebody who claims to have had a first mortgage on them is to offer them for sale in New York. There will be a question of their genuineness but most people in this country, we surmise, would prefer a good counterfeit to these "treasured relics" of discarded Hohenzollern royalty.

EMPTY HOUSES

Would it not be a good idea for the building department to take a census of the old buildings that are unoccupied throughout the city and that could be made fit for occupancy by repairs at a moderate expense? The housing problem is becoming more acute and yet there is not a move to meet it in a practical way.

SUGAR PROFITS

Attorney General Palmer has fixed the limit of profit on the sale of sugar at one cent a pound at wholesale and two cents retail. If he can keep down the wholesale price and maintain that rule everywhere, he would succeed in stopping profiteering. But the people do not seem to place much confidence in his anti-profiteering plans and will believe them honest only when they see them effectively applied. The people locally are wondering how it is that some dealers sell sugar at 22 cents a pound, others at 25 cents and a few at 32 and even 33 cents. It is to be feared that Mr. Palmer's action has come too late to secure the end in view, but it would not be just to condemn any well advised step before it has had time to show results.

THE WAGE INCREASE

That is good news that comes from the local mills announcing an increase of 15 per cent in wages. It is well that the millmen show an inclination to avoid all controversies with their employees. We see in New Bedford a situation that is simply ruinous to all concerned, and even to thousands who do not work in the mills. At Taunton, too, there has been trouble that should not have occurred. This is the worst time in the history of the country or of the world to declare a labor strike.

Those who would counsel a strike for any but the most serious cause at this time have a serious responsibility. Those who demand a 50 per cent increase and a 44-hour week are plotting revolution. This demand is made in Lawrence by a union that represents only the radicals who caused trouble in that city on previous occasions. They know this cannot be granted and yet they threaten to use the power of their organization to force this concession.

They are seeking the overthrow of the individual system and the present form of government and no patriotic worker should have anything to do with them. Lowell is fortunate in her record for industrial peace. May it long continue for the benefit alike of employer and employee.

FARM LOAN ACT

For once, congress seems to be moving in a matter vital to the country's welfare.

The house committee on banking has reported a joint resolution authorizing the secretary of the treasury to issue farm loan bonds up to one hundred million dollars. If action is taken quickly on this proposal, the damage caused by the failure of the supreme court to render a decision on the validity of the farm loan act will be in some measure repaired.

Unless congress passes this, or some similar legislation, farmers in need of cash to carry on farm operations will be unable to negotiate loans through Uncle Sam's farm loan bureau.

Private banking interests have tied up the farm loan act in litigation which the supreme court has now ordered "reargued." Such action always means that the court is badly split. The knowledge of this fact makes it impossible, of course, for the farm loan board to float any more of its bonds. Who will buy bonds that may be declared invalid by the supreme court?

Congress, by acting on the joint resolution authorizing this specific issue of $100,000,000, can save the situation. If it fails to act, the food situation, already serious on account of shortage of farm labor, lack of transport and other causes, will become worse. In the interest of every city consumer as well as every farmer, the national legislature should act quickly.—N. E. A.

ABSENTEEISM IN SENATE

It seems that a new cause of complaint was brought out in the United States senate recently when Senator Lodge, republican floor leader, in giving notice that he would call up the Knox resolution, referred to the necessity of notifying the absent members. It is absenteeism that is now the crying evil.

Senator Borah in trying to advance his resolution for an investigation of campaign expenses admitted that it is difficult to get together enough members of the senate to do business nowadays. Senator Thomas also criticized the majority for the passage of appropriation bills carrying hundreds of millions of dollars without a roll call and without the presence of as many as twenty senators from a membership of ninety-six. It is a frequent occurrence to direct the sergeant-at-arms to go out in search of senators to form a quorum. Senator Borah had his resolution transferred from the committee on privileges and elections, by which it was apparently held up, to that of audit and control of contingent expenses. He is one of the aggressive republicans who have inaugurated a campaign against the lavish use of money by General Wood and Gov. Landon, candidates for the presidency. He has made the charge that a group of millionaires are financing Gen. Wood's campaign; but so far as the United States senate is concerned, it is evident that there is no intention of allowing Senator Borah's resolution to interfere with the movement of the interests to nominate the candidate of their choice at Chicago.

The nomination of a republican candidate at Chicago is likely to go to the highest bidder, judging from the tendency to revert to the campaign methods in vogue in the days of Senator Tom Platt and Mark Hanna. Some weak denials have come from the camps of the candidates, against whom charges of the lavish use of money had been made; but there is no indication of sincerity in them, nor is there any apparent sign that such methods are disapproved by the active leaders of the party.

TEACHERS AND RESULTS

Dr. Payson Smith, commissioner of education, who addressed the Lowell teachers at their annual banquet, is a very fluent, eloquent, logical and convincing speaker. On educational subjects and the correlated topics of good citizenship and Americanization, his discussions are particularly interesting and instructive. In his recent address here, he touched many of the most important points relative to the work of education and upon all of them his remarks were calculated to inspire enthusiasm, to clear the vision and lift everybody to a higher plane of duty.

Dr. Smith mentioned practically everything that is helpful to the teachers in their work; but he did not refer to some of the things that are most hurtful to the teaching profession at the present time. One of the worst of these is the tendency to keep piling new duties upon the shoulders of teachers in the line of additions to the regular curriculum as it stood say five or ten years ago. Today the demand for physical training, manual training, training for citizenship and Americanization work, cuts deeply into the time for instruction which remains precisely the same as it was many years ago. The effect of this "inflation" of school work is to make thoroughness in the great essentials practically impossible. Another condition that, to say the least, is not conducive to the best educational results, is the discontent arising from the feeling among teachers, that in these days of aggressive unionism those who continue faithfully to attend to their daily duties, are left behind in the race to catch up with the high cost of living. There should be no ground for any such conclusion.

Both these conditions must receive due consideration from educators who look to the schools to give us citizens better trained physically, intellectually and morally, for the duties and responsibilities of American citizenship.

It is well that the teachers and the schools follow the very excellent advice offered by Commissioner Smith; but the teachers on their part merely ask that they be given the time, the means and the opportunity to do the work assigned them in an effective manner, so that it may bring the ideal results towards which all the educators of the present day are eagerly striving.

SEEN AND HEARD

Bare possibilities are more often the naked truth.

If a wicked person succeeds; there are good qualities which overbalance the bad.

The clothing profiteer doesn't say denim overalls. He uses a verb instead of an adjective, but it begins with the same "d."

Scientists have discovered that the smallest thing is a quail. Apparently they have studied the remains of a pay envelope after the week's grocery bill is settled.

It's Only Fair

In the wild and woolly west a game of poker was in progress. A tenderfoot, looking on, saw of the players deal himself four aces from the bottom of the pack. The tenderfoot whispered indignantly to another onlooker:

"What you see that?"
"That swindler dealt himself four aces!" the tenderfoot hissed.
"What!" was the astonished reply.
"Wasn't it his deal?"—Blighly.

Stuck to His Feet

Food Controller Hoover said at a Washington reception:

"We must economize our food, or we'll get as short as some of our allies across the water."
"In a restaurant over there a man said, when his coffee was brought: 'Hey, there, waiter, where's my portion of sugar?'"
"Oh, la, la!" said the waiter. "It must be that accident by again, monsieur. Every time I serve a portion of sugar, up he sneaks and swipes it!"—Detroit Free Press.

"K-veens"

Wherever men forgetful to play poker there is told, at some phase of the game or another, the story of the two bluffers. Usually to them is assigned a race that is mentioned rather prominently in the bible. Here is the yarn:

The two players had been raising each other back and forth for a long time. Finally, one of them said: "Well, I call. Vat you got?"
"K-veens!"
"How many?"
"Vat?"
"That's good."

Such Is Life

Why does John Blank want to change jobs?
Why does Mary Blank want to change husbands?
Why does Willie Blank want a new set of toys when the old ones are not worn out?
Why does Susie Blank want to get away from home and go abroad?
Ever notice the way that old cows used to jump fences?
No parties was good enough for her.
That's why the farmer hung a non-jumper rope round the cow's neck which kept her at home.
Why do you suppose the cow jumped fences?
For the same reason the Blanks are dissatisfied with what they've got.
The cow couldn't get out of her pen but the cow pasture was greener than here. The grass beyond the fence looked more tender, more appetizing, more nourishing. She thought so.

And she went over.

When she got there she found the same sort of grass. It wasn't a bit greener or better when she got to it.

An optical delusion, so to speak.

John Blank learns the same thing. The job he gets is about as hard as the one he quit. There are things about it he doesn't like, just as there were about the old job. It just looked better—when he wasn't near it.

Mrs. John Blank nods out the second husband has faults, too. She didn't see 'em before she got him.

Willie Blank doesn't have any more fun playing with his new toys, once he gets 'em, than he had with the old ones. Often he goes back to the old ones.

And Susie Blank always is good and glad to get back home again.

Sometimes, though, the cow does not find a better pasture by jumping a fence. But, even so, did the cow spend all her time hunting newer and greener pastures, she'd be a lean and profitless cow to any farmer.

And so, agricultural scientists have figured it out that it pays to yoke the cow.

Because the cow hasn't as much brains as one should have if one is going to decide between the pasture one has and the next to it.

Maybe it might be a good idea to manufacture some sort of a yoke to hang on quick-fire job-changers, married folk who wear beaten paths to divorce courts, and to those who forget what they have because they're too busy thinking about what someone else has.

By Gosh!

Farmer Jones is a bright old skate. All-fired smart and up-to-date. He thinks that fun will do no harm. So this is how he runs his farm—

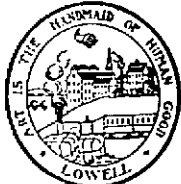

He has a jay band playing tunes. All-fired smart and up-to-date. He thinks that fun will do no harm. So this is how he runs his farm—
Of many-colored "fretful" lambs. A dozen blonde and brunette vamps. Work in his dairy every day.
And every night come out to play. His hay barn has a hardwood floor. Around the walls a score or more of tables are, where folks can buy a tiny tea set for 98¢.
And dance soon begin to flirt. Some shake their heels till 1 o'clock and then start in to feed the stock.

The labor problem does not fret. Our friend a particle, you see. He and the neighbors make a yoke. Old Farmer Jones has lots of help.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

I am told that Lowell council, Knights of Columbus, will furnish the largest number of candidates of any one council in New England at the forthcoming election. The council, this month, a fact which speaks volumes for the activity, personal efforts and dynamic energy of Andrew Molloy, the present head of Bishop Delany assembly, fourth degree, in this section and a former grand knight of the local council. The record of Bishop Delany assembly has been a distinct credit to the order and to the members, and with the addition of many more members, there is ample evidence that it will soon be in the forefront of all the assemblies in New England in point of activity and splendid achievements.

One of the Boston newspapers is printing a series of articles warning of a food shortage next winter due to the failure of the farmers to raise sufficient crops to feed the nation. A recent trip through the rural sections of Vermont and New Hampshire indicates that there is, insofar as this section is concerned, some cause at least for fearing a big increase in the prices of farm-grown foodstuffs before the present year is over if indeed worse conditions are not reached. The farmers of the region have of course their not unusual complaints about the weather and the lateness of warm, sunny days in making their appearance. They say that they were unable to do the usual amount of fall plowing and now they will not be able to complete the work this spring. This will considerably reduce the planted acreage, they assert. What troubles the tillers of the soil more, however, is that farm la-

Teachers' Examination

Office of the Superintendent of Schools
Lowell, Mass., May 8, 1920

On Saturday, June 25, 1920, at the Lowell high school, Kirk and Anna streets, beginning at nine o'clock in the forenoon, there will be a public examination of applicants for Lowell teachers' certificates of the third grade; these certificates apply to the primary and grammar grades of the schools.

Persons to be eligible to take the examination must be graduates of colleges or normal schools and must have had two years' successful experience as teachers in day schools.

All applicants must signify their intention of taking the examination by notifying the superintendent of schools in writing, at least three weeks before the date of such examination at which time the list will be closed and after which time no new names will be added.

The subjects of the examination will be Arithmetic, English Grammar and Language, United States History and Civil Government and Principles and Methods of Teaching.

horers are demanding $40 to $50 per month and board, and that it is practically impossible to hire any considerable number of men even at these prices. The men who formerly made up the bulk of farm laborers have been lured away to the cities by the higher wages paid there, it is asserted. Also it is claimed that a fondness of the former country (tollers for the movie, and other attractions of city life, have depleted the rural populations.

HOOVER FOR LEAGUE WITH RESERVATIONS

NEW YORK, May 14.—Herbert Hoover, replying by telegraph yesterday to the request of the Hoover Republican club of Portland, Or., for his "views on various matters arising in the Oregon primaries," declared the republican party "must support the league with reservations. It must not fall into the trap that the president and Senator Johnson are enticing it into."

"The president has declared," Mr. Hoover said, "that the democratic party must demand the acceptance of the league in full as presented by him to the senate. Senator Johnson demands that the republican party oppose the league altogether. Two more destructive attitudes toward a great issue could not be found.

"An emergency is created by this alliance of destruction. The aspirations of the great majority of our people will be thwarted by either of these extremes. This majority is fixed in its determination that the United States, both for our own protection and in the interest of the welfare of the world, shall join the league by ratifying the treaty which provides for substitution of methods of peace for methods of war, but that we shall do so only under assurance of no infringement of our constitution and our traditions.

"The indecisive attitude of the president and his supporters and of Senator Johnson and his supporters has brought this issue into the election at an immeasurable moral and economic cost to our own country and to the world. If the republican party, however, is to voice the will of the people and is not to forfeit the certainty of leadership in the next four years it must embrace the great opportunity which the majority of the American people are prepared to give it."

Mr. Hoover declared a league to reduce armament and prevent war "is not the property of any one party," that President Roosevelt supported it in 1910 when he was awarded the Nobel peace prize and that "the one league that the world has now evolved after all the sacrifices of five years has been adopted, under proper safeguards to the United States, by the majority of the republican senators, the great leaders of the republican party and various state platforms, and has already been joined by 28 nations."

"I therefore hope," he added, "that the more than a thousand clubs that have sprung up in the country advocating my name at the Chicago convention will, in addition to the primary task they have undertaken, continue to keep to the forefront their

DISTRIBUTION OF GERMAN CANNON

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The military affairs committee of the house has ordered a favorable report on the bill authorizing distribution of German cannon and other trophies captured by or surrendered to American forces. The distribution will be made in ratio as to total number of men serving, from each state. Massachusetts furnished 192,415 men as its quota and it will receive approximately 89 guns and trench mortars and 162 vehicles for its proportion.

Its small pieces are approximately 3000 rifles, two thousand bayonets and scabbards, 400 machine guns, 400 round badges, 485 helmets, 2500 empty shells and nearly 20,000 ornaments and other small articles. The method of local state distribution has not been made known, but it is expected it will be done through the office of the secretary of war.

The trophies are now in the United States and will be distributed very soon after the bill passes congress, which will be before the June recess. Congressman Olney of the 14th Mass. district, member of the military committee, was largely instrumental in securing an early report from the committee.

RICHARDS.

LEWIS CONTROVERSY IS WAXING WARM

Relative to the case of Abraham J. Lewis, who was let down easily on a charge of picking pockets on the recommendation of Superintendent Welch and to which Judge Knight seriously objected when he heard that the man had a criminal record, the superintendent states that he made the recommendation in good faith, not having been informed of the fact that Lewis had a long record. The superintendent states that Deputy Downey, who had received the man's record, failed to notify him before the trial and thus the court was led to believe that the case of Lewis was one that deserved the exercise of leniency. It is alleged that never before was Judge Knight so indignant as he was when he read in the newspaper the long criminal

On last Tuesday the Lewis case was called in court but continued until Wednesday because the lawyer for the defense was busy in the probate court. On the next day the case was called and in compliance with a request from Superintendent Welch, was placed on file by Judge Knight. After the disposal of the case the criminal record of Lewis, of which the superintendent denies all knowledge, was published. Feeling that the blame for the mix-up has been publicly and unjustly placed upon his shoulders by the superintendent, Deputy Hugh Downey said this morning that he told the superintendent on Tuesday morning that the defendant had a criminal record.

"On last Tuesday morning," said the deputy, "on account of the absence to the lawyer for the defense who was engaged in probate court, the Lewis case was put over until Wednesday morning."

"At that time, however, the judge said to me that the superintendent had recommended Lewis' release. I told the judge that I did not know about that, but I would go immediately to see the superintendent."

"I then asked Superintendent Welch what was to be done with that 'pick-pocket.' I told him that Lawyer Alhard was for the prosecution. I next said to him that Lewis had a record. The superintendent paid no attention to that statement, but told me to tell the lawyer for the defense that he wanted to see him. The lawyer in question was not in court at that time. After the defending lawyer's statement to the judge which followed a consultation with the superintendent and agreement by the prosecution, that the case should be placed on file, the court released Lewis."

From the fact that he mentioned to the superintendent on the day the case was first called that Lewis had a record and that the recommendation for release was made before the superintendent had investigated the matter, Deputy Downey claims that there was no failure on his part.

MIDDLESEX STREET GRADE CROSSING

An important meeting of the Middlesex street grade crossing committee of the chamber of commerce has been called for 8 o'clock this evening by Chairman Josiah Butler. Although the committee in question received but little encouragement from the Boston & Maine engineers and solicitor at the conference held a few weeks ago, the chairman announced at that time that work on securing some action regarding the abolition of the crossing would not be abandoned and tonight's meeting will start the ball rolling again. It is probable that a smaller sub-committee will be appointed to tackle some individual phases of the situation and to push the agitation of the question as forcibly as possible.

DEATHS

BATTERSBY—The many friends of Mrs. Catherine (Lyons) Battersby will be grieved to learn of her death which occurred rather suddenly this morning at her home, 35 Adams street. While the deceased was not in the best of health her death was entirely unexpected. She was well known throughout St. Patrick's parish where she has resided for many years. Besides her husband, Mr. John Battersby, she leaves one daughter, Catherine V., and the son, Robert J., and sisters, Mrs. William Battersby of Lynn and Mrs. Thomas Keegan of Waltham.

FITZGERALD—Mrs. Mary Fitzgerald, who was well known in Lowell, died recently in Halifax, N. S. She was the wife of James Fitzgerald of the Halifax postoffice department and leaves two daughters, Mrs. George F. Hopkins of this city, Mrs. John Bronson of Boston, and three sons, Leon of New York and John and Frank of Halifax.

ROBERTS—Levi Roberts died yesterday at the Chelmsford street hospital, aged 72 years. He leaves one daughter. The body was removed to the rooms of Undertaker W. Herbert Blake.

KEYES—Mrs. Ellen T. Keyes, wife of Henry J. Keyes, formerly of Lowell and highly respected resident of St. Margaret's parish, died this morning at her home, 62 Pine street. She is survived by her husband, Henry J.; four sons, Thomas, Paul, John and Joseph P.; two daughters, Katherine C. and Gertrude T.; and one grandchild, Ruth Keyes, a brother, Timothy Haganan of Somerville, and a sister, Mrs. Hannah Ford, of East Boston.

FUNERALS

BRADY—The funeral of John P. Brady took place yesterday afternoon from the rooms of Undertakers St. E. McDonough Sons. At St. Peter's church services were held. Rev. Daniel J. Heffernan officiated. Burial took place in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery.

MCALL—The funeral of Mary Frances McCall, daughter of Frederick and Catherine (Ganigan) McCall, took place yesterday from the home of her parents, 23 Lyon street. Burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery in charge of Undertakers Higgins Bros.

BRASSARD—The funeral of Joseph Maurice Brassard took place yesterday afternoon from the home of his parents, Maurice and Leonie Brassard, 4 Butterfield street. Burial was in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery in charge of Undertaker Joseph Albert.

QUINN—The funeral of Miss Beatrice V. Quinn took place this morning at 9:15 o'clock from the home of her parents, 51 West street, and was very largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends. The cortege proceeded to St. Michael's church where at 10 o'clock a solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Francis J. Mullin, assisted by the pastor, Rev. John J. Shaw, as deacon, and Rev. James F. Lynch as sub-deacon. The choir, directed by Mr. Thomas J. Boulger, sang the Gregorian mass, the solos being sustained by Mr. Boulger and Miss Margaret Griffin. Mrs. George F. Tove presided at the organ. There were many beautiful floral offerings, also many spiritual remembrances from sympathizing relatives and friends. The bearers were Messrs. David Carragher, Michael Flynn, James Harrington, John Harrington, Charles Mullin and Timothy Harrington. Interment was in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery where Rev. Fr. Mullin read the committal prayers at the grave. Funeral Director James W. McKenna in charge.

MAIRCHAND—The funeral of Blanche Marie Shore took place yesterday from the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Yvonne Shore, 43 Blongest street. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery under the direction of Undertakers Amodeo Archambault & Sons.

FUNERAL NOTICES

GARRITY—The funeral of Stephen Garrity will take place from his home, 102 Hower street, Monday morning at 9:15. POODLE DOG, CONDEMNED TO DIE! OWNER FIGHTS FOR HIS LIFE

LONDON—Bob, poodle dog, is condemned to die, after fair trial in a court of law, for the crime of "bouncing against a human being and knocking down said human being." All over the British Isles folks and maybe dogs, have watched the trial of Bob since it began almost a year ago. Miss Bettie Dancer, an aged school teacher of Monk's Risborough, has carried the appeal from the death sentence to Bucks Quarter Sessions court. She has sold her cottage and borrowed money to defend her pet. "I feel as though a brother were about to be hanged," says Miss Dancer. "He meant no harm when he jumped against the man." An ancient British law makes it a "felony" for a dog to molest a human.

St. Patrick's church. Burial will be in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery under the direction of Undertakers James F. O'Donnell & Sons. Motor cortege.

"PAINTING UP" AT CITY HALL AND BASTILE

Thorough renovations of all the offices at city hall and in the police station in Market street are being made by employees of the public property department under the direction of Commissioner George E. Marchand.

More than half the offices at city hall have already been repainted and repaired wherever necessary and at the police station there remain only the court room and the guard room to be renovated.

In working at the police station building, employees of the department discovered the fact that of all the offices under the jurisdiction of the city, there is but one in which there is no paper. That is the little office between the superintendent's and deputy's offices, used by Supt. Welch's stenographer. This room has been repainted in artistic design and has the distinction of being unique in this respect among all the city's offices.

The department's employees have recently completed the laying of a cement floor in the fourth street firehouse and as soon as the summer vacation begins the Varum, Edson, Lincoln and Green schools will be gone over from the top to bottom.

CARDINAL O'CONNELL AT CANONIZATION SERVICE

ROME, May 13.—Solemn ceremonies for the canonization of Gabriele Possenti and Marie Alacoque were held in St. Peter's today. Pope Benedict was seated in the chair of state to the cathedral, surrounded by a retinue of ecclesiastics, officials of the civil and military courts of the vatican, members of the Sacred College, archbishops, bishops, Roman nobility and general officers of religious orders. Swiss guards preceded the procession as it went from the vatican to the scene of the ceremonies.

When the procession entered the cathedral, the choir sang "Ave Maria, Stella." The Basilica was crowded with guests. Throngs of French pilgrims greeted the pontiff with cheers, waving handkerchiefs and holding up religious objects for the apostolic blessing, which the pope imparted with his apostolic hand.

Pope Benedict was seated in a throne erected in the apse behind the high altar and preceded the canonization ceremonies by intoning a hymn. After he had pronounced the formula for canonization and inscribed the names of the new saints in the sacred roll, he intoned a "Te Deum" while the bells announced the event. Later he celebrated mass and then, with the same procession, returned to his apartments in the vatican.

Cardinal O'Connell of Boston, was present for the first time as a cardinal at a ceremony for canonization. He received many greetings from his colleagues, who expressed satisfaction that a representative from America was present.

LITTLE GIRL INJURED
Alice Murphy, aged five years, and residing at 191 Crosby street, was struck by an automobile while crossing the street in front of her home this afternoon and received minor injuries to her head and hand. The ambulance removed her to St. John's hospital.

AUDITORIUM COMMISSION
The memorial auditorium commission held a brief meeting this morning to consider routine matters connected with the progress of the new building. Only perfunctory business was transacted.

HOLDUP ON HIGH SCHOOL EXCAVATION WORK

No further excavation is possible on the new high school site for the present, or until the steel stored on the lot can be removed elsewhere and until this is done the steam shovel will be used on some other job. It was taken away yesterday afternoon. The excavation is more than half done, although there is quite a wide strip on the Anna street side now inaccessible because of the steel piled on it.

The contractor also is being bothered considerably with subterranean water from the nearby canal. As soon as the excavation reached canal level, water seeped in and it now means that concrete walls and piers will have to be sunk to a greater depth to effect a necessary foundation and support for the steel beams. It was previously planned to pour these piers and walls only 15 inches below the surface, but the presence of the water has necessitated more digging and a deeper cement foundation.

Suction pumps are being used to draw the water out of the pier holes and wall trenches and temporary dams have been built to dry out the holes, section by section. The cement is being poured as rapidly as a hole is ready to receive it.

THIEVES LOOT 100 SUMMER HOMES

BOSTON, May 14.—Thirsty thieves have contrived to force postponement of the openings set for the next few days of nearly 100 summer residences on the beaches near Boston. In scores of cottages at Hull and Nahant, household articles have been stolen and damaged, and many of the hours will require refitting before they are ready for occupancy. In addition, householders in some cases have reported their summer supply of alcoholic beverages missing. In homes where no liquor was found the thieves left evidence of their displeasure by destroying furniture and clothing.

ANOTHER STRIKE IN PARIS

SEE LITTLE HOPE OF DROP IN PRICE OF SUGAR

BOSTON, May 14.—Residents of Boston and adjacent suburban cities were losing hope today that Attorney General Palmer's recent announcement of a set margin of profit for sugar dealers would result in lower prices to the consumers here. Increases of one to two cents a pound were recorded generally throughout the city within 24 hours after the order setting a maximum profit was received.

TURKISH LEADER IS CONDEMNED TO DIE

LONDON, May 14.—Mustapha Kemal, leader of the Turkish nationalist forces in Asia Minor, was condemned to death at an extraordinary court martial in Constantinople on Wednesday, according to a despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co. As he did not appear for trial, he was found guilty by default.

HELD IN THEFT OF MILLIONS IN BONDS

CLEVELAND, May 14.—Cleveland detectives today arrested a man they claim is wanted in New York, in connection with the theft of millions of dollars' worth of securities. They refused to divulge his name, but admitted they were holding him in connection with the Arnstein case. It is believed the man knows the whereabouts of two leaders in the bond theft plot.

AUTO ACCIDENT CASE GOES TO THE JURY

In the superior court this morning Judge Fosdick completed his charge to the jury in the case of Edwin J. Fletcher, who is suing the Boston & Maine railroad for $31,000 damages for alleged negligence in having caused the death of two relatives in a crossing accident at Littleton.

The judge called the attention of the jury to the allegations of negligence in the declaration of the plaintiff and of the common law and statutory law bearing thereon.

He said that if it was found that the crossing was not properly protected the jury would base its finding solely with regard to the crossing and without regard to the train.

The train's speed, the judge continued, must be judged by the circumstances that existed. The people have the right to rapid transit and under certain circumstances the road would have the right to run its trains at the rate of 60 miles an hour. There is no evidence that the train ran faster than this.

The judge read to the jury the statute regarding the operation of automobiles on highways and forbidding a speed of more than 20 miles an hour outside of thickly settled sections.

Requests for rulings from counsel for the plaintiff were read and the case was given to the jury for consideration with final instructions that if damages were awarded the same must be the same in the case of both persons killed in the accident.

AREN'T THEY PRETTY GIRLS? WE'LL SAY SO

ANN ARBOUR, May 14.—Yes, aren't they pretty? They are Ann, another Ann, Olga, the Vampire, and four lissome Oriental dancers. More properly and descriptively, they are stars and chorus members of the cast of "George Did It"—book and lyrics by Russell Barnes, music by George H. Roderick, staged by E. Mortimer Shuter, costumes designed by Reed Bachman. This latter a quote from the "George Did It" program.

But hush! The program says further: "The Mimes of the University of Michigan, in their 19th annual offering."

LOWELL NORMAL SCHOOL

No Opposition to Bill Appropriating $30,000 for Purchase of Land

(Special to The Sun)
STATE HOUSE, Boston, May 14.—No opposition developed yesterday when the house committee on ways and means took under consideration the bill appropriating $30,000 for the purpose of buying land adjoining the Lowell Normal school for dormitory purposes.

Clarence I. Weed, one of the leading advocates of the proposition, thought that the taking of the land now would result in a saving to the commonwealth in the future, in view of the fact that it might be almost impossible later on to secure proper facilities for the school. The building, he said, is located in a section in which manufacturing establishments are springing up, with the result that acquisition of land there will be more difficult as dictionary, are actors, mimics, clowns. Mimics—can it be that their fair, feminine graces are not as fair and feminine as they would appear?

Edward Fisher, associate commissioner of labor and industries, complimented the state on being able to secure the tract for $30,000, saying he has been told by Lowell real estate men that in the open market the purchase price would be several thousand dollars greater. He characterized as patriotic the action of Col. Parker in offering to let the state have it at the figure named.

John J. Mahoney, formerly principal of the Normal school and now in charge of Americanization work for the state department of education, said the providing of dormitory facilities,

"CORTEZ" READY TO START REVOLT

This little Mexican Chihuahuan, whose name is "Cortez," looks as if he is about to start a little revolution of his own—and fight in the wolf of "Shamus O'Brien." Shamus is a 200-pound Irish wolf hound owned by Lt. Col. Francis A. Junkin. "Cortez" weighs one and a quarter pounds and belongs to Mrs. A. Radcliffe of Washington. Both pups were among those present at the Washington Kennel club dog show.

as contemplated, is just the improvement needed by the school. Other than in Lowell, he said, there is only one other normal school in the state which does not provide for the shelter of its students.

Many of the students who live in Haverhill and other places, he explained, are required to leave their homes at 6 in the morning in order to reach their classrooms at 9. He was of the opinion it would be difficult for them to secure rooming accommodations in Lowell because of the housing situation.

Mr. Mahoney thought little of a suggestion advanced by Chairman Lyman of the committee to the effect that the state would materially reduce the number of normal schools, centering their activities in a few so as to reduce overhead charges. The Lowell man thought there is very little likelihood that this would be done.

He pointed out that while there has been a diminution in the number of girls who aspire for the teaching profession larger numbers in the near future will interest themselves in it because of the better compensation now prevailing.

Miss Josephine Foley of Haverhill, a senior at the institution, told of the hardships encountered in getting to

Lowell by the girls living in the surrounding cities. Four hours, she said, are consumed daily in traveling between her home in the Bradford district of Haverhill and the Highlands in Lowell. Chairman Lyman thought she might do better if she were to attend the Salem normal, to which she replied that "if Lowell were 100 miles away I'd want to go there." She declared, however, that the daily journey used up not only the time of the students, but also their energy.

WAS INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Trial was begun in the superior court this morning in the case of Miss Lucy Maxwell of Billerica against John J. Williams for injuries received in an auto accident in her home town on July 12, 1918, in which she alleges she was struck by a car operated by Williams. The ad damnum is $5000. Stanley H. Qua appeared as counsel for the plaintiff and John J. O'Connor of Boston for the defendant. The plaintiff alleges that she was attempting to prevent her little boy, suffering from a nervous disorder, from alighting from an electric car about to start, when the car of the defendant rounded a curve in the road and struck her at the same moment the warning horn was blown. Counsel for the plaintiff stated in his opening address to the jury that it would not be contended that Mrs. Maxwell had received a permanent injury as a result of the accident. Counsel stated that it would be contended that the auto was not lawfully registered at the time it is claimed it struck Mrs. Maxwell.

Mrs. Maxwell was the first witness called. She described the location where the accident happened. She told of the nervous condition of her young son, and said she was just returning from Boston, where he had been treated at a hospital, when she was injured. She described her efforts to protect the boy from possible injury if the trolley car should start. She said that she was struck almost as soon as she left the car.

NEW ONE-MAN SAFETY CAR GETS SUCCESSFUL TRYOUT IN LOWELL

MAYOR THOMPSON READY TO BEGIN DUTIES AS MOTORMAN

The inauguration of one-man safety car service on the lines of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway company in this city yesterday afternoon proved a distinct success from every viewpoint, and the preliminary exercises arranged by officials of the road as a prelude to the actual operation of the new type cars on the Oakland-Pawtucketville routes next Sunday clearly demonstrated the merits that may be expected from the new service.

With Mayor Perry D. Thompson piloting one of the brand new cars over the full distance of the Christian Hill-Pawtucketville route and some 15 invited guests and officials as passengers, the initial demonstration of the

ing the number of employees. It has actually increased them. Whether this will prove true in Lowell depends upon the patronage of the new cars.

Even in winter weather the one-man car, like the Ford, has proved its ability to go wherever and whenever larger cars have been able to go. During the past severe weather the cars were given thorough tests and found to meet every requirement.

Following Mr. Martin's remarks, the passengers reversed their seats and the car made its way back downtown and over to Christian Hill. Upon the return trip Mayor Thompson relinquished his post and was given a vote of thanks. Mr. St. Lawrence, the regular motorman, took his place at the brakes, and Mr. Whalen, the company's chief instructor, had the various brakes, safety appliances, etc., connected with the new style car tried out on the steep grades of Christian Hill. He explained the absolute safety of the car under all conditions. The car then brought its passengers back to city hall, the entire trip taking slightly less than an hour and a half.

The one-man safety car seats 32 passengers. They weigh less than half as much as the types of cars hitherto used and start and stop much more quickly.

The cars are so equipped with safety devices that they cannot be started until the door is closed and the door cannot be opened until they come to a dead stop. The entrance and exit are in front and the rear platform is entirely enclosed.

Rapid acceleration and braking, which are among the chief factors in increasing schedule speed, are made possible by new motors and braking equipment which have been specially developed for this type of car. The trucks are non-oscillating, thus preventing a rocking motion so common in a former type of single truck cars.

Lowell Gas Light Co.

The axles and motor shafts are anti-friction bearing.

In appearance, the cars are most attractive. They are painted and varnished a shade of cadmium yellow. The interior is finished in cherry and the ceiling down to the tops of the windows is in white enamel. The ornamentation and lettering are in gold-bronze. The seats fold back like those in a theatre, permitting a passenger on the inside to pass the passenger on the outside, when both are standing, without treading on toes.

The cars are equipped with ventilating shafts and shutter devices so that ventilation may be regulated to suit the desires of the passengers.

The method of fare-payment will be precisely the same as now in vogue in Lowell. The only difference in the passenger's conduct will be that instead of having two doors at his command there will be but one. He will enter and leave by the forward door always. If he is going away from Merrimack square he will drop his fare in the coin box at the motorman's elbow when he is about to get off the car. If he is coming into the city, he will drop his fare in the box as he boards the car as is now the case. But instead of getting on at the rear door, he will board the car at the front door.

The necessity of the passenger having the exact fare is more urgent on the one-man car than on any of the other types hitherto in use. If the motorman must stop to make change, it necessarily follows that he will have to delay starting his car and thus the prime purpose of the one-man car—better service—will be defeated.

The following suggestions have been made by officials of the company for the benefit of people who will use the new type of car:

1. Have your fare ready when you board the car. When the operator has to make change, the trip is delayed.
2. Do not engage the operator in unnecessary conversation. His entire attention should be centered on his work.
3. When you enter the car move to the rear seat. This will prevent congestion at the front where people are getting on and off.
4. When you desire to get off, press the button above your seat and be as near the front of the car as possible when it stops. The seats fold up so that you can make your way to the aisles easily. The doors cannot be opened until the car comes to a full stop, so you run no risk.

Home Rule Committee Meeting

Following the demonstration of the new car yesterday afternoon, the members of the home rule committee met in the mayor's reception room for their regular semi-monthly session.

A petition from officials of the United States Cartridge Co. for the extension of the railway zone limit in South Lowell so that employees of the South Lowell plant of the Cartridge Co. may ride to and from work for 6¢ instead of 10 cents was considered, but the committee voted that inasmuch as it had previously gone on record as being opposed to any zone extensions until the company's finances improve, to notify the petitioners of the situation and refuse their request for the present.

Lowell Line, There was so profit for the company because the cars had to run from the car barns to the plant empty.

"If you give this extension to South Lowell," Mr. Lees said to the home rule committee, "you can't consistently refuse people on other lines."

Mr. Sullivan thought that people who live in the vicinity of the cartridge shop should be considered as well as the people who work there.

Mr. Conway said that the zone extension would not benefit the Cartridge Co., but its employees.

May Increase Fares

Manager Lees said that he didn't wish to dominate the committee but he would like to suggest that the matter be taken under advisement until some decision be reached relative to the wage increase petition of the company's employees. This petition is now being arbitrated, he said, and it is very probable that an increase will be granted. It may be possible that fare rates in Lowell will have to be increased to meet financial demands upon the company.

Mr. Sullivan moved that the matter be taken up later on in the meeting, and it was so voted.

Mrs. Burke entered a complaint from a resident of Varnum avenue relative to the actions of a certain conductor on that line in carrying a passenger beyond her stop. Manager Lees said he would investigate.

Mr. Sullivan brought up the matter of congestion in Merrimack square. He said that very often motormen had to get off their cars to throw switches. Sometimes the starters do it. He wanted to know if they were supposed to do it all the time.

Manager Lees said it was not a duty of the starter to throw switches. A man is kept there during rush hours for that express purpose.

Chairman O'Rourke wanted to know if a man couldn't be kept there all the time.

Mr. Lees said that it would cost considerably because union wages would have to be paid.

10-Cent Fare to Lakeview

Chairman O'Rourke brought up the matter of 10-cent fares to Lakeview from May 30 to Labor day. At present, the fare is 15 cents, or 12¢ cents if a ticket is used. Manager Lees thought favorably of the matter because he believed it would bring more business. He said Harry C. Kittredge, who runs the park, had asked for a fare reduction.

Secretary Curtin moved that Manager Lees be requested to take the matter up with the trustees, and it was so voted.

Mr. Ricard brought up the matter of having a boulevard run parallel with the Merrimack river from the Textile school down toward the city. No action was taken.

Mr. Ricard also broached the matter of a belt line covering the Belvidere section and coming through Gorham street. Another similar line would cover Pawtucketville. He thought the idea would mean improved service, although considerable new trackage would have to be laid.

Manager Lees believed the matter might be considered later, but the present lack of capital would prevent its immediate consideration.

Mr. Carney said he didn't believe that at present the road's finances would allow it.

Mr. Sullivan thought if the ticket privilege should be extended to anybody, it should be given to everybody. It was finally voted on motion of Mr. Sullivan to refer the petitioners to a vote taken by the committee on April 7, whereby no extensions are to be granted until the road's finances are improved.
